

Coach Henry Schulte High in His Praise of Promising Husker Gridster

Nebraska Mentor Picks Daily to Make 1924 Team

Says Former Alliance High School Athlete Sure to Win Place in Backfield—Chances Bright.

By JOHN BENTLEY.
INCOLN, Aug. 2.—Can it be done?
Sitting in his swivel chair between classes of summer school, Henry Schulte, University of Nebraska coach, began to enthuse over prospects for a Cornhusker football team this season.
"Watch Frank Daily," said he.
"There's a boy that's going to make a backfield position or I miss my guess. Sophomore, he drew recognition as a member of the Alliance high school football team this season."
Daily is not altogether an unknown although he did take it easy last fall. He appeared about three times with the freshmen. Before coming to the university, however, he drew recognition as a member of the Alliance high school football team.
Daily has track prospects that are not at all bad. He appears to be a hurdler who will add a cinder monogram to his list of awards before his collegiate career is done.
It is seldom that Coach Schulte gets on a limb where there is no chance of a return and when he does his prophecies generally hold good.
Last season he was given the questioning look when he said Nebraska wouldn't defeat another Valley team by over 10 points. Offered to buy silk hats all around if the Huskers did it. That was right after the Oklahoma game. The Huskers were lucky that day and they did make one of the best teams Bennie Owen ever put out look a little bad. So when Kansas held the Huskers to a scoreless tie and Missouri scared 'em almost into a bad case of heebie jeebies by scoring a touchdown in the first quarter for a 7-7 tie, the augurs who had given Schulte a titter behind the palm began doffing their hats to him.
Well, it's that same Schulte who is saying:
"Watch Frank Daily."
Nebraska will unquestionably have good football team. The veterans will line up a bit differently to fill the gaps left by graduation in the backfield. Gaps is hardly the word for it, inasmuch as the entire first string of backs have fallen into the ranks of side-liners who classify as "old grads." But in being touted by the Huskers as a championship team this early in the season is a somewhat premature move. That's what Knute Rockne is doing. He says Nebraska looks like the sweetest prospect in the country to him.
That recalls Rockne's famous "clipping" story with which he explained the defeat of Notre Dame last season. Rockne, asked by a Chicago newspaper man what the trouble was following that memorable game last November, uttered the one crisp word:
"Clippings."
"Who, those Huskers were clipping 'em?"
"You misunderstand," Rockne replied. "My boys were carrying clippings here and clipping there," pointing meanwhile to his various pockets.
Is Knute trying to line the pockets of Huskers with "wonder team" announcements even before the first tang of autumn air carries vibrations of the initial kickoff? It would appear that way.
While it will undoubtedly be well to watch Frank Daily, there are several other newcomers who will bear scrutiny. Among the most promising is Avid Mandery. He was a great high school player and had the varsity biting itself on several occasions when he ripped the line on an off-tackle plunge when the fresh and variety were scrambling last fall.
Discussing prospects of any college football team in midsummer with all its ramifications is probably rushing the season considerably. That's why we started this account, admittedly out of order, with the question, "Can it be done?" What we were wondering at the time was whether the interest of a sport fan can be held with this sort of thing when the season is almost six weeks off.
Judging from the sports pages of other papers, it is being done all over the country. Walter Camp made the prediction early this summer that space heretofore given over to baseball, swimming and golf would go to football this year. The grid grows each year, and its followers, in this section at least, are beginning to squirm a bit, working themselves into nervous discomfiture trying to wait for the game which opens the Huskers' schedule, Illinois at Lincoln.
With "Red" Grange and the Big Ten champions of 1923 as the opening opponent, Nebraska's stalwarts have plenty to think about between now and October 4. Letters received by Coach Schulte during the summer indicate that a big majority of the prospects are keeping in condition this summer by working in the harvest fields. With one of the toughest games on the slate coming as the opener it is necessary that they keep in shape. There'll be very little time to prepare for the coming of Bob Zuppke's Fighting Illini.
By way of jogging the memory, the Huskers' 1924 schedule is as follows:
October 4—Illinois at Lincoln.

