

Railroad to Aid in Accommodating Legion Visitors

Can Provide Trackage for Pullmans Sleeping 25,000, Officials Tell C. of C. Committee.

Delegates to the 1925 convention of the American Legion will find Omaha well prepared to care for them if they accept the invitation of the Omaha post to hold their next meeting in this city.

Railroad officials, conferring Friday with officials of the Chamber of Commerce and the American Legion, announced that they could provide trackage space for Pullman cars which would accommodate 25,000 delegates during the convention if Omaha hotels were overcrowded.

The railroad officials will hold another meeting at 10 Saturday at the Burlington headquarters here to prepare a detailed report of accommodations which will be submitted to the time and place committee of the legion at the 1924 convention at St. Paul.

This report is intended to supplement the 3,000 personal invitations now being sent to the legion delegates by John L. Kennedy, Mayor Dahlman and Leo Bozell, post commander.

Railroad officials present at the conference Friday included A. Coisworth, general passenger agent of the Burlington railroad; E. Flynn, general manager of the Burlington railroad; Harry C. Shields, division passenger agent of the Wabash line; H. L. Snyder, representing W. A. Jefferies, general manager of the Union Pacific railroad; George R. Bierman, assistant general passenger agent of the Union Pacific railroad; H. E. Dickinson, general superintendent of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad; W. E. Bock, general passenger agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad; C. Haydock, division freight and passenger agent of the Illinois Central railroad; B. J. De Groot, assistant general freight agent of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad; J. R. Duckworth, assistant general freight agent of the Missouri Pacific railroad; D. M. Davis, assistant general freight and passenger agent of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad; P. H. Waldorf, Illinois Central railroad; and J. S. PIG IRON OUTPUT RISES 6 PER CENT

New York, Sept. 5.—Dun's tomorrow will say: There is no rapid growth of domestic business, but each week something is added to the gains recently made. Nearly two months of gradual and irregular recovery have followed the setback that began early in the year which resulted in a sharp restriction of operations and the improvement now in progress may conceivably become more marked and general with passing of the summer. Although political uncertainties still cause hesitation in different quarters, basic conditions are favorable, having been strengthened by the increased buying power in agricultural sections and an extension of the trade revival is expected. Statistical records for August afford a measure of the betterment that has already occurred, pig iron output rising 6 per cent after four consecutive months of decline, the moderate advance in commodity prices being reflected in Dun's compilation and the number of commercial failures having reached the lowest point of the year. Weekly bank clearings, $6,455,290, 696. The smartest frocks this winter will have coats to match. The three-piece outfit has come to stay.

Hog Theft Suspect Arrested in Omaha

Former Pugilist Blames Liquor for His Trouble—Will Go Straight.

Charles Gott, 27, former prize fighter, under indictment by an Iowa grand jury in connection with the theft of 21 hogs from the farm of Charles Hannan, Council Bluffs, last fall, was arrested in South Omaha Friday morning by George Townley of the Reliable Detective agency. Lyle Belden, who operated a garage a mile and a half from the farm, also is under arrest on the same indictment.

Gott blames liquor for his predicament. "Belden got me drunk—so drunk that I did not care what I did."

The two men are alleged to have killed the hogs, taken them to the farm house and cleaned them and then carried the carcasses away in Belden's truck. They admit killing five of the pure bred animals. It is said.

Gott has a wife and two children in Kansas. He will be turned over to Sheriff P. A. Lainson of Council Bluffs.

"When I get out of this, I'm going straight," he said.

GOLFERS IN FAVOR OF RAISING FEE

Robert Cusaden, secretary of the Municipal Golf association, reports that of the first 300 replies received in a referendum vote sent to 2,200 many golfers, two-thirds are in favor of increasing the annual fee from $2.50 to $10 and the daily fee from 25 to 50 cents. This vote is being taken to obtain the sentiment of those who patronize the municipal links in Elmwood, Fontenelle and Miller parks. An ordinance to increase the fees as indicated is pending before the city council committee of the whole.
