

Pool Overrules Protest Against Butler's Filing

Omaha Commissioner to Be Put on Ballot as Pro- gressive Candidate for Governor.

The name of D. B. Butler will be placed on the state ballots at the November election as progressive candidate for governor.

This was the information transmitted by telephone Tuesday morning by Secretary of State Pool to Mr. Butler at the city hall. Pool explained that he overruled the protest of H. C. Swallow against the filing of Butler's name.

Butler was nominated twice by the progressive party state central committee the first time at Omaha and the second time at Lincoln. He was named to take the place of Gov. C. W. Bryan, who was democratic and progressive nominee for governor at the time he received the nomination for vice president.

Mr. Butler, who has been identified with the democratic party, recently stated that he is a progressive democrat, and in accepting the progressive party nomination did what other democrats have done. He has publicly announced his loyalty to La Follette.

W. H. Green, secretary of the progressive state central committee, conferred with Butler Tuesday morning. A state-wide speaking tour for Butler will be arranged at once, according to announcement.

Woman Admits to Death Plot

At 7 o'clock, the weary state's attorney, who with the sheriff and his son have spent three sleepless nights extracting confessions from Hight, walked out of his office for a moment's relief.

"She is breaking," he announced. "I think she'll have something to say shortly."
Half an hour later the woman broke under the strain. She poured out her story in a torrent of words and then, calm and apparently untroubled by what fate might await her, penned the confession with the same pen which only a few hours before Hight had written his third confession in which he named her as Wilford's Sweetin's murderer.

Immediately Thompson made arrangements to file formal charges of murder against the woman. The pastor already is under two charges of murder, one made by a coroner's jury, which charged him with having poisoned his wife and the other returned yesterday by a coroner's jury, charging him with murdering a woman to administer the drug—all these were recalled.

T. R., TO BE NAMED FOR GOVERNOR

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 23.—Nomination of Theodore Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, as republican candidate for governor of New York state, virtually has been assured.

Last night a group of prominent state leaders decided to throw its strength to the son of the late president. Withdrawal of H. Edmund Machold, speaker of the assembly, gave Roosevelt an advantage over the rest of the field, and his name was mentioned with great frequency yesterday as the most likely candidate.

Taking cognizance of the sharp drift in sentiment toward Roosevelt, a group of the state leaders met last night and canvassed the situation. At the conclusion of the conference it was declared that the consensus of opinion was that Roosevelt should be nominated because of his campaigning ability, his record in public service and in the army during the world war.

WOMAN SOUGHT TO KILL OFFICIAL

(By Associated Press.)
Rambouillet, France, Sept. 23.—Just before Premier Herriot left the presidential chateau here today after the cabinet meeting a highly excited woman entered the guardroom at the gate of the chateau and handed over a loaded revolver to the police, saying she had intended shooting the premier, but that her courage had failed her.

The woman, who gave her name as Madame Bigot Penjean, living in Paris was taken to Paris for examination. She said she previously had intended to shoot M. Herriot, once at Lyons and once at an earlier cabinet meeting in Rambouillet, but "he looked so nice," she said, that she was unable to fire.

FAMINE REPORTED IN PHILIPPINES

(By Associated Press.)
Manila, Sept. 23.—Forty thousand persons in Pangasinan and Tarlac provinces are reported reduced to a state of semi-starvation on account of the floods, locusts and animal diseases. The American Red Cross has authorized appropriation of a month's supply of rice to relieve the suffering. Gov. Gen. Leonard Wood declared today that his office had not been advised of any famine in the two provinces but that he had ordered an official investigation. He admitted knowledge that crops in Tarlac province had been a failure.

Army Head Here Will Retire in October, 1925

Major General George B. Duncan, commander of the Seventh Army corps area, will be retired October 10, 1925, the 64th anniversary of his birth.

The retirement of General Duncan will come just 13 months later than that of Gen. John J. Pershing, his former classmate, companion and commander.

General Duncan was born at Lexington, Ky., in 1861. His father was a colonel. In 1886 he graduated from West Point.

As a second lieutenant he was assigned to the Ninth infantry. When his promotion to a first lieutenant came he was transferred to the Fourth infantry. In 1893 he was promotored to a captaincy, and in 1899 resigned from the service.

One month later Duncan was once again commissioned a captain and assigned to the Second infantry. With his promotion to lieutenant colonel came a transfer to the Seventeenth infantry. That was in 1915, and his promotion to command a regiment followed one year later. In 1917 he was commissioned a brigadier general in the national army, and in 1918 won his promotion to the rank of major general.

During the war the general was in command of the First brigade of the First division and was the first American general to have command of a sector on the western front.

In May, 1918, he was transferred to the command of the 77th division. He was then transferred to 82d division, which he commanded through the Meuse-Argonne offensive. He was still in command of this division at the time of its demobilization in 1919.

General Duncan was awarded the Croix de Guerre and was made a commander of the Legion of Honor by the French government, was decorated with the order of the Companion of the Bath by the English, and was given the Distinguished Service medal by the United States in recognition of his services.