Ak-Sar-Ben Polo Team Will Compete in Fort Snelling Open Tournament

King of Racquet Weilders

DON ELLIOTT, present state tennis champion, and as such No. 1 in the Nebraska ranking 10, will defend his title in the tournament which opens in Lincoln Monday at the university courts. A strong representation from Omaha is anticipated.

How the Buffaloes Are Hitting

Name	AB.	R.	H.	TR.	2B.	3B.	HR.	SH.	SB.	Ave.
Osborn, lb	254	66	93	151	21	3	14	1	2	.366
Cullop, lb	353	86	126	249	39	5	28	14	3	.357
Robinson, rf	396	83	135	207	28	4	13	17	5	.341
Wilcox, 2b	279	36	89	116	18	3	1	6	2	.319
Bonowitz, cf	461	71	136	218	29	7	17	19	14	.327
Thompson, 2b	433	99	124	177	22	5	5	14	20	.386
Griggs, lb	163	22	48	66	15	0	1	5	0	.287
Lenahan, c	294	25	58	68	15	0	0	5	1	.284
O'Neil, ss	388	57	107	131	21	2	1	18	4	.276
Wilder, c	48	83	121	18	1	6	2	3	258
Bailey, p	8	17	22	3	0	2	3	2	14
Luebke, c	11	2	2	0	1	0	0	0	182

Buffaloes' batting average, .309.
*Buffaloes' batting average against Wichita, .351.
*Wichita's batting average against Buffaloes, .314.
*Buffaloes percentage against Wichita in one game, 1.000.
*One game.

Ak Polo Team to Play Freebooters

Smarting under a 9 to 6 defeat handed them by the Freebooters Friday afternoon in a practice game, the Ak-Sar-Ben polo squad will tackle the same aggregation this afternoon on the Ak-Sar-Ben field in an attempt to win back the lost prestige.
The match will start at 4.
The lineup:
Ak-Sar-Ben: Freebooters: Paulson, R. John, Brantley, J. Charles, Capt. J. Boyer, J. William Bushman, Wilbur Smith, Captain Tooth.

YANKS CONTINUE TRACK VICTORIES

Stockholm, Sweden, Aug. 1.—The American team of Olympic athletes added further victories to its score in the second day of the stadium games in which picked teams from Holland, Switzerland and Sweden are participating. Charles Paddock, the Los Angeles A. C. runner, won the 200-meter race in 21.9-10 seconds, with Loren Murchison of Newark, second, 22.2-5 seconds.
The 400-meter hurdle race was won by Ivan Kelly, Illinois A. C., his time being 54.2-5 seconds.
Alan Helfrich, Penn State college, won the 800 meters flat, in 1:55.3-5. Paulen, Holland, was second, 1:55.7-10, and Martin, Switzerland, third, 1:56.2-5.
The shot put was won by Sweden, Jansson, registering 14.41 meters. Emerson Norton, Georgetown university, was second with a throw of 13.16 meters.
Sweden won the 1,600-meter relay race in 3 minutes 19 seconds. The United States was second with 3 minutes 26.3-5 seconds.

Glenna Collett Wins Title

New London, Conn., Aug. 1.—Miss Glenna Collett of Providence today repeated her last year's performance by winning the championship match in the women's invitation golf tournament at the Shennecossett links, defeating Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd of the Marion Cricket club 4 and 3.
October 11—Oklahoma at Norman.
October 18—Columbia at Lincoln (homecoming).
October 25—Kansas at Lawrence.
November 8—Missouri at Lincoln.
November 15—Notre Dame at South Bend.
November 22—Kansas Aggies at Manhattan.
November 27—Oregon Aggie at Lincoln.

