TEORGE GRANTHAM, former who was traded Monday along with Vic Aldridge, pitcher, and First Cubs to the Pittsburgh Pirates for "Rabbit" Marranville, star second baseman, First Baseman Charley Grimm and Pitcher Wilbur Cooper should benefit by the trade.

The Pirates expect to play Gran-tham in right field. It has always been our opinion, and we are not alone, that Grantham's place on a baseball team is in the field. While with the Cubs, George played second and third. He is a good hitter, but isn't much of a fielder on speedy ground balls such as travel through the infield in the major

GRID FAN WANTS TO KNOW WHY LOCKE GETS ALL

FOOTBALL follower of the University of Nebraska, who signs his name, "Just a Football Fan of Nebraska," wants to know why Roland Locke, termed the "fastest human in the state," gets all the publicity, and "Choppy" Rhodes, his teammate, doesn't get

This "football fan of Nebraska" also goes on to say that Rhodes scored a touchdown against Colgate after wending his way through the entire eastern team and running 71 yards. Locke scored a touchdown after running 90 yards.

We happened to see the Nebraska-Colgate game. We saw "Choppy' Rhodes score a touchdown after running 71 yards. Rhodes not only zigzagged his way through the Colgate team, but shook off numerous tack lers, finally breaking away for his Two Colgate players started after Rhodes, but the latter ran to one side of the field until he reached the goal line.

Locke made his 90-yard run without much opposition. He intercepted a Colgate forward pass and before he started to run the whistle sounded for an off-side penalty. Colgate was off-side and Nebraska refused the penalty. Before anyone knew what had happened Locke started running for the goal line. Eddie Tryon took after Locke, but the Nebraskan had such a start that Tryon soon gave

Rhodes has made most of Nebraska's yardage in games played thus far this season. Locke has been handicapped by a pair of bad ankles and has yet to show his "fastest human" stuff on the gridiron at Lin-
