

WAS CLEARED IN BRITISH CASE

London Jury Absolves Mrs. Robinson From Conspiracy Against Indian Potentate.

By International News Service. London, Nov. 28.—Beautiful Mrs. Maude Robinson, whose illicit love affair with the unnamed Indian potentate cost him $750,000 blackmail, was cleared this afternoon of participation in the conspiracy.

After an hour and 15 minutes of deliberation the jury of 10 men and two women found the prince, designated as "Mr. A." for reasons of state, had been victimized, but that Mrs. Robinson and her husband, Charles Ernest Robinson, were not involved in the conspiracy.

Lord Justice Darling, the trial judge, after receiving the verdict of the jurors, sent the mback to consider whether the checks the prince signed were properly endorsed and deposited to the benefit of Robinson.

The case went to the jury at 3:25 and returned its verdict at 4:40. The jury was to decide (1) whether a conspiracy existed to muck "Mr. A." and (2) if so who were the conspirators.

The report of the jury was that there has been a conspiracy because the prince signed two checks in blank when found in a Paris hotel room with Mrs. Robinson. The jury decided he had signed the checks "involuntarily and through fear."

Robinson sued the Midland bank, one of England's most powerful financial institutions, for $25,000, a part of the blackmail money which the alleged the bank had negligently paid to others on checks to which his name was forged. The bank contended he was not entitled to the money because it was the proceeds of a plot in which the bank alleged Robinson was a party.

SUBSTITUTED STAGE MUTINY

Three Doctors Killed in Insurrection at Khartoum Hospital.

By International News Service. London, Nov. 28.—Two platoons of the Sudanese troops at Khartoum mutinied today, attacked the Khartoum hospital and killed three doctors, one of whom was of the British medical corps and two Syrians, according to a Daily Express dispatch from Cairo.

British forces turned their guns on the mutinous troops and quelled the uprising, the dispatch stated.

The mutineers, who have been responsible for recent disorders in the native forces, were of the left wing of the Sudanese. Two other platoons were believed to have been ready to mutiny.

Cairo, Egypt, Nov. 28.—Twelve more persons were taken into custody this morning and the police expect to detain 35 in all as a precautionary measure.

Four prominent members of the Egyptian nationalist party with whom former Premier Zagloul Pasha is identified were arrested by the British authorities in Cairo yesterday and later turned over to the Egyptian government.

Official quarters in London last night were quoted as declaring that the men arrested, two of whom were members of the Zagloul ministry, were leaders in a conspiracy against British interests. Following the recent assassination of the sirdar, Sir Lee Stack, it was said a network of plots had been discovered, menacing the lives of British officials of all ranks in Egypt.

Trial Bares Plot to Get $1,500,000 From Indian Prince

RAJAH HURRI SINGH, PRINCE OF JAMMU-KASHMIR & MAHARAJAH OF DRAHAPORE

Although for reasons of state the name of the Indian potentate who signed two checks, each for $750,000, when trapped by blackmailers in a Paris hotel room with Mrs. Maude Robinson, wife of an English bookmaker, has been suppressed, it is openly reported in London he is the Rajah Hurri Singh, son and heir of Sir Pertab Singh, maharajah of Jammu-Kashmir, India's wealthiest ruler. One check for $750,000 was cashed, but the stopped payment on the other. The young rajah, who was said to have had $6,000,000 in cash in the bank at the time, was recently married to his present wife, the Princess Jammu-Kashmir, daughter of the maharajah of Drahapore, another of the wealthiest rulers of India.

"Lifers" Try Making Merry At State Prison, But Realism Is Triumphant Over Burlesque Show

Three steel doors clanked shut, and as if in defiance to these barriers to liberty an orchestra composed entirely of convicts struck up a lively, jazzy tune.

The audience of several hundred persons which had filed through the corridors of the penitentiary to the steel-enclosed auditorium attempted to be merry. It was Thanksgiving night. There was every reason to be merry. They had come to be entertained.

Synopsis Hints Lock Step. Yet there was little merriment. Armed guards with stern visages and watchful eyes could be observed at strategic points throughout the enclosure. The temperature hovered about 70, yet there seemed to be a chill. Even the synopsation of the convict musicians hinted of the lock step.

The curtain rose. Four burly figures, disguised with burnt cork, were assembled about a sleek, youth in a military show order. They smiled, but their smiles were not convincing. They cracked jokes, some original and smart, and the audience laughed loudly, but not heartily. They sang and capered, but their voices lacked the lilting quality and their dancing lacked spontaneity.

"Jack" Lawson, the youth who shot his young wife and was sentenced to the penitentiary for life, was one of the singers. His smile was a fixed smile. His eyes were expressionless. He sang with the manner of the professional roadshow entertainer. The Lawson trial in Omaha was a narrative of underworld intrigue.

"They're all life 'termers," whispered someone. Huddled in a corner of the auditorium were women prisoners, pale creatures, some of high school age. Their laughing, when they did laugh, carried a note of hysteria.