Etta Druen Wins Feature Event at Windsor Track

Fayette National, Favored to Win, Finishes Second—Braden K. Direct Wins 2:16 Pace.

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 1.—Etta Druen, driven by Thomas W. Murphy, won the 1924 renewal of the Merchants and Manufacturers stake at Devonshire today. Fayette National, which came in second, was a strong favorite before the race. Etta Druen had had a week's rest before the race, while Fayette National was shipped by motor truck from Sandusky, Wednesday.
The 2:16 pace proved another surprise when Braden K. Direct, the favorite, came in second to Pete Green. Pete Green took the first and third heats, with Braden K. Direct taking the second.
SUMMARIES:
2:16 pace, purse $1,000. The Merchants and Manufacturers stake. Fayette National, Etta Druen, b. m., by Etawah (Murphy) won in straight heats. Time: 2:04.4, 2:05.4. Fayette National won the third heat. Time: 2:12.4. Rochelle Kead, Emma Hoveester, Eastern, 7:10. Prince Rondsman, Todd Hart, Jack Asworth.
2:08 pace, purse $1,000. By Colonel Porter (Stokes) won in straight heats. Time: 2:04.5, 2:07. Roger C. won the third heat. Time: 2:09. Flying Direct, Johnny Quick, Transamerica, Northern Direct, Raven's Direct. Heir also started.

Australians Beat Chinese Net Team

New York, Aug. 2.—Gerald Patterson, Australia, defeated Paul Kufg, China, 6-0, 6-1, in the first two sets of the Davis cup singles matches on the courts of the Crescent A. C. in Brooklyn today.
Pat O'Hara Wood, Australia, outplayed Lockwood, captain of the Chinese team, 6-0, in the first set of the final singles in the international series. Wood's mixture of lob and drive bewildered Lockwood.
The Australians chalked up 12 straight games when Wood beat Lockwood in the second set, 6-0.
Wood finished off the match by winning the third set. The complete score of his victory over Lockwood, which made it a complete sweep for the Australians, was 6-0, 6-0, 6-2.

Polo No Game for Women to Take Part in London, Aug. 2.—Hurlingham has just staged the first women's polo match in the history of the club.

The teams lined up as follows:
Mrs. Scott-Robson, No. 1; Miss N. W. Lear, No. 2; Lady Warrender, No. 3; and Mrs. Glover, lady who played in the light blue colors of the Hurlingham club.
Miss M. Sheriff, No. 1; Miss R. Crawford, No. 2; Miss S. Crawford, No. 3; and Miss Lexie Wilson, back, who sported the red of Melton Mowbray.
Mrs. Scott-Robson and Mrs. Lear are the wives of the army players, Captain Scott-Robson and Captain Lear, and are enthusiastic devotees of polo, and Lady Warrender, wife of Sir Victor Warrender, is a clever horsewoman and hold rider to hounds.
When a sporting writer asked Lady Warrender whether polo was a suitable game for women, she answered without hesitation, "No."

Jinx Follows Jimmy Wilcox

JIMMY WILCOX, one of the best third basemen in the Western league, is on the sidelines again. The jinx met Wilcox for the second time down in St. Joseph Thursday when the crack Omaha infielder broke his finger.
Several weeks ago Wilcox injured his back and it was feared he would be unable to play any more this season. Jimmy pulled through, however, and again donned his "mookiey" suit. He has played bang-up ball for the Herd since his return to the team. Thursday's injury has again put Wilcox on the shelf.

Judge Landis Holds Up Leonard's Reinstatement

Chicago, August 1.—Hubert B. (Dutch) Leonard, former American league pitcher, cannot be reinstated in organized baseball until August 6, Baseball Commissioner Landis said today when told that the player was coming from Fresno, Cal., to see the commissioner, presumably to take up the question of reinstatement.
Leonard was placed on the ineligible list when he deserted organized baseball in 1921 and joined the Fresno club in the San Joaquin Valley league, where he played in 1922 and 1923. On January 4, of this year, he sought reinstatement and was told by the commissioner that it would be necessary for him to dissociate himself from the ineligible for a year before reinstatement. The year's time will expire on August 6, according to the commissioner's office and reinstatement will then be only a formality.
Leonard, it is understood, will join the Detroit Americans as soon as he is reinstated.

