

Police Head Seeks $100,000 Boost in 1925 Appropriation

Commissioner Wants to Install New Pillboxes and Increase Force 25 Per Cent.

Commissioner Henry Dunn will ask the city council for an increase of $100,000 in the police department appropriations for 1925.

If he gets it, he will install new pillbox stations and increase the present police force 25 per cent.

Commissioner Dunn said Monday morning, announcing his plans, "We need 60 more men on the force. At present we have only 250, and they cannot meet the needs. We should have 15 more for traffic duty alone."

Pillbox Most Effective.

"The pillbox system has proven the most effective protective system ever installed. I want to keep it efficient. But it can't be done on the present appropriation of $571,000. We need $100,000 more."

Dunn announced Monday that the present force would be increased by eight men on January 1, whether his request is allowed or not. The eight are all former members of the force who were among the 13 laid off when Dunn took over the department last May.

Those who will be reinstated are: Troopers Heizer, Searle, Bowers, Wray, Wente, Paulsen, Sincich and Victor. The others who were laid off at the same time, but who are not to be taken back, are former Sergt. Joe Dudley and Patrolman Wideman, A. C. Anderson, Graham, Vance and Carter.

"Pillboxes First"—Koutsky.

Commenting on the curtailment of suburban police station service, Mayor Dahlman and Commissioners Koutsky and Hummel agreed that pillbox stations should have precedence over all other expenses in the arrangement of the police budget.

"Pillboxes first," said Commissioner Koutsky. "They must be kept open," declared Commissioner Hummel.

Both commissioners and Mayor Dahlman believed that any shortage in funds due to pillbox station operation should be absorbed from some other branch of the department, instead of being met by an increased police appropriation.

"I am in favor of giving the police department its share of the general fund," said Mayor Dahlman, "and I doubt whether we will increase the appropriation next year. Pillbox stations must be maintained at the highest efficiency."

Burgess Bedtime Stories

Honest work with clever wit Never yet has had to quit Paddy the Beaver.

How Paddy's Pond Was Made Bigger

Paddy the Beaver swam behind Mrs. Paddy over to the dam which made the pond in which was their home. They climbed over the dam. It was a well-built dam. The top was quite a bit above the level of the water. The point at which they climbed over was near one end. Just beyond where they were sitting the dam was a little lower. At this point the water was running from the pond over the dam down to the Laughing Brook below.

"All we have to do is to build the dam higher right there and keep that water from running over," said Mrs. Paddy. "That won't be a very big job. When we get that done and the water is held back, the pond will soon get deeper and will spread out a good deal bigger. When it gets near enough to those aspen trees we must cut for food so that we can work in safety we can make a place in the dam for the extra water to run over. Let's go to work right away."

Paddy sighed. He had thought the work on the dam finished for that year. Then, without a word, he plunged into the water and swam over to the shore, where some sticks were lying. He dragged one of these into the water and then swam with let back toward the dam. Mrs. Paddy was right behind him with another stick.

All the rest of the night they worked. They fastened no time talking. They cut slender saplings growing on the shore of the pond and worked these in with the sticks. They brought brushy branches and used these. They dug up mud from along the foot of the dam and used this. They stuffed in grass roots. Slowly the water stopped running over the dam. It trickled through between the sticks and branches, but as more and more grass roots and mud were stuffed in even this was stopped.

Paddy and Mrs. Paddy worked until they were tired out. Then they went to their house and curled up for a nap in their splendid big bedroom. In the morning when they awoke the first thing they did was to look over to the dam and look it over. The water was already considerably higher in the pond. They swam over to the place where their food trees were growing. The water was nearer to those trees than it had been the night before. They had breakfast there of aspen bark. Then they went back to work on the dam again. It was necessary to get this done as soon as possible, and so they intended to work by day as well as by night.

With her family May 24, 1873. Her family homesteaded two and one-half miles east of Duncan and later 13 miles north of Columbus.

Mr. Becker came here 61 years ago in 1863, from Columbus, O. He was born there July 29, 1842. The trip from Omaha to Columbus, Neb., was made by stage coach. With the exception of three years after he left Ohio, spent working at his trade as shoemaker in Omaha and St. Louis, all the rest of his life has been spent here.

In 1893 he gave up a flour and feed store to become city clerk.

Street Car Jumps Track and Runs Wild After Collision in San Francisco.

By International News Service. San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 24.—A sweeping investigation was being conducted by police and traction officials here today into one of the most spectacular traffic smashups ever recorded in San Francisco following the collision of a crowded street car and a loaded sand truck yesterday which resulted in the injury of thirty persons.

The street car was speeding down grade along Twentieth avenue near Noriega street, when all of a sudden the truck raced across the car tracks. There was a thud and a roar that were heard for blocks as the car crashed into the truck and shot it off the tracks into a nearby waiting station. Both station and truck were reduced to kindling wood. The driver of the truck miraculously escaped injury.

After the crash the street car continued to speed down grade out of control for 300 feet, until it jumped the track and then spun around twice before it came to a stop. In this whirl it demolished a telephone pole and brought down upon the street a mass of live wires. The car was wrecked.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels which he gave to his patients for colic, or gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about the natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.
