Undernourished Children to Be Cared for Next Year Under Doctor's Care.

Omaha lodge of Elks will begin a campaign Monday for the establishment and maintenance of a social welfare feature to be known as "Omaha Elk Kiddies Camp for Undernourished Children." It is proposed to open the camp next season under the direction of the social and community welfare committee of the lodge.

The activities committee will raise the necessary funds through a plan to sell dance tickets. A new Year's eve dance will be given in the auditorium for the benefit of the new summer camp for kiddies.

The tentative plan for the camp is to lease a few acres near Omaha and build shelters that will be suitable for sleeping and eating quarters. Children from 5 to 10 years of age will be cared for at the camp for periods of about two weeks for each child. No charge will be made. Nurses and a physician will be in attendance at the camp.

The boys and girls at this camp will be given nourishing food and will be allowed to have a pleasant outing. Playground equipment will be installed.

An announcement by the activities committee reads: "Remember that this is the most worthy charity to which you have ever contributed—helping the helpless kiddies."

Declares Speakers "Pea-Wits" Who Dodge Issues in Meetings.

By Associated Press. Dawes Special, Enroute to Chicago, Galena, Ill., Sept. 20.—Charles G. Dawes, republican vice presidential nominee, interrupted his return from South Dakota today to attack the La Follette independent candidacy in a war platform addresses here and at Dubuque, Ia.

Crowds of several hundred people greeted the nominee in both cities, while early this morning, before Mr. Dawes arose, somewhat smaller groups met the train at Waterloo and Manchester, Ia.

Speaking at Dubuque, Mr. Dawes declared he thought he would talk about the budget when he started the campaign, but that, "like a thief in the night, a great issue has stolen upon us—the issue of the constitution of the United States."

He defined the inalienable rights guaranteed under the constitution and the courts and asked "what kind of a government would this be if these rights were lodged in congress," referring to the La Follette platform plank for congressional veto of judicial decisions.

An attack also was made by Mr. Dawes on those politicians—political pea-wits, who dodge issues and "preach high prices for beef on the hoof and low prices for beef on the table, trying to play both sides to gain favor."

The audience which surrounded the train on all sides applauded frequently and most loudly when Mr. Dawes appealed for "a common sense treatment of the nation's problems."

"This agricultural problem is a problem," he continued, "I have heard some political pea-wits—Senator La Follette, for example—who promise everything, even the millennium, if they are elected to office."