Blue Kayoes Moore

Waterloo, Ia., Aug. 1.—Earl Blue of St. Paul scored a knockout over Mark Moore of Minneapolis in the 10th round of a scheduled 10-round bout here tonight. Moore was completely outclassed. The men are middleweights.

Baseball Results and Standings

WESTERN LEAGUE.

Standings.	Team	W.	L.	Pct.	Win	Loss
1	Omaha	65	38	.631	655	625
2	Lincoln	64	44	.593	593	581
3	Tulsa	52	59	.467	542	574
4	St. Joseph	47	64	.424	542	549
5	Wichita	42	69	.380	500	491
6	Oklahoma City	32	83	.279	490	491
7	Lincoln	27	87	.239	327	427
8	Des Moines	25	79	.239	327	427

Wichita, 2; Omaha, 5.
Oklahoma City, 4; Lincoln, 6.
Des Moines, 1; St. Joseph, 2.
Denver, 1; Tulsa, 4.

Games Today.
Omaha at Wichita.
Des Moines at St. Joseph.
Lincoln at Oklahoma City.
Denver at Tulsa.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Standings.	Team	W.	L.	Pct.	Win	Loss
1	New York	62	35	.639	612	512
2	Chicago	55	42	.567	571	561
3	Pittsburgh	54	43	.558	562	552
4	Brooklyn	52	45	.537	545	535
5	Philadelphia	48	52	.480	485	515
6	St. Louis	41	58	.410	420	410
7	Philadelphia	37	62	.371	410	409
8	Boston	32	67	.327	380	470

Yesterday's Results.
Pittsburgh, 7; New York, 4.
Brooklyn, 5; Chicago, 7.
Cincinnati, 2-12; Boston, 6-11.
Philadelphia, 2-4; St. Louis, 6-7.

Games Today.
Chicago at New York.
Boston at Philadelphia.
Pittsburgh at Brooklyn.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Standings.	Team	W.	L.	Pct.	Win	Loss
1	New York	54	44	.550	572	523
2	Washington	57	44	.564	569	559
3	St. Louis	55	43	.562	559	549
4	Cleveland	49	55	.470	485	488
5	Cleveland	45	55	.450	485	481
6	Philadelphia	42	58	.418	422	412

Yesterday's Results.
St. Louis, 5; Washington, 2.
Detroit, 3; Chicago, 2.
Philadelphia, 12; Cleveland, 4.
New York, 2; St. Louis, 1.
Washington at St. Louis.
Boston at Cleveland.
Philadelphia at Chicago.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.

Standings.	Team	W.	L.	Pct.	Win	Loss
1	St. Paul	62	43	.590	594	545
2	Indianapolis	59	45	.565	559	529
3	Louisville	57	46	.553	558	548
4	Indianapolis	55	48	.535	548	538
5	Kansas City	49	55	.469	485	475
6	Columbus	47	56	.454	482	473
7	Des Moines	46	56	.448	450	440
8	Minneapolis	45	61	.425	439	422

Columbus, 5-10; Louisville, 3-16.
St. Paul, 11; Milwaukee, 2.
Minneapolis, 1; Kansas City, 2.

Games Today.
Indianapolis at Toledo.
Louisville at Columbus.
St. Paul at Milwaukee.
Minneapolis at Kansas City.

THREE-EYE LEAGUE.

Results.	Team	W.	L.
Des Moines, 2; Hamilton, 4.	Des Moines	2	4
Evansville, 2; Bloomington, 4.	Evansville	2	4
Terre Haute, 2; Danville, 1.	Terre Haute	2	1

MICHIGAN-OHIO LEAGUE.

