

South-Tech Game on Latter's Field Today Feature Contest Among High Schools

Packers Ready to Meet Speedy Techsters Today

Coach Patton's Boys in Fine Shape After Two Weeks' Rest; No Sick List.

The grid teams of Tech and South High schools meet this afternoon at Tech field in a game which will stamp the winner as probable city champions. Although Central could throw the race into a three-cornered tie by beating the winner of today's battle, this possibility is rather remote.

Comparative scores give Tech the long end of the "dope" today, but South promises to give the Cuming street boys more trouble than these scores would indicate. During scrimmage the last two days, Coach Patton's men have shown more fight and ability than at any time this season. South followers expect Captain Reeves, Olson and Bertacini with their line-tearing ability to more than offset the advantage held by the heavy Maroon forward wall.

Two week's rest has taken every man in the Tech camp with the exception of Prevost off the injured list and Drummond expects to start his strongest lineup today. Charnquist, who has an injured shoulder, will be able to start at quarterback. "Lefty" West, end, will not be able to start on account of ineligibility.

The lineup:
Tech: Garvey, Pankowski, Hanson, Hall, Winston, Short (c), Gibbs, Charnquist, Olsson, Zorn, Heim.
Pos. Tech: Pankowski, Hanson, Hall, Winston, Short (c), Gibbs, Charnquist, Olsson, Zorn, Heim.

Young Strubling, the sensational 19-year-old light heavyweight scrapper, has come back to school, and it is probable that he will play basket ball again this winter. Last year he was the mainstay of his high school team.

Thirteen Teams in Running for State Honors

Packers and Bookkeepers Enter Game With Clean Record—Defeat Means Out of State and City Race.

The Omaha Tech-South Omaha game scheduled for Tech gridiron today promises to be one of the feature contests of the week-end in Nebraska inter-scholastic circles. Defeat in this game will mean elimination from the Omaha city title consideration and removal from the Nebraska High championship race, as neither team has been defeated by a Nebraska team.

Scottsbluff will journey to Crawford, to meet Coach Harold Smith's eleven, which has not been defeated in Nebraska for two years. Fremont will tackle Norfolk and Cambridge must defeat the Curtis aggies to keep its record clear of losses.

Nine high schools dropped from the running last week when they were defeated for the first time this season. Those eliminated were Neligh, Hastings, Curtis Aggies, Nelson, Adams, Blair, West Point, Benkelman and Scottsbluff.

Available records show but 13 teams all victorious in Nebraska competition. The 13 are Lincoln, Omaha Tech, Omaha South, Bayard, South Sioux City, Pender, Wakefield, Fremont, Fairfield, Crawford, Cambridge, Wilber, and Pawnee City.

Four other teams have not been defeated but have been held to tie scores—Ansley, Lexington, Hartington and Verdigris.

Sidney, a team included in the undefeated list last week, should have been removed. North Platte walloped Sidney, 69 to 0. Reports first indicated that Sidney had won.

ST. PAUL PLAYERS LEAVE SEATTLE

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 30.—Baseball players of the St. Paul club who were forced to cancel the remaining series of games with the Seattle Indians for the Class AA championship of the world because of rain, left last night for their homes in St. Paul. Only one game of a postponed series of nine was played, the Saints whipping the Indians, 12 to 4, Sunday.

Jack Renault, Canadian heavyweight who is in line for a fight with Jack Dempsey, some think depends mainly on his left hand. Renault says he learned the use of this fist from Jack Britton, veteran heavyweight. The heavyweight uses it much in the same manner his teacher did in years gone by, shooting it straight to the head and body. The effect on an opponent is that of being hit by a stick. It is not a falling punch, but a series of them brings total destruction.

Wayne to Play Chadron Today

Lincoln, Oct. 30.—Two of the four undefeated teams in the Nebraska college conference must defend their rights to defeatless records this week. Wayne normal, which has yet to register a victory, will travel westward to meet the undefeated Chadron Normal team. Cotner college with victories over Doane and Wayne and a defeat by Hastings on its record, will journey to Peru to meet the all-victorious pedagogues.

Hastings college and Midland college, the two other undefeated teams, will not play conference contests. Hastings has an open date, while Midland must meet Nebraska Wesleyan, member of the North-Central conference.

In additional conference games, Grand Island will play at Doane college and Kearney normal is scheduled to meet York college.

Chadron's, 47 to 0, victory over York featured the program last week. With McKelvie and Garvin in fine form, Chadron rolled up a 27 to 0 lead during the first half.

Peru normal found Doane easy, winning 21 to 0, while Hastings was hard pressed to defeat Kearney normal by a lone touchdown. Midland college was idle. Standings of the teams including games of last week:

Team	G	W	L	Pts	Opp
Hastings	3	0	3	0	0
Peru	2	0	2	0	0
