By MORLEY CASSIDY Those who go to church this Sunay will make two Christmases grow where one grows on the calendar-It will be only an illusion, of course, but it will be very close to reality, for this Sunday is Christmas to all the intents and purposes of choirs, organists and ministers.

Scarcely any Christian church in the city will let the day pass without some sort of an extraordinary musical service, for all the candles and tinsel and red paper bells in the world cannot express the spiritual significance of the day so well as music.

Among the more ambitious offerings of the day are two cantatas to be presented at the First Christian church and at Benson Methodist church, and programs at Immanuel Baptist, Dundee Presbyterian and Calvary Baptist churches.

"Babe of Bethlehem."

"The Babe of Bethlehem." a Christmas cantata by Harvey Gaul, will be presented by the choir of First Christian church. Twenty-sixth and Harney streets, at the regular service at 7:30 p. m. this Sunday.

The choir is under the direction of Mrs. Carol Marhoff Pitts, and will be assisted in the production by Miss Virginia Mulholland, harpist, and Miss Marie Uhlig, chimes. Einar Andreassen will be the organist. Soloists will be Mr. Oliver, H. E. Bennett, Mrs. Frank E. Seeley, Mrs. Ida Hauck Huston, Mrs. Richard C. Meissner, Mrs. Charlotte Maxwell Cobbey, F. F. Pitts, James A. Knight and Miss Marjorie Jones.

A program of Christmas music will also be given at the church at the norning service at 11 a. m.

The choir of Benson Methodist church will present another cantata. "The Herald Angels," by Carrie B. Adams, at the regular service at 7:30 p. m., with a program of Christmas music at the service at 11 a. m. Soloists in the production will be Harold H. Thom, Mrs. George Vodicka, George A. Schwartz, Mrs. F. O. Arnholz, Mrs. R. C. Mueller, Mrs. Arthur H. Adams, Mrs. Carl B. Crisman and Wyman Woodyard. The quartet is composed of Irene Pierce, Dorothy Babcock, Uryman Woodyard and Verne Lessard. The choir is under the direction of Harold H. Thom. Roma Roth will be at the organ.

Organ Recital.

The choir of Immanuel Baptist church, Twenty-fourth and Pinkney streets, will give a program of Christmas music at the church at 7:30 p. m., with a brief organ recital by Mrs. Dessauer, Mrs. R. A. Sallander, Mrs. by Mozart, Flagler, Finden, McDer Earl Kelso, Mrs. James F. Oglesby,

Two programs of Christmas music will be offered by the choir and solosts of Dundee Presbyterian church, themes, at the regular service at 11 a. m. and at vespers at 5 p. m. The quartet "Never Say Die" Has soprano and director; Gertrude Aiken Slabaugh, contralto; Will McCune enor, and Dr. John Dindinger, bass. Miss Lela Turner is the organist.

A Christmas musical will be pre sented at 7:30 p. m. by the choir of quartet of First Presbyterian This quartet is composed of Louise Jansen Wylie, soprano; Mrs. Verne Miller, contralto; Mr. Carlson, tener, and Mr. Hobbs, bass. Mrs. Howard Kennedy will open the pro gram with a short organ recital. The program is under the direction of Carl Helgren.

All the old favorites-"Good King Wenceslas," "We Three Kings o Orient Are," "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing." and the like-will be included in the program of the great carol service in which 28 Omaha and Council Bluffs choirs will take part at First Presbyterian church next

The service will undoubtedly be one of the most impressive musical offerings of the season in Omaha, for 500 singers will be included in the choruses and a stringed orchestra of 16 pieces will support the organ in the accompaniment.

Novaes, pianist, in recital at the Brandels theater, January 4, will be the first musical event of importance in Omaha following the weeks of concentrated effort on Christmas music. Aside from her noteworthy artistry, Madame Novaes is one of the most interesting artists in the musical world because of her remarkable career. Recognized as a genius when she was still a child, the Brazilian government sent her to France to flapper roles with which she has been complete her education. Edmund Lowe in "The Bras Bowl," is the feature photoplay offering at the Empress for the week This is the second picture that William Fox has produced with Lowe in the stellar role, and it has from advance reports all the mystery, ac tion and love interest that film fans prefer in a picture. The story is of the extraordinary adventures of a wealthy bachelor re sulting from his close physical resemblance to a master crook. Mistaken identity is given several new and surprising twists and the hero falls in love with what seems to be a wicked girl crook, who finally turns out to be someone else.

The picture is a screen version by Thomas Dixon, jr., of the popular novel by Louis Joseph Vance. Claire Adams has the leading feminine role in the film. The fourth story of the "Go-Getter" series is an added attrac
