

Typhoid Trace Found in Body of McClintock

Experts Report Result of First Examination Ordered by Authorities of Cook County.

The number of visitors to McClintock's bedside were cut down when the malady diagnosed as typhoid fever reached a critical stage. Dr. Stolp said, but Miss Pope was specially exempted from that order.
Dr. Stolp informed the authorities that he had requested the parents of Miss Pope to refrain from calling at the McClintock home at meal times, because the nurses "objected to the work involved in feeding other persons." The orders, he added, were issued to keep the nurses contented.

Heard No Dispute.

Dr. Stolp gave a minute account of the young millionaire's illness and death. He said that he was present at McClintock's bedside from the late afternoon of December 3 to 2:30 of the morning of December 4, when McClintock died. Miss Pope, he said, was there on the afternoon of December 3, when her fiancé lay in the coma which preceded his death, but that he had overheard no dispute between the girl and the Shepherds regarding a marriage license.
"McClintock had been unconscious for more than a week," Dr. Stolp said. "I ordered him put on a liquid diet on November 23 and I suppose that order was followed."

Typhoid Germs.

One of the theories which the state's attorneys are considering is that McClintock's death may have been induced or hastened by the administration of solid food to the typhoid patient, which is often "as fatal as poison."
Judge Olson also intimated that the investigation is considering the possibility that McClintock may have been inoculated with typhoid germs after he was taken ill with influenza.
"High medical authority says that typhoid germs are as easily obtainable as pistols," Judge Olson declared.
The plans of the state's attorney's office are to question Shepherd immediately on his arrival here from Albuquerque, N. M., shortly before noon tomorrow. Mrs. Shepherd, it was learned, is not accompanying her husband as the legal investigation into her ward's death has augmented her nervous condition which verged on collapse when McClintock was buried.

Taxicab Smashed by Train; Four Occupants Unharmed

Auto, Tram Collide.

G. E. Curtis, Star route, reported to Council Bluffs police that his automobile had collided with a street car Thursday evening at Forty-fourth street and Broadway. The machine hit the car a glancing blow and damage was slight.

Bluffs Judge Who Sentenced Youth 25 Years Says Law to Blame, Not He

O. D. Wheeler Receives Letters Denouncing Him for Act; Believes Warmest Friends Now Look Askance at Him; 'Scolded' at Public Meetings; Worried.

The life of a judge is not always smooth.
A few weeks ago, District Judge O. D. Wheeler in Council Bluffs sentenced a youth, Jay Graham, to 25 years imprisonment for robbing a filling station man of $20 at the point of a revolver.
The youth escaped from the train on which a deputy sheriff was taking him to the Anamosa reformatory.
He is free while Judge Wheeler suffers.
The judge has received letters denouncing him for imposing the drastic sentence against the young confessed robber.
He thinks his warmest friends look askance at him.
At social and public gatherings he has been taken aside and "scolded" for sending "this poor lad" to spend a quarter of a century in prison. Jay

Graham has assumed the figure of a hero in the public mind, an honest corn-shucker who stole only to get enough money to go to his home in Missouri.
The judge, who loves friends and has many of them, is worried. He has talked with them, showing that he had no choice in the matter. The law says that "any person who, with force and violence, or by putting in fear or if armed with a dangerous weapon, shall take from the person of another any property, shall be imprisoned in the penitentiary for a term of 25 years."
Graham was captured quickly after he robbed Harry Finney at the filling station. He promptly pleaded guilty. Judge Wheeler says it was his duty to impose the sentence and then it was "up to" the pardon board to take suitable action.

MRS. RHINELANDER SEEKING ALIMONY

White Plains, N. Y., Dec. 26.—Counsel for Alice Jones Rhineland, today sought before Supreme Court Justice Tomkins, $350 a month temporary alimony for her client, pending trial of the suit brought by her husband, Leonard Kip Rhineland, to annul their marriage of last October 14.

The annulment suit is based on charges that young Mrs. Rhineland and her parents fraudulently represented her to be of white blood, whereas she was part negro.
The young wife's attorneys said that although Rhineland already possessed $50,000 in property, and was prospective heir to some millions, his income was only $18,000 a year, of which he spent $3,000.
Counsel for Rhineland protested that $200 a month would be ample alimony.
During the hearing, which closed with a decision reserved, Rhineland's attorneys declared he had not lived with his wife since November 20.

Iowan Has Successful Hunting Trip in Canada

Eagle Grove, Ia., Dec. 26.—George Jones, a Wright county citizen, has just returned from a hunting trip in Alberta, Canada. Among the trophies he brought are carcasses of a 1,100 pound bull moose and a deer and the pelts of a wolf and a number of other wild animals.
Leaving St. Paul on the Soo he traveled 925 miles northwest to Edmonton, Alberta, where he made his headquarters to the home of George and Roy Bromm, former residents of Iowa.
This part of Alberta is probably the best large game hunting ground left in America.