MOTORIST SAVES TOT "A LA TOM MIX"

Emporia, Kan., Sept. 23.—Raymond Steinmetz, a quick-witted motorist, saved the life of a 5-year-old girl by snatching her from in front of the wheels of a moving train while driving his motor car from the running board with one hand at 30 miles an hour. The rescue occurred at a crossing.

The child, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Gearhart of Chicago, had wandered on the tracks in front of a passenger train. Steinmetz, seeing the child's plight, threw his legs over the side of the car, stood on the running board, opened the gas throttle and, while holding the wheel with one hand, grabbed the child with the other. He jerked the child to safety just as the train whizzed by.

So close was the rescue that Steinmetz's car bears a small dent on the rear fender where it was grazed by the locomotive.

Burlington, Vt., Sept. 23.—A platform declaring that Calvin Coolidge was the paramount issue before the state and nation was adopted today by the state republican convention in session here.

Frank W. Mondell, in a keynote speech, praised Vermont republicans for their unwavering loyalty to the party.

Omahans Boost for Bigger City

Leaders Discuss Means of At- tracting More Indus- tries, Citizens.

Much enthusiastic discussion of means of making Omaha a greater and more attractive city resulted from a resume of recent accomplishments printed in The Omaha Bee Sunday under the heading of "Putting Things Over for Omaha."

In addition to praising accomplishments such as bringing the world fliers here, landing the American Legion convention for 1925, launching a state-wide road-paving program and the movement to connect Omaha with a new, rich trade territory by construction of a short strip of railroad across the newly completed Yankton bridge, Omahans advanced other ideas.

Every Citizen Booster.
Said Francis S. Gaines, attorney: "The greatest benefit to a town is to have every citizen boosting for it. Omahans should understand their city, take pride in its accomplishments and use every opportunity to tell its good points to others. Omaha needs a better system of traffic regulation. The visit of the world fliers was a big thing, and the legion convention should be of great benefit to the town. Of all things, however, I think better roads for the entire state is most important."

Harley G. Conant, hotel man: There is undoubtedly a reawakening in Omaha—a better spirit. First of all, Omaha must make the city just as attractive as possible for visitors; and make it absolutely safe. Then it must help build up the state.
Randall K. Brown, coal dealer: Omaha's prosperity is based on agriculture. The business men should do everything possible to see that farmers get good prices for their products. When the farmer prospers Omaha prospers.

More Conventions, Factories.
Arthur Frudenfeld, theater man: The fact that Omaha is going after big conventions and getting them seems a big thing to me. Next to that I would favor a concerted move to bring big factories to Omaha. With our wonderful railroad facilities and central location, I cannot see why Omaha should not become a great factory time.

Henry Watts, theater man: Good roads in Omaha territory are one of the most important things. A city can be no larger than the territory contributing to it. Paved arteries must be opened up, for people follow the line least resistance. I would

Eye Specialists Ask Motor Law

Campaign on to Require Drivers to Pass Optical Test.

Too many Omaha motorists are "half blind." This fact, according to Omaha oculists, opticians and optometrists, is responsible for at least 50 per cent of the automobile accidents and collisions reported to police.

In an effort to reduce automobile accidents through the correction of poor vision, members of these professions have opened a vigorous campaign for the passing of an ordinance which would require every motorist to pass a visual examination before being granted a license to drive a car.

Police Commissioner Henry Dunn has recently been furnished with statistics compiled by the California League for the Conservation of Vision, which show that 2 per cent of all accidents are caused by defective brakes, 25 per cent by recklessness 50 per cent by defective vision.

The campaign by Omaha professional men follows the recent announcement that all Chicago traffic offenders will be subject to an examination for defective vision.

Massachusetts and Vermont have had laws for many years requiring all drivers to pass a visual examination, and, according to statistics from these states, this requirement has resulted in a remarkable decrease in the number of accidents.

In support of their campaign, a number of Omaha oculists, optometrists and opticians have agreed to make such examinations free of charge if the city passes an ordinance requiring visual tests.

POLICE SEEK WILL OF SLAIN WOMAN

SENATE PROBERS MAY BE CALLED

Pasadena, Cal., Sept. 23.—Police today were searching for a will said to have been drawn up the day before she died by Mrs. Clifton R. Hunn, formerly of Chicago, who was slain in her apartment here last Friday night.

Mrs. J. H. Hines, proprietor of a beauty shop frequently visited by Mrs. Hunn, told detectives yesterday that the woman last Thursday mentioned to her that she had just finished drawing up her will and spoke also of a dinner party she was to give the following night.

It was shortly after this dinner, at which F. R. Gibson and Harry Connor were present, that Mrs. Hunn was found on the threshold of the apartment, beaten with a hammer, and shot to death.

Camp Perry, Sept. 23.—Senator Brookhart, chairman of the senate Daugherty investigating committee, said he had wired Senator H. F. Ashurst of Arizona, the only member of the committee in Washington, that he might, if he desired, call the committee together to hear additional testimony.

Senator Brookhart, who is here attending the National Rifle matches, said he expected to return to Iowa before going to Washington.
