By International News Service. Cranford, N. J., Aug. 21 .- Train No. 604 of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, a New York and Philadelphia express, was wrecked just before noon here today when it struck a motor truck at a crossing. Several persons were killed. First reports were that nine persons were dead, but this could not be verified shortly after the accident. The engine and five coaches left the rails, two of the latter turning over completely. The other three pitched on their sides.

Rescue and repair trains were made up at the nearest junction points. They were bringing doctors to minister to the injured.

Later workers on the spot said these dead had been identified: Thompson or Compton, Harry driver of the truck, of Newark, N. J. Martin, Luther, of South Fontaine

Among the injured was Leo Gilbert, engineer of the train. One of his legs was broken.

New York, Aug. 21 .- Reports that several persons had been killed in a wreck on the Central railroad of New Jersey at Cranford, N. J., were confirmed this afternoon in an official statement from the railroad's offices in New York. It was said officials had made every effort on the long distance telephone to ascertain definitely the number killed, but had been unable to do so because of the confusion at the

TRAIN DERAILED; ENGINEER KILLED

Mitchell, Ind., Aug. 21.-John Donnell, engineer, was killed, and Lee Simmons, fireman, was perhaps fatally injured when a fast eastbound Baltimore & Ohio train from St. Louis to Cincinnati, struck a derail one mile and a half east of here today.

The locomotive and three coaches were overturned and a fourth coach left the rails. Many passengers escaped serious injury.
