

Brookhart Given Iowa Certificate of His Election

State Council Finds He Defeated Steck by 755 Votes; Senator Believes Check Authentic and Final.

By Associated Press.
Des Moines, Nov. 24.—United States Senator Smith W. Brookhart tonight was in possession of the official certificate of election, approved by the state executive council, following the finding of that body today that the senator received 755 more votes in the November 4 elections than did his democratic opponent, Daniel F. Steck.

The election certificate, which entitles the senator to the seat in the United States senate, was issued by Secretary of State W. C. Ramsey late today. Senator Brookhart received it personally, having spent the day at the state capitol building, where the council made its check of the count canvasses.

The official figures in the senatorial contest, as given out by the executive council, were:

Brookhart, 447,706.
Steck, 446,951.

The council's check recorded five more votes for Brookhart than the unofficial figures compiled by the Associated Press.

The check on the senatorial figures was taken up before that on president because of the close race and the fact that a contest will be brought before the senate by Steck. Representative of both Brookhart and Steck were admitted to the room where the council checked the county figures.

While the council was doing its work, Senator Brookhart visited with friends at the state house but was somewhat reticent on congressional matters. He indicated, however, that it was his belief that farm interests would be as strongly championed in the new congress as in the present one.

Of the recent election, Senator Brookhart said he felt certain the check made by the executive council today was authentic and final. A contest by his opponent will only strengthen his own position, Senator Brookhart told friends. He was of the opinion that the number of "raw ballots," claimed by some to be sufficient to throw the election in favor of Steck, was negligible.

The senator leaves for Washington, D. C., on Thursday.

Central Nebraska Editors Hold Meeting at Broken Bow

Broken Bow, Nov. 24.—Forty-five editors and their wives attended the Central Nebraska Press association meeting here. President E. R. Purcell presided. Field Secretary Ole Buck of Harvard led the discussions. Members of the Public Service club were hosts at a noonday luncheon and in the afternoon the editors' wives were entertained by members of the Woman's Public Service club.

Big Blue Crane Killed by Flying Against Wire

Beatrice, Nov. 24.—A mammoth blue crane with a wing spread of more than six feet was killed south of Ellis when it flew against a telephone wire, breaking its neck. It was found by John J. Johnson, a farmer who brought it to Beatrice. After picking it up he discovered it was blind in one eye. Mr. Johnson intends to have the bird mounted.

Evangelistic Meetings Opened at Mission Creek

Table Rock, Neb., Nov. 24.—Rev. Dr. Calhoun of Loveland, Colo., has begun a series of evangelistic meetings at the United Presbyterian church at Mission Creek, which will continue through this week. Rev. J. Russell Dugan is pastor of the church. Meetings will be held each evening except Saturday.

MOTHER! Clean Child's Bowels

"California Fig Syrup" is Dependable Laxative for Sick Children

Hurry, Mother! A teaspoonful of "California Fig Syrup" now will sweeten the stomach and thoroughly clean the little bowels and in a few hours you have a well, playful child again. Even if cross, feverish, bilious, constipated or full of cold, children love its pleasant taste. It never cramps or overacts. Contains no narcotics or soothing drugs. Tell your druggist you want only the genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother, you must say "California." Beware any imitation.

Union Stockyards Opens New Viaduct and Unloading Chutes

The Union Stockyards will today open its new unloading chutes for stock arriving by truck at the Omaha market and its newly completed viaduct, erected at a cost of more than $500,000. The above pictures show the new chutes and the north section of the viaduct. The top picture shows Albert Watumus of Chalco, Neb., ready to unload his stock into the trench pens, where truck stock is held preparatory to being weighed and consigned to a commission merchant. Lower picture gives a view of another section of the chutes, with L. E. Scholing of Springfield, Neb., having his stock checked before unloading. The two loads of stock were the first to be unloaded at the new chutes as well as the first trucks to cross the viaduct.

The north section of the Buckingham road, as the new viaduct will be known, is shown in the center and leads to the L street terminal of the structure. The bridge is 2,700 feet long, with ample space for auto parking. Car service across the bridge will start Wednesday. The building to the right is the old exchange building, which will be razed at the completion of the new building.

Gage County Pioneer Dies on His Farm Near Wymore

Wymore, Nov. 24.—Maurice Kirby, 73, early homesteader west of Wymore and resident of southern Gage county for the past 40 years, died at his farm home four miles west of Wymore late Sunday, after a short illness of heart trouble and complications.

Kirby was born in Ireland, and came to America shortly after the civil war. He settled near Beatrice, and was appointed by John Fitzgerald, manager of his Jefferson county ranch of several thousand acres. Kirby remained in the employ of Fitzgerald, superintending the various tenants and workings of the ranch until most of it was subdivided and sold off in 1882, and in 1884 settled on the farm west of here.

He is survived by his wife and seven children: Alice, of Omaha; Mrs. Joanna Bennett and Miss Jeanette, of Sheridan, Wyo.; and Will, Ed, John and Ella, at home. Burial will be from the St. Mary Catholic church at Wymore, of which he was a staunch member.

