

Welcome to Omaha!

National Commander James A. Drain

OMAHA extends a hearty welcome to James A. Drain, National Commander of the American Legion. Our welcome, too, goes out to Jim Drain, the man.

Omaha is preparing to entertain the seventh annual Convention of the American Legion in 1925, and we pledge the fullest efforts of everyone in Omaha toward making this Convention the best and biggest American Legion Convention yet held. We will set a mark toward which all future Conventions of the Legion must aim.

In the words of James A. Drain, we pledge this co-operation:

"For God and Country; without partisanship in politics; without intolerance in religion; a business administration for the Legion; in short, a demonstration through the American Legion in every-day American life of precisely the spirit which moved us in the war."

In welcoming Jim Drain, in preparation for the next Legion Convention, Omaha subscribes to this platform.

Mayer James C. Dahman
Omaha Printing Co.
Updike Lumber & Coal Co.

Byrne & Hammer Dry Goods Co.
Tegg Bros. & Morehead
Epstein Lithographing Co.

O. H. Barnettler
Henshaw, Conant and Sanford
Hotels

Nicholas Oil Corporation
Carpenter Paper Co.
Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co.

J. E. Davidson
W. B. T. Belt

