CELLAR LOOTED;

"Tuck" Long, a local character, was of approximately $7,900 by several men who seized his money bag on a filed by William Scharf, charging that on the night of December 10 or 11. Long broke into his cellar and stole a part of the contents, one principal item of which a quantity of home-made beer.

Long has given bond, following a hearing, and it is said the trial will disclose that prior to the alleged burglary, Long and several companions visited the Scharf home and purchased beer, going into the cellar when the beer was sold and locating the supply. That same night, so the story goes, the basement was broken open and all the assortment taken.