Results.	Team	W.	L.
Grand Rapids, 7; Flint, 11.	Grand Rapids	7	11
Hamilton, 9; Saginaw, 1.	Hamilton	9	1
Flint, 2; Bay City, 1.	Flint	2	1
Muskegon, 2; Kalamazoo, 4.	Muskegon	2	4

Was Carpenter Fouled?

W. S. FARNSWORTH, sports editor of the New York American, whose seat at the Carpenter-Tunney fight in New York (indicated in the pictures) gave him an excellent view of the blow that knocked Carpenter out, expresses no doubt that Carpenter was fouled, though not intentionally. He declares the blow struck Carpenter's aluminum protector. In addition, Farnsworth declares that as the blow landed Carpenter fell against Tunney, forcing him into the ropes. Tunney's knee flying up and accidentally fouling Carpenter again.

Down the Fairway

By CHARLES (CHICK) EVANS, JR.
Get Weight In.
IF YOU have ever seen a prize fighter hit his opponent, you will notice that he hits first and the weight of everything he has follows. That is the sort of a hit you want in golf, but there is this great difference: prize-fighting is a tense, tight, fighting sport; golf is a relaxed, leisurely and rhythmic one. Those who tell you that you are playing with gritted teeth and tense muscles are leading you far astray. You are not fighting your opponent, you are measuring him and playing your own shots accordingly. The calmer you can keep your spirits the surer you can feel that you are playing good golf and not a tricky fighting game.
The five words I would avoid in my idea of general hitting are push, force, drag and lunge. The five words in favor in the idea of general hitting are snap, crack, flick, sling or slap.
The latter five should all be done carefully, especially in a wind. They will all prevent the ball from going straight and another. Let the swing go smoothly until you feel the solid contact. Keep looking at the imaginary line. Flipping the clubhead into the imaginary direction line. Remember the ball was for the purpose of stroke, and try not to be a strong man, but as if you were gathering the shot, which should be a firm hit. You should have an unmistakable sense of solid connection when the wooden face meets the ball. Busting, jamming or flipping the clubhead into the imaginary direction line may better express the sort of thing you ought to make. If you are not getting the clubhead on the ball well, relax a little, and when playing down to the ball, you must hit just far enough under the center so that you feel the clubhead, not yourself, hit it. The hands at the time of hitting the ball are not to be used. They should not feel stiff at the time of contact, but as if you were gathering the shot, which should be a firm hit. You should have an unmistakable sense of solid connection when the wooden face meets the ball. Busting, jamming or flipping the clubhead into the imaginary direction line may better express the sort of thing you ought to make. If you are not getting the clubhead on the ball well, relax a little, and when playing down to the ball, you must hit just far enough under the center so that you feel the clubhead, not yourself, hit it. The hands at the time of hitting the ball are not to be used. They should not feel stiff at the time of contact, but as if you were gathering the shot, which should be a firm hit. You should have an unmistakable sense of solid connection when the wooden face meets the ball. Busting, jamming or flipping the clubhead into the imaginary direction line may better express the sort of thing you ought to make. If you are not getting the clubhead on the ball well, relax a little, and when playing down to the ball, you must hit just far enough under the center so that you feel the clubhead, not yourself, hit it. The hands at the time of hitting the ball are not to be used. They should not feel stiff at the time of contact, but as if you were gathering the shot, which should be a firm hit. You should have an unmistakable sense of solid connection when the wooden face meets the ball. Busting, jamming or flipping the clubhead into the imaginary direction line may better express the sort of thing you ought to make. If you are not getting the clubhead on the ball well, relax a little, and when playing down to the ball, you must hit just far enough under the center so that you feel the clubhead, not yourself, hit it. The hands at the time of hitting the ball are not to be used. They should not feel stiff at the time of contact, but as if you were gathering the shot, which should be a firm hit. You should have an unmistakable sense of solid connection when the wooden face meets the ball. Busting, jamming or flipping the clubhead into the imaginary direction line may better express the sort of thing you ought to make. If you are not getting the clubhead on the ball well, relax a little, and when playing down to the ball, you must hit just far enough under the center so that you feel