Automobile Stolen When Owner Is Serving on Jury

Falls City, Neb., Nov. 24.—George Coon, farmer, living four miles west of here, believes in taking no chances with auto accessory thieves, so when he drove into town to serve on the jury he removed the motor and left it with a mechanic in front of whose store he parked his car. When Coon returned he found the motor, meter where he left it, but the car was gone. It was later found turned over and badly damaged north of town. Several minutes after the theft the jury on which Coon sat found a defendant guilty on a liquor charge, but Coon denied his mood influenced the verdict.

Women's Clubs Unite in Meeting at Stromsburg

Stromsburg, Neb., Nov. 24.—Oncola, Shelby and Polk women's clubs joined the Women's Civics Improvement club of Stromsburg in a meeting called to organize a county federation. Mrs. Paul Perryman, president of the state federation, made an address. Mrs. Frank Fincher of Fairbury, president of the Fourth district, gave a talk on county organization. She was followed by Mrs. Learning of Bradshaw, district vice president. The program was followed by a social hour.

More Stalls to Be Built at Pawnee Fair Grounds

Table Rock, Neb., Nov. 24.—Pawnee County Fair association decided at a recent meeting to enlarge and improve the horse barns at the fair grounds. For many years the accommodations have been entirely inadequate. When the improvements and additions now contemplated are finished there will be 50 box stalls ready for the fast animals expected here next fall.

Twenty-Five New Members Taken Into Wymore Church

Wymore, Nov. 24.—Twenty-five converts were baptized and received into the Christian church at Wymore Sunday afternoon. The service was performed by Rev. E. E. Powell, and was the culmination of a two-weeks' revival meeting conducted by him.

Experts to Talk on Reclamation

Program Issued for Nebraska Irrigation Association Convention.

Bridgeport, Neb., Nov. 24.—Secretary R. H. Willis of the Nebraska State Irrigation association has issued a tentative program for its 15th annual convention, scheduled to meet here December 10, 11 and 12. Every phase of this work is to be discussed by experts, and citizens of Bridgeport, backed by the Lions club, are preparing to entertain the delegates.

Among the topics to be discussed are "Efficient Use of Water," "Sheep Industry With Farming," "Drainage," "Ground Storage," "Is Return Flow Public Water?" "Necessary Legislation," "From Raw Land to Home," "Destructive Insects," "Adequate Farm Loans for Irrigated Land," "Water Power," "North Platte River" and "National Legislation."

Among the speakers are Governor-elect Adam McMullen, Prof. E. P. Wilson of the Chadron Normal school, A. B. Reeves, engineer of the U. S. reclamation service, C. M. McCann, president of the Tri-City Irrigation project; R. H. Willis, secretary of the Nebraska Irrigation association; J. G. Beeler, chairman of the legislative committee; J. A. Holden, superintendent of the experiment station at Mitchell; A. C. Maxson, of the Great Western Sugar company entomologist bureau; James T. Whitehead, president of the Water Users association; C. D. DeCherveyell, vice president of the Central Power company; D. E. Carpenter, Colorado's representative on the Colorado river commission; S. G. Hopkins, interstate river commissioner of Wyoming; and former assistant secretary of the Interior; A. N. Mathers, speaker of the last Nebraska house of representatives, and Lee Bovee, assistant attorney general of Nebraska.

There will be special music by the "Scrap Iron quartet" of Chadron. Mayor Palmer will welcome the delegates and President R. S. Butterfield of the association will respond. Indications are that more than 250 delegates will be present and the meeting promises to be the most important yet held by the association.

Farmer Saves Fish in Watering Tank When Pond Goes Dry

Beatrice, Neb., Nov. 24.—As the large pond on the Alfred Henzel farm, south of Filley, has gone dry because of the prolonged drought, Mr. Henzel, in order to save the fish planted there years ago, gathered them up and placed them in a large watering tank. Farmers in that vicinity are sinking wells, and some of them have gone down nearly 200 feet without securing an adequate supply of water.

POTATO GROWERS PLAN BIG SHOW

Bridgeport, Nov. 24.—The Nebraska Potato show will be held at Gelton on December 3 and 4, and entries from outside the state are expected, premium lists having been sent to Colorado and other states. Judging will be done by expert potato men from the agricultural colleges. A program of discussions on potato culture, with special attention to disease prevention and control, post-graduation, improvement of seed, methods of irrigation, crop rotation and marketing, has been arranged. There will be separate prizes for dry land and irrigated potatoes. The prize money will total more than $700, besides merchandise premiums and silver cups and trophies.

Premiums have been offered for the largest potato, the most perfect type of spud, regardless of size, and for the highest authenticated yield per acre of any variety of spud.

Three Nebraska Boys Win Honors at Military School

Bridgeport, Neb., Nov. 24.—Based on scholastic ability, character, efficiency in military work and general qualities of leadership, 15 students of the Wentworth Military academy at Culver, Ia., were given commissions, and three of these were Nebraska boys. They were H. J. Hanson of Decatur, Alfred Boatman of Morrill and Lewis Denison of Kearney. Boatman lives at Morrill and was commissioned a captain.
