

Cornhuskers Sent Through Brief Signal Drill---Oregon Aggies Arrive Today

Nebraska Team in Good Shape for Final Game Twenty-seven Texas Leaguers Make Debut in Big Show in 1925

Nebraska Team in Good Shape for Final Game

Paul Dobson, Captain of 1919 Eleven, Suits Up to Prepare Huskers for Turkey Day Contest.

INCOLN, Neb., Nov. 24.—Nebraska's first string worked under wraps Monday evening and following a brief signal drill the regulars were sent twice around the field and then to the showers.

Locke was working in the backfield of the first string. Some of the time was devoted to finding a leak in the line which was permitting an Aggie lineman to rush Bloodgood when the latter was punting and drop kicking against Kansas Saturday.

The first attempt failed to show it up as Schlegel broke through and blocked a punt. That gave the situation away, however, and it did not take long to remedy the trouble.

The Oregon Aggies are heading for Lincoln and are due here at 1 p. m. Tuesday. Schissler's eleven has been breaking the long ride with short workouts along the way.

Paul Dobson, captain of the 1919 Nebraska team, who was one of the best of the Cornhuskers' kickers, is here on a vacation from his home in California. He suited up Monday evening. It was Dobson's toe that beat Syracuse on a snow-covered field on Thanksgiving of 1919. He was largely responsible for the scoreless tie of 1918 with Notre Dame when the latter team was full of All-Americans. Dobson was punting every time the Huskers got the ball.

There was a much different spirit extant among the squad members following the Aggie contest than was apparent the Monday following the South Bend game. A cold wind kept everybody moving to keep warm. The Huskers came through the Aggie game without injury.

Western Football Star Throws 50-Yard Forward Passes Easily and Completes Half of Them

HOUSTON STOCKTON, N.Y.

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 24.—Through an air football with the same grace and for the same distance as a baseball, Houston Stockton, star halfback of the Gonzaga university eleven, now stands unchallenged as the master of the forward pass on the Pacific coast.

With the record of completing 41 per cent of his passes, either on the throwing or receiving end, and having missed but two kicks for goal after touchdowns in his three years' experience as a star in the northwestern conference, Stockton represents fully 50 per cent of the strength of the Blue and White eleven.

Pacific coast critics submit him for all-American attention this year, his last on the team. Charlie Paddock recommended him for those honors in 1923. Coach Dorais of Gonzaga states he would not trade him for Gipp, the late Notre Dame star, and Houston Stockton, star halfback of the Gonzaga university eleven, now stands unchallenged as the master of the forward pass on the Pacific coast.

BUTE GRIDSTER CHICAGO CAPTAIN

Chicago, Nov. 24.—Fred M. Henderson, captain of the University of Chicago football team for 1925, Henderson played tackle this season.

With the passing of Bo McMillan, red-robin and center, today was elected captain of the football team has just made his debut and a great deal of his grid work.

20 Years in Sport World From The Omaha Bee Files

At Winner, Neb., last Thursday afternoon the Omaha Bee's college and with defeat at the hands of the Winner eleven. The final score was 10 to 6. The Bee's were considerably out-weighted by the Winner and the latter played a plucky game. Putnam, Miller, Hayden, Fleming, Ivins and Hanson were conspicuous in the game by their brilliant playing.

Chicago—Formal charges of professional were made today by Prof. H. Barton of the University of Illinois against Hugo Bezdek, star fullback of the University of Chicago football team. Barton presented an affidavit signed by the University of Chicago to which Bezdek is charged with being a prize fighter and with having accepted money for playing under the name of "Young Hugo."

New York—Several thousand persons gathered at Madison Square last night to witness the action of Locania, the holder of the world race record for a half mile, the holder of the record of the station race record of 1924 and having a record of 2:03 1/2.

Pueblo—"Kid Texas" champion featherweight of Colorado, knocked out the "Omaha Kid" in the third round here by a right swing to the jaw. The "Omaha Kid" was not in condition.

On the Omaha Bowling association allows last night Captain Huntington and his team started their season practicing for the national bowling tournament, which will be held at the Milwaukee Park Hotel, Milwaukee, Wis., from Feb. 18 to 27. The teams are evenly matched. As they will bowl once a week till the tournament commences, some fine contests are looked for.

The first football game to be played by electric light in Omaha will be staged this evening at the Auditorium. The Commercial College and the Omaha Crook teams will meet and an interesting contest is expected. The Commercial English will engage in a wrestling match, with one fall at the opening of the game. The third game will be at the close of the football game.

Stanford May Meet Notre Dame

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 24.—Reports that Stanford and Notre Dame football eleven would meet in Pasadena in a post-season clash Nov. 29's day were neither denied nor affirmed today by the Tournament of Roses committee which owns the Rose bowl in which Notre Dame has already signed to play. By playing a tie game with California, Stanford, it was said, was regarded as a more logical opponent for the South Bend team than the University of Southern California, which suffered two upsets during the season.