the clubhead, not yourself, hit it. The hands at the time of hitting the ball are not to be used. They should not feel stiff at the time of contact, but as if you were gathering the shot, which should be a firm hit. You should have an unmistakable sense of solid connection when the wooden face meets the ball. Busting, jamming or flipping the clubhead into the imaginary direction line may better express the sort of thing you ought to make. If you are not getting the clubhead on the ball well, relax a little, and when playing down to the ball, you must hit just far enough under the center so that you feel the clubhead, not yourself, hit it. The hands at the time of hitting the ball are not to be used. They should not feel stiff at the time of contact, but as if you were gathering the shot, which should be a firm hit. You should have an unmistakable sense of solid connection when the wooden face meets the ball. Busting, jamming or flipping the clubhead into the imaginary direction line may better express the sort of thing you ought to make. If you are not getting the clubhead on the ball well, relax a little, and when playing down to the ball, you must hit just far enough under the center so that you feel the clubhead, not yourself, hit it. The hands at the time of hitting the ball are not to be used. They should not feel stiff at the time of contact, but as if you were gathering the shot, which should be a firm hit. You should have an unmistakable sense of solid connection when the wooden face meets the ball. Busting, jamming or flipping the clubhead into the imaginary direction line may better express the sort of thing you ought to make. If you are not getting the clubhead on the ball well, relax a little, and when playing down to the ball, you must hit just far enough under the center so that you feel the clubhead, not yourself, hit it. The hands at the time of hitting the ball are not to be used. They should not feel stiff at the time of contact, but as if you were gathering the shot, which should be a firm hit. You should have an unmistakable sense of solid connection when the wooden face meets the ball. Busting, jamming or flipping the clubhead into the imaginary direction line may better express the sort of thing you ought to make. If you are not getting the clubhead on the ball well, relax a little, and when playing down to the ball, you must hit just far enough under the center so that you feel the clubhead, not yourself, hit it. The hands at the time of hitting the ball are not to be used. They should not feel stiff at the time of contact, but as if you were gathering the shot, which should be a firm hit. You should have an unmistakable sense of solid connection when the wooden face meets the ball. Busting, jamming or flipping the clubhead into the imaginary direction line may better express the sort of thing you ought to make. If you are not getting the clubhead on the ball well, relax a little, and when playing down to the ball, you must hit just far enough under the center so that you feel the clubhead, not yourself, hit it. The hands at the time of hitting the ball are not to be used. They should not feel stiff at the time of contact, but as if you were gathering the shot, which should be a firm hit. You should have an unmistakable sense of solid connection when the wooden face meets the ball. Busting, jamming or flipping the clubhead into the imaginary direction line may better express the sort of thing you ought to make. If you are not getting the clubhead on the ball well, relax a little, and when playing down to the ball, you must hit just far enough under the center so that you feel the clubhead, not yourself, hit it. The hands at the time of hitting the ball are not to be used. They should not feel stiff at the time of contact, but as if you were gathering the shot, which should be a firm hit. You should have an unmistakable sense of solid connection when the wooden face meets the ball. Busting, jamming or flipping the clubhead into the imaginary direction line may better express the sort of thing you ought to make. If you are not getting the clubhead on the ball well, relax a little, and when playing down to the ball, you must hit just far enough under the center so that you feel the clubhead, not yourself, hit it. The hands at the time of hitting the ball are not to be used. They should not feel stiff at the time of contact, but as if you were gathering the shot, which should be a firm hit. You should have an unmistakable sense of solid connection when the wooden face meets the ball. Busting, jamming or flipping the clubhead into the imaginary direction line may better express the sort of thing you ought to make. If you are not getting the clubhead on the ball well, relax a little, and when playing down to the ball, you must hit just far enough under the center so that