"Mostly how heads, those girls," whispered someone. "The Cottage Minstrels." The curtain fell for the last time. Warden Fenton's dramatic club had finished presenting "The Cottage Minstrels." There had not been a serious line in the entire production, yet it seemed the most dramatic, the most tragic entertainment ever presented.

The audience, mostly well-to-do Lincoln men and women, filed quietly through the half-open steel gates, under the watchful surveillance of prison guards. Conversation was subdued.

A faint noise beneath the floor of the auditorium told a story. The actors were returning to their cells. It was a burlesque show, but realism had triumphed.

ALLEGED TO QUIL PASTOR AND SON

Prosecutor Seeks to Clear Up Discrepancies in Stories.

By International News Service. Columbus, O., Nov. 28.—Rev. C. V. Sheatsley, who filed his 16-year-old son, Clarence, will be questioned today by the prosecuting attorney in the mysterious death of Mrs. Addie Sheatsley, the minister's wife, whose charred remains were found in the parsonage furnace nearly two weeks ago, King announced.

The prosecutor this morning said immediately to the Sheatsley home in Lexington to transport the minister and his son to King's office in the courthouse here.

It was said the minister and his son would be interrogated concerning certain discrepancies in their stories of the circumstances surrounding the finding of Mrs. Sheatsley's body in the furnace. King did not reveal what points he would seek in bringing out in the examination today but indications were the questioning would be of an exhaustive nature and that the examination might extend over a long period.

Besides King and the alienist, Detectives Harry Carson and James Crendon were to be present at the examination of the two Sheatsleys.

OMAHA MAY BE HOUSE SPEAKER

The forthcoming session of the state legislature may break precedents by naming a Douglas county member as speaker. James A. Rodman of Omaha is being mentioned among others. He was chairman of the judiciary committee in the legislature during 1921 and served as speaker pro tem. During his previous service as a legislator he represented Kimball, Cheyenne, Banner, Deuel and Garden counties.

On November 4 he was elected as representative of the Eighth legislative district, receiving the highest vote of any republican candidate in the district. George S. Staats of Fremont and M. M. Wildman of York are also being mentioned in connection with the house speakership.

Coast Bootleggers "Who's Who"

San Francisco, Nov. 28.—A new "Who's Who" directory of California, which among various things will list the names, aliases, addresses and other information of every known bootlegger in the state, is being compiled by the federal prohibition forces under the direction of Samuel Rutter, prohibition director. It was learned here today.

The book will not be for public circulation.

REVERSE RKS MUDGE, HE SAYS

Federal Judge Tells Elmer Thomas He Is Greatly Disappointed.

Elmer Thomas, prohibition director for Nebraska, returned from a conference at Minneapolis, where directors for five states gathered to discuss the enforcement of prohibition laws.

While in Minneapolis Thomas conferred with Federal Judge McGehe, who was given quite a setback when the circuit court of appeals' recent decision means the liberation of some 50 defendants he had sent to jail.

"Of course," Judge McGehe was greatly disappointed," said Thomas, "but he had hopes that the government would appeal from the decision of Judge Munger, who decreed that Judge McGehe erred when he sentenced 70 men and women to serve their terms consecutively instead of concurrently."

"Does Judge McGehe desire to return to Omaha?" Thomas was asked. "Well, I don't know," said Thomas. "He likes Omaha and he is a mighty fine jurist."

JAYWALKERS TOO NUMEROUS HERE

Detroit Police Official Expresses Wonder at so Few Pedestrians Hit.

Omaha has more "jaywalkers" than any city of the same size in the United States, according to a visitor who should know.

He is Lieut. George Ellis of the traffic bureau of the Detroit police, who was in Omaha Friday morning to visit Police Commissioner Henry Dunn.

"It's a wonder that dozens of pedestrians aren't struck every day in Omaha," he told Commissioner Dunn. "Everyone seems to go where he likes, when he likes, and how he likes. Omaha should have a campaign of education for pedestrians."

Dunn said he would investigate conditions, and plan some action to remedy the situation.

Lieutenant Ellis praised highly the Omaha parking regulations and auto traffic control.

SALESMAN'S RITES TO BE AT VALLEY

Funeral services for William E. Weekly, 55, well known traveling man through this territory for 35 years, who died Thursday at his home in Valley, Neb., will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. at Valley. Services at the grave will be under the auspices of the Masons.

Mr. Weekly was a resident of Valley for 50 years. He was western representative for the Sayres-Scoville company of Cincinnati, manufacturers of funeral limousines. He was a member of Scottish Rite Masons and of the local temple of Shriners.

He is survived by seven children and two half brothers, Albert and Ned Burke.

Representative Longworth expressed the belief the house would dispose of the eleven appropriation bills before the Christmas recess, making it fairly certain that all of the supply bills would be passed before March 4.

ROAD GIVEN STAY ON TAX PAYMENT

Federal Judge J. W. Woodruff Friday restrained the state of Nebraska from collecting the 1924 tax from the Missouri Pacific and North-western railroads and set December 3 as the date for hearing on the action brought by the roads that the state tax was too excessive.

ADVERTISEMENTS

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germs.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist, Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.
