

Prices of Wheat Hold While Corn Slides at Start

Inherent Strength of Wheat Market Reflected; Rye Shows Stability and Oats and Corn Recover.

By CHARLES J. LEYDEN, Universal Service Staff Correspondent. Chicago, Sept. 23.—The wheat market was forcibly reflected today's market on prices held during the first hour as corn slid downward and wheat moved upward, closing at top levels.

Heavy buying for eastern and export account absorbed the offerings early and shortly thereafter the market moved upward, closing at top levels. Heavy buying for eastern and export account absorbed the offerings early and shortly thereafter the market moved upward, closing at top levels.

Indications that Europe is coming after wheat and rye with growing earnestness apparently attracted more confident speculative demand for grain and its effect. The seaboard confirmed export sales of 1,000,000 bushels of wheat, 2,000,000 bushels of corn and 500,000 bushels of rye, as much as 3,000,000 bushels wheat and 1,000,000 bushels of corn and 500,000 bushels of rye, as much as 3,000,000 bushels wheat and 1,000,000 bushels of corn and 500,000 bushels of rye.

Outbreak sharply under liquidating pressure and that most of its losses at the close, the late months moving higher. The market for wheat and rye in the visible supply scared out longers during the last hour. Export houses were persistent buyers, while during the last hour stop orders were placed.