you feel the clubhead, not yourself, hit it. The hands at the time of hitting the ball are not to be used. They should not feel stiff at the time of contact, but as if you were gathering the shot, which should be a firm hit. You should have an unmistakable sense of solid connection when the wooden face meets the ball. Busting, jamming or flipping the clubhead into the imaginary direction line may better express the sort of thing you ought to make. If you are not getting the clubhead on the ball well, relax a little, and when playing down to the ball, you must hit just far enough under the center so that you feel the clubhead, not yourself, hit it. The hands at the time of hitting the ball are not to be used. They should not feel stiff at the time of contact, but as if you were gathering the shot, which should be a firm hit. You should have an unmistakable sense of solid connection when the wooden face meets the ball. Busting, jamming or flipping the clubhead into the imaginary direction line may better express the sort of thing you ought to make. If you are not getting the clubhead on the ball well, relax a little, and when playing down to the ball, you must hit just far enough under the center so that you feel the clubhead, not yourself, hit it. The hands at the time of hitting the ball are not to be used. They should not feel stiff at the time of contact, but as if you were gathering the shot, which should be a firm hit. You should have an unmistakable sense of solid connection when the wooden face meets the ball. Busting, jamming or flipping the clubhead into the imaginary direction line may better express the sort of thing you ought to make. If you are not getting the clubhead on the ball well, relax a little, and when playing down to the ball, you must hit just far enough under the center so that you feel the clubhead, not yourself, hit it. The hands at the time of hitting the ball are not to be used. They should not feel stiff at the time of contact, but as if you were gathering the shot, which should be a firm hit. You should have an unmistakable sense of solid connection when the wooden face meets the ball. Busting, jamming or flipping the clubhead into the imaginary direction line may better express the sort of thing you ought to make. If you are not getting the clubhead on the ball well, relax a little, and when playing down to the ball, you must hit just far enough under the center so that you feel the clubhead, not yourself, hit it. The hands at the time of hitting the ball are not to be used. They should not feel stiff at the time of contact, but as if you were gathering the shot, which should be a firm hit. You should have an unmistakable sense of solid connection when the wooden face meets the ball. Busting, jamming or flipping the clubhead into the imaginary direction line may better express the sort of thing you ought to make. If you are not getting the clubhead on the ball well, relax a little, and when playing down to the ball, you must hit just far enough under the center so that you feel the clubhead, not yourself, hit it. The hands at the time of hitting the ball are not to be used. They should not feel stiff at the time of contact, but as if you were gathering the shot, which should be a firm hit. You should have an unmistakable sense of solid connection when the wooden face meets the ball. Busting, jamming or flipping the clubhead into the imaginary direction line may better express the sort of thing you ought to make. If you are not getting the clubhead on the ball well, relax a little, and when playing down to the ball, you must hit just far enough under the center so that you feel the clubhead, not yourself, hit it. The hands at the time of hitting the ball are not to be used. They should not feel stiff at the time of contact, but as if you were gathering the shot, which should be a firm hit. You should have an unmistakable sense of solid connection when the wooden face meets the ball. Busting, jamming or flipping the clubhead into the imaginary direction line may better express the sort of thing you ought to make. If you are not getting the clubhead on the ball well, relax a little, and when playing down to the ball, you must hit just far enough under the center so that you feel the clubhead, not yourself, hit it. The hands at the time of hitting the ball are not to be used. They should not feel stiff at the time of contact, but as if you were gathering the shot, which should be a firm hit. You should have an unmistakable sense of solid connection when the wooden face meets the ball. Busting, jamming or flipping the clubhead into the imaginary direction line may better express the sort of thing you ought to make. If you are not getting the clubhead on the ball well, relax a little, and when playing down to the ball, you must hit just far enough under the center