A Message to Europe.
La Follette News.
Coolidge's Protest.
Able Young Frenchmen.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

This nation should send a plain message to those gentlemen in Geneva, solemnly discussing the advisability of making immigration laws of the United States the business of Japan and European powers.

Somebody, for the United States, preferably Coolidge, might send a polite note to the Geneva gentlemen as follows:

"When this was a small nation we enforced the Monroe doctrine, which warned Europe to keep hands off the two American continents.

"We are 115,000,000 people now, not exactly poverty-stricken, and we think we can prevent Japan, with or without the help of Europe, from dictating our internal laws, including immigration laws.

To that might be added:

"And what's more, we haven't a high opinion of nations that were only recently on their knees borrowing our money, which they haven't paid, and are now discussing under what conditions they would back up Asia in an aggressive war upon the United States."

That kind of a message ought to cross the ocean.

Luckily for this nation, which seems better at lending money than upholding its own rights, we have a defender in Australia, that nation, with a population about as big as that of New York City, living under the shadow of Japan and all the hundreds of millions in Asia, notifies the league, Japan and everybody else that she, Australia, with her small population, and a total wealth that the United States could buy about once a year, will undertake to manage her own internal affairs and doesn't want any advice.

Perhaps somebody in the United States will develop a little of the Australian spirit.

The political news seems to be all La Follette news. Hiram Johnson, by far the most powerful man in California, denounces the decision keeping La Follette electors off the ballot in a way that will greatly increase La Follette's vote in California. It is even predicted that Johnson will come out for La Follette and campaign for him as a protest against the judicial decision that the people of California must vote exclusively for men selected by the bosses.

Another report says that Judge Kenyon, formerly United States senator, put on the bench by Harding, and one of the most earnest men in public life, will get off the bench and campaign for La Follette. That would be another shock to the old parties, not yet awake to the fact that one of the old parties will have to die, or both of the old parties must combine hereafter to fight a powerful new party.

Louisiana follows California by refusing La Follette electors a place on the ballot. President Coolidge, much to his credit, expresses regret that any American should be forbidden to vote for the man of his choice. The president's statement will be applauded by 99 per cent of American voters.

The son of Prof. Painleve, a Frenchman, only 21 years old, is the youngest man ever listened to by the French Academy of Science. He told Ostrogorski, the learned Russian, that he, Bryce, was ashamed to admit that he knew no young Englishmen possessed of the same earnestness.

When big men start fighting, little people occasionally profit. Very big oil men are having a fight in New England and New York. The Gulf Refining company forces a wholesale price of 13 cents in New England.

The big Standard Oil company has just been cutting prices in New York. Not long ago one of these price wars cut the price in New Jersey to 8 cents a gallon. In the long run, of course, the consumers pay whatever is lost in the price war, and more.

COOLIDGE LEADS IN WOAW POLL

Coolidge is an overwhelming favorite among the radio fans who listen in over WOAW, the Woodmen of the World's broadcasting station.

WOAW recently took a poll of its listeners on the presidential issue and asked the fans to send in their preference. The result was, in round numbers: 36,000 for Coolidge, 12,000 for La Follette and 8,000 for Davis.

All Wausa to Attend Yankton Celebration

WAUSA, Neb., Oct. 1.—A delegation of 500 automobile loads from Wausa, Pierce and Crofton is planning to attend the celebration of the opening of the Meridian highway bridge Monday, October 13. At a mass meeting held here the business men decided to close up the town and practically all the inhabitants will attend the Yankton celebration.

Teacher Weds, Loses Job.

FAIRBURY, Oct. 1.—Miss Margaret Conradi, five years a successful Fairbury teacher, principal of the West Wood school, terminated her contract with the Fairbury board of education by her marriage to Orville Stone of Bellevue Saturday. This dismissal was in accordance with a ruling of the board last summer.
