

Vice Presidential Nominees to Open Campaign in State

Dawes, Bryan and Wheeler to Speak in August, University Stadium at Lincoln to Be Used.

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Lincoln, July 30.—August 18 and 19 will mark the real opening of the national campaign in Nebraska. On those two days two vice presidential candidates will discuss national issues and 10 days later a third vice presidential candidate will speak in Nebraska. Immediately after these speeches democrats, republicans and La Follette followers plan to flood the state with speakers and organization workers.

Governor Charles W. Bryan, democratic vice presidential candidate, will lead with his formal acceptance of the nomination on August 18. Democrats are sparing neither labor nor expense in making this affair one of interest throughout the state and nation.

Wheeler at Grand Island. The new university football stadium will be used as an open air auditorium. Sound amplifiers will be distributed throughout the stadium and arrangements have been made to broadcast the governor's address.

The next day at Grand Island, Senator Burton Wheeler of Montana, vice presidential candidate on the La Follette ticket, will speak at the convention of La Follette followers who meet there on that day for the purpose of forming an independent party and taking necessary legal steps to put the names of La Follette and Wheeler on Nebraska ballots.

On August 29, Charles G. Dawes, republican vice presidential candidate, will make his first speech in Nebraska at his old home in Lincoln. The republicans will use the same stadium for the Dawes speech as the democrats plan to use for Bryan's address.

State Committee Busy. The republican state central committee is now busy in organization work. State headquarters have been established at the Lindell hotel. The democratic state central committee will establish state headquarters at the Lincoln hotel within a week. It is probable the state headquarters of the La Follette party will be situated at Lincoln shortly after the Grand Island convention.

Within three weeks it is expected the state committees will have their candidates and speakers dated for the entire campaign. Adam McMullen, republican candidate for governor, is already delivering speeches at various points in the state. By the last of August he will be speaking on a schedule prepared by the state committee.

"Crusaders" to Organize. The republican committee intends to use Senator R. B. Howell in the state for several weeks. Definite arrangements will be made at Chicago in a short time as to the number and dates of national speakers to be sent into Nebraska. Senator George W. Norris is expected in the state early in September. The senator has stated that he intended to carry his campaign into nearly every county in the state.

On the night of August 19 at the Lincoln hotel, "The Crusaders" will form a permanent organization. The purpose of this organization is to combat any attempt the Ku Klux Klan may attempt to play in politics. A Klan demonstration in Lincoln on the same night "The Crusaders" formally organize is reported to be under discussion by Klan leaders.

Robbery Charge Is Filed Against Police Officer

Sleuths Say Baldwin Spent Much Money on Woman Associate—Says Can Prove Alibi.

Motorcycle Officer Clifford Baldwin was charged with robbery in a complaint filed by Chief Deputy County Attorney John Yeager Wednesday.

Baldwin, in county jail, declared he has a perfect alibi. He and his wife and sister were shopping at the very hour the State Bank of Irvington was held up by four men and robbed of $1,200, he said.

"We drove down and paid some bills," he said. "The bills bear a stamp which includes the hours of the day and shows that we were paying the bills between 10 and 11 o'clock on April 29. It will all come out in the hearing."

Baldwin is a most upright looking young man with a gentle voice. "I was brought up in Omaha and have never before been a prisoner," he said. "Now in the identification made by the little boy yesterday, I don't think I got a square deal. As he was brought in Van Deusen said something about 'the light-complected fellow drives a Cadillac.'

"The boy was taken out after he had looked us all over and later was brought back and told to stand in front of the man he talked to in Irvington at the time of the robbery. He stood in front of me. Why didn't they let him do that before they took him into the other room?"

John Bileck of Irvington picked Baldwin from a group of six prisoners in the county jail. Preliminary hearing was set for Wednesday afternoon. The complaint was signed by William Dirks, cashier of the Irvington bank, 2712 North Fifty-sixth street.

Operatives of the Pinkerton Detective agency, who have been working on the case, discovered through a woman associate of Baldwin's that he was spending much more money on her than he was making on the police department, it was learned Wednesday.

"The only relations I ever had with Baldwin was when I helped to get him a reappointment to the force," declared Chief of Police Charles Van Deusen when told that Baldwin accused him of "framing" him because of an old grudge.

Fallen Wires Start Fire. Wymore, Neb., July 30.—Wind Tuesday afternoon blew two sagging wires, one a telephone wire and one an electric light wire, together where they paralleled in the alley back of the Earl Owens residence in Wymore, and the insulation being worn off by tree branches, fire started and a light line pole was burned. The power was shut off and the damage repaired by a lineman before the fire gained headway.

Falls City, Neb., July 30.—More than 50 members of the Peck family, most of them residents of Richardson county, gathered at Miller's grove, below the Kansas line, for their sixth annual reunion. Ephraim Peck, 89, patriarch of the family, delivered the principal address, outlining the history of the family. The first American Peck came to this country seven generations ago.
