The "Dresler Way" of Cleaning Furs Is the Safe Way

There is a "right" way and a wrong way of cleaning furs—ranging from the crude operations in cellars, sheds or in back rooms—to the efficient equipment and skilled personnel of the modern cleaning plant.

Dresler Brothers, in company with eight other progressive cleaners, has spent more than $40,000 in research work during the last four years in order to determine the "right" and "safe" way to clean furs as well as other cleanable articles.

Investigation has revealed that our method of dry cleaning furs, used 150 times on the same article, leaves the fur soft and lustrous; that our method kills moths and moth eggs and has high bacterial efficiency and measured by public health standards is hygienically satisfactory.

Why be satisfied with "less" than Dresler Service when it costs no more? Send us your furs today and enjoy good cleaning—safe cleaning—and efficient service.