Pittsburgh Harriers Win

New York, Nov. 24.—Pittsburgh university harriers sprung a surprise in winning the inter-collegiate cross-country run over the six-mile route here this afternoon. Harvard was the second and Syracuse winner for the last three years, third in team scoring.

MacCauley Smith of Yale was the individual winner, finishing in 31 minutes, 24 seconds. Hillman of Maine was second, and Marlers of Georgetown, third, the latter barely nosing out Schmidt of Columbia for the position.

The Syracuse team won the inter-collegiate freshman cross-country race over the three-mile route.

His record reveals nine successive passes for 83 yards against W. S. C. in 1923, with 17 completed in that game for 225 yards. He made five successive completed passes for 84 yards against that team this year.

This is ordinary passing for this 180-pound back, the Gonzaga records show. Against West Virginia at Pasadena last year he made four straight passes for 85 yards and two touchdowns.

Stockton's passing game has played Gonzaga and Spokane on the football field. Through his triple threat ability the Bulldogs defeated Washington State and Multnomah and tied Idaho in the first three games played of the year. He captains the team, does the punting, and often kicks 45 to 50 yards and downs the receiving runner within five yards, for he is fast in scrimmage. As he is a baseball star, that ability has been worked into his gridiron game by Coach Gus Dorais.

As a kicker he averages 39 yards for the three years—not a phenomenal record, but above the average. But he has been the star of first mention in every game he has played, which has been every game on the schedule. Stockton hails from Parma, Idaho, and after attending Santa Clara, in California, came to Gonzaga.

14 of Lone Star Players Slug Pill at 300 Clip

Both New York, Brooklyn Clubs Ignore Talent From Doak Roberts Circuit—Weiss Heads List.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Twenty-seven players who have received their first lessons in baseball in Texas will go up to the major league clubs next spring for their add test. In the number, which is larger than usual, will be found 14 players who have batted .300 or better last season.

Both the New York and Brooklyn have ignored the playing talent from the Lone Star state, apparently satisfied to take their talent from other recruits. Last season the Texas products, especially Ike Boone of the Red Sox, and Al Simmons of the Athletics, grabbed safe jobs for themselves despite loss of competition.

Included in the list of men who have been drafted or sold to the fast set are the league's leading hitter, Art Weiss, who wound up the recent National league season playing in the outfield for the Cubs. That Weiss will be a big league star seems to be the opinion of the critics who saw him in action.

Another star who will try his hand in the big tent is Jack Knight, the leading pitcher in the Roberts loop, who made the spring training trip last season with the Cardinals, only to get back to the Texas league, landing with the Houston club. For the Buffaloes he was found for only 79 earned runs, an average of 2.3 per game.

The Phillies will give Knight the once over in the spring.

Only two of the champion Fort Worth team will go up for major league tests. They are Eavesner, the Panthers' shortstop, who hit .235 and was rated as the best man at his post in the circuit, and Blischoff, the catcher, who will help out in the White Sox backstop department. His batting average for the season was .305.

Connie Mack, who seems determined to have some hitting power on his club, drafted Bill Bagwell, the slugger of the loop, and French, the former West Point football player, who was with Shreveport for two seasons. The former posted up a batting mark of .367, while the ex-grid star hit for .300.

Chick Hafey, who apparently has made good in the Cardinal outfield, brought the highest price ever obtained for a player in the Texas loop, hit only 6 points better than Vacco, who goes from Dallas to the Red Sox. The players who will go higher up

AT THE THEATERS

American choral aggregations of every style and form have attempted the superb "Song of the Volga Boatmen" with indifferent success. Why? Because only Russians can give full meaning and understanding to music so distinctively their own. Only Russians can give the supreme glory to this, a glory that comes not from notes or words, but from far down in the human heart; from the tragic strain that is a part of every Russian. This and other music, song and dance of pre-war Russia are beautifully given by the Imperial Russian Players, at the Orpheum this week, who are vividly portraying the art of their native theater, with its rich, colorful atmosphere, its piquancy and its agreeable sharpness of flavor.

Busy Fighter

York, Neb., Nov. 24.—"Rusty" Evans, clever York lightweight box-fighter, is one of the busiest miffen slingers in the state. "Rusty" has engaged in more ring battles this year than any other Nebraska fighter with the possible exception of Morrie Schaffer of Omaha.

Late this month he is scheduled to fight in Iowa. His last fight in Nebraska was at Norfolk where he fought "Battling" Strayer to a referee's draw decision, although many at the ringside were of the opinion that Evans won handily.

Extra! Wells Wins

London, Nov. 24.—Bombardier Wells, former British and European heavyweight champion, is attempting a comeback. Making his first appearance in the ring in several years, Wells knocked out Guardsman Penwell in the second round of a 15-round match at Hoxton Baths.
