1874

1924

To my friends and patrons:

To those untold thousands of people, who have, during the past 50 years, made possible the phenomenal growth of the A. Hospe Co., I wish to express my heartfelt appreciation.

It is a far cry from the Omaha as I first saw it in 1874, the terminus of the Union Pacific Railroad, to the great financial, commercial and industrial metropolis of today.

My initial business venture in Omaha was very naturally quite small, its growth was at first very slow, then faster and faster as the name of the A. Hospe Co., became more widely known, and the business principals and ideals of this institution became more firmly implanted in the minds of the people in the rapidly developing city of Omaha and its trade territory.

Untold thousands have passed through the doors of the A. Hospe Co., during the past fifty years, may I again express to that vast multitude, my sincere appreciation for their patronage, which alone is responsible for the splendid growth our firm has enjoyed-A patronage which we realize we must continue to enjoy. Rest assured that no stone will be left unturned that will tend to assist in meriting that patronage.
