"Never Was in Klan,"
J. W. D.
All Ready to Borrow.
No Last Chance.
Another Censorship.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

John W. Davis denies that he was ever a member of the Ku Klux Klan. He says, "I never was, and never shall be a member."

That is definite. The question that interested politicians is "how much difference will it make in the vote?" Between the Ku Klux Klan and various religious organizations in various states, Mr. Davis will find conditions much mixed up on election day.

That's one piece of "home news" for the day.

In Europe the allies and Germany have got together, as was expected, and in fact settled, long ago.

Merely getting together will enable our European friends to get a few hundred million gold dollars from the United States. The wise thing is to get together, and it has been done.

England and Russia apparently agree on a treaty. The house of commons applauds it. England wants business not fancy notions. You don't hear the statesmen of England talking the pitiful droll that comes from American statesmen about Russia's immorality, how she must be a good Christian nation and repent in sackcloth and ashes before we have anything to do with her.

Lord Beaverbrook expressed the British attitude when he said, "Why shouldn't Great Britain trade with Russia? We trade with cannibals if they have anything that we want to buy or can buy what we have for sale."

British leaders are statesmen and business men also. Our politicians are neither statesmen nor business men, and that is a handicap for the American business man who wants to get his share of the world's trade.

The Paris Matin in an interview, quotes Secretary Hughes, to the German government as follows: "Don't make any mistake, this is your last chance." Secretary Hughes warned Germany that if she did not approve the Dawes plan she must "not count any more on the United States."

On that point of course the United States and not Secretary Hughes would decide. He will pass on. The United States will remain.

Furthermore, it is risky to say to a nation possessing 70,000,000 inhabitants and considerable scientific knowledge, that its "last chance" has come. It would have been foolish to tell France in 1870 that she had had her last chance. It is foolish to tell Russia, as our statesmen do tell her, that she must do what we say, or go to the wall via famine, disease and anarchy.

Germany and other nations will have many more chances. Eventually it is to be hoped, they will settle down to a combination of nations, a "United States of Europe," and stop fighting.

If all broadcasting stations imitate one in Massachusetts, you will have a dull radio campaign. The Massachusetts concern decided that candidates may talk about themselves, their own party, and praise themselves. But they must not attack their adversaries.

It's the same old "censorship" again. With the first printing of books, printers were told that they must say only what they were allowed to say. Milton put an end to that in England.

Newspapers could say only what high authorities allowed them to say. The constitution of the United States is supposed to have ended that.

The moving picture and radio, being new, the same old censorship appears to tell one set of people what he must say and another set what they may hear. That kind of censorship will be abolished also.

Let each man say what he has to say, subject to just penalties for saying what he has no right to say.

"Margery," charming Boston medium, is said by some investigators to be "genuine." "Chester," her little spirit assistant, works smoothly and produces "psychic" lights through "Margery's" person. Even with her hands and feet held, "Margery" produces the psychic lights. Many fish in the sea can do the same. "Little Chester" will be found out eventually. Spirits can't talk, or "shine," or be photographed on this sphere without bodies. Force can't act without matter. Write that down. No matter, no action.

Uncle Sam turns the other cheek. Denounced and hated by Japan because he ventures to decide who shall occupy American soil, he allows Japan, first of all the nations to send letters by our cross-country flying machines. Japanese stamps, sold in Japan, will pay for the transportation, and help Japanese business men. Other countries will have the facility later.
