

Dr. Bunche Prefers UN To Nation's Capital

WASHINGTON (ANP)—Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, director of the United Nations division of trusteeship, stated last week that he had not been offered any job by President-elect Eisenhower.

He told members and guests of the Pigskin club that he liked his job at the United Nations too well to leave. Speaking at the Club's 15th annual banquet held in the Terrace room at the National Airport, the UN executive made it clear that he was not anticipating coming to Washington. This statement was made in reply to a question regarding rumors that Gen. Eisenhower was considering Dr. Bunche for a position as roving ambassador and world trouble-shooter for the United States.

The UN trusteeship director simply replied that he has had no offers from anyone.

Dr. Bunche referred to the United Nations as the only hope for peace in the world. Despite criticism of the UN, he said, he still believes that the majority of Americans want the United States to stay in the UN and want to see it succeed.

The two major problems of UN, he said, are Korea and the American public's attitude toward the U.N.

Speaking of segregation in the District of Columbia, the former Howard professor stated that Washington has come a long way in overcoming racial prejudice but it still has a long way to go.

The Pigskin club presented five sports to athletes who have excelled in their respective fields. The awards went to Sylvester R. Hall, coach at Virginia State college; Theodore W. McIntyre, coach at Armstrong high school of this city; Leo Miles, for outstanding playing at Virginia State college; Edward Neversen, outstanding player of Howard university; and Horace Burton of Alexandria, Va., outstanding sandlot player.

This writer feels that should Dr. Bunche be offered a post in Washington, he should accept it for the help that he can give his people as well as the help of all races of all mankind.

We, the Negro race, feel that the more outstanding people of our race we have in Washington, the better our problems can be met.

I appreciate the job that Dr. Bunche is doing in the U.N., but to me America is first, and Dr. Bunche would be very valuable in any post that he might hold in Washington.

Card of Thanks

I wish to take this means to thank my friends, The Police Department and churches for the many flowers, and cards sent me during my recent illness.

Noted Speakers At NCCC Meet Dulles-Lodge

DENVER, Colo.—(ANP)—Two noted Republicans last week called for the end of discrimination and human indignities at home in order to bring a lasting peace in the world.

The speakers were John Foster Dulles, secretary of state designate, and Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, mutual security administrator appointee. They were addressing hundreds of leading churchmen and women gathered at the second General Assembly of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., which met here for a four-day session. The NCC represents some 20 Protestant and Eastern Orthodox denominations.

The 600 delegates were called here to plan the organization's program for the next two years, to elect new top officials, and to outline a co-operative church approach to scores of issues at home and abroad.

In calling for the end of discriminations, Sen. Lodge said in part:

"Our discriminations are not only in conflict with Christian ideals, but they are a real danger to the success of our foreign policy."

The former campaign manager for Dwight D. Eisenhower laid down a program which he ap-

Thought For Today

For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counselor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace. Of the increase of his government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgment and with justice from henceforth even for ever. Isaiah 9:6,7.

Massie Elected to Head Interracial Oklahoma Group

LANGSTON, Okla. (ANP)—Dr. S. P. Massie, head of the chemistry department Langston university, last week was elected unanimously president of the Oklahoma Academy of Science at the 41st annual meeting of that organization at Oklahoma A&M college, Stillwater.

Dr. Massie, who previously had served the academy for two years as secretary-treasurer, becomes the first Negro scientist to head this organization.

This is the second honor received by Dr. Massie. In October, the Research Corporation of America awarded a $2,000 grant to him for continuation of his research on drugs and insecticides.

Dr. Massie also is a member of the American Chemical Society, Sigma Xi, honorary research fraternity, Phi Lambda Upsilon, National Institute of Science, and is listed in the current issue of American Men of Science.

Northside Assoc., to Stock Drive

The Northside Improvement Association of Lincoln, is announcing its stock drive.

Shortly after the first of the year, this Corporation that has a State charter and is under the State Banking Commission, is authorized to sell $100,000.00 of common stock.

Although this stock sells for $10.00 per share, it is the wish of the Association that they be sold in blocks of five shares each or $50.00

Each share of stock will entitle the holder to one vote in the selection of an official of the Association.

Special emphasis is made in urging the residents in the Northside area to purchase as many shares as possible. You as a stockholder will share in all profits made by this Corporation; You will create more jobs, and last but not least, you will make it possible to have low cost housing that is so badly needed in this area.

The money raised from this project will be used to build housing units for the low income bracket group. What better use can you make of your money? What better investment can you make, other than Real Estate? Neighbors, Lincolmites and Citizens, let's go all out for this very worthy cause.

This project is for the low income group with no discrimination as to color or race. Your dollar will be your voice, in owning real estate as well as selecting your housing officials.

The Association is planning several sites all over town which will be announced at a later date. Next week a coupon will appear in this paper for pledges of shares. Additional coupons will be at the office.

Davis Replaces Dr. Mizique on D.C. Advisory Group

WASHINGTON — (ANP) — Brig. Gen. Benjamin O. Davis, U.S.A. retired, the only Negro to wear the coveted general star, last week was named to replace Dr. Edward C. Mazique as a member of the Citizens' Advisory Council here.

Dr. Mazique resigned from the council selected last summer by district officials as an advisory group. In his letter of resignation to the commissioners, Dr. Mazique, a prominent physician and head of the Medico-Chirurgical society here, said he was leaving the post for "personal reasons." He was one of nine original members selected by commissioners.

Gen. Davis has had a long and illustrious career, both as a soldier and as a civilian. The retired officer was a member of the Addison Committee on public works which advised the commissioners recently on construction and financing needs for the city.

Born here on July 1, 1877, Gen. Davis retired from active duty in 1948 after 50 years' service. He had been recalled to active service the day after a "paper retirement" in 1941. He holds the Distinguished Service Medal.

He entered the military service in 1898 during the Spanish-American War. Mustered out after the war, he enlisted as a private in the old 9th Cavalry and earned a commission in 1901. He worked his way up to a general's rank in 1940.

On his retirement, Gen. Davis was praised by President Truman.