It may be had taste to laugh out loud but it's a sure sign of good digestion.

Drenching Rains Delay Spanish Fliers in Raids

Aviators Unable to Control Rebellious Territory; Attacking Battalions Have Been Considerably Reduced.

By Associated Press.
Tetuan, Morocco, Dec. 26.—Drenching rains during Christmas prevented the Spanish aviators carrying out raids over the territory where rebellious Moorish troops have concentrated north of Tetuan. Large forces of Spaniards, stationed in Tetuan and vicinity since the retirement of the troops from Chetuan, enjoyed a comparative tranquillity.
Battalions Reduced.
The battalions have been considerably reduced in numbers owing to the returns to Spain of soldiers who have served in Morocco. Other units have been sent back to the Melilla zone. A complete reorganization of the occupying forces is taking place under the supervision of Gen. Primo Rivera, the Spanish military dictator. Various battalions, which have been depleted, have been merged into a single battalion under the command of a major, instead of a lieutenant colonel, as heretofore, thus leaving about a dozen of the latter officers free to return to the peninsula to take over other commands.
Forts Abandoned.
Behind the newly formed line, stretching from Tetuan to Tangier, most of the former Spanish forts have been abandoned. This obviates the necessity of frequent convoys and leaves the flying columns under General Sazo and Colonel Franco free to operate in the work of suppressing uprisings among the natives. The tribesmen at the present moment are showing a disposition to submit, although several groups still maintain hostile activities in the neighborhood of Zoco-el-Telata.

Around Tetuan and in the city itself, have gathered numbers of civilian Spaniards who retired with the troops from Chetuan and other places in the south, where they were engaged in business and truck gardening. Most of these hope that when the country is pacified they will be able to resume their various occupations. They assert that the Nifians and other tribes usually displayed a friendly attitude toward them, engaging freely in business transactions.
Spaniards Become Rich.
During their long sojourn in Morocco, many of the Spanish business men and truck gardeners became somewhat prosperous and lived easier lives than before they emigrated from Spain. At the moment they are suffering some privation because they have been deprived of their occupations, and some, who do not possess the means to return to Spain, are in a rather precarious situation. They fear that, even if they could return to the home country, they would not be able to find employment.

WENSTRANDS ARE CONTENT IN JAIL

Shenandoah, Ia., Dec. 26.—Carl and Eliot Wenstrand, formerly of the Farmers Mortgage & Loan company, who were brought back from Red Rider, Ia., on embezzlement and larceny charges, are reconciled to spending the Christmas holidays in the Page county jail. They are making the best of the situation by reading the latest periodicals and magazines and daily newspapers.
The two brothers, once prominent citizens of Shenandoah, are satisfied, it is said, to remain in jail and are not seeking bail. They realize if they gain their freedom in Page county, Fremont county officers are waiting for them. Their case may come up for hearing at the January term of court which convenes January 6.
Mrs. Carl Wenstrand made her husband an extended visit Saturday. She seemed to be reconciled, more so now than when her husband was first arrested in the southland.

MOTORIST KILLED BY PASSING CAR

Tracks of Dinosaur Discovered in Rocks in South Dakota Quarry

Vermillion, S. D., Dec. 26.—The dinosaur, tremendous, reptile-like animal, roamed over western South Dakota thousands of years ago, according to W. H. Over, curator of the University of South Dakota museum, who bases his opinion on the appearance of fossil tracks of the dinosaur, which have been quarried out of hard sand-rock in Chester county.
The dinosaur was about 50 feet in length, of which two-thirds consisted of a long slim tail, which acted as a balance as the animal walked with its hind feet and used its small front feet only to feed itself. The hind toes had a spread of 12 inches, it is said, and the tracks were very much like those of a huge bird.
As far as known, this is the first evidence of this type of dinosaur found in this state, and it is hoped that further research will reveal a skeleton buried in the same kind of rock formation, which is known as "lower cretaceous."

NEW DELAY ASKED IN TRAM HEARING

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee.
Lincoln, Dec. 26.—Postponement of the hearing on the petition of the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company for an increase in fares, originally set for January 13, is requested in a letter received by the state railway commission Friday from W. L. Lambert, corporation counsel for the city of Omaha.
Lambert says he has been ill and that his physicians will not allow him to leave the hospital until late in January. After that, he says, he has been ordered to go to a warmer climate for a month. He asks that the hearing be held late in February.
Thorne A. Brown, a member of the commission, said the commission would probably accede to the request.

MURDER VERDICT GIVEN BY DOCTORS

Nebraska City, Neb., Dec. 26.—Physicians who performed a post-mortem examination Thursday on the body of Carl Albright announced that he had been killed by a blow on his head before his body was burned in his automobile two miles north of Plattsmouth Wednesday.
A murder is indicated, doctors say, by his broken neck, a deep contusion on the back of the head, and the fact that his lungs were badly burned. They believe that this shows he was still alive when he was thrown into the burning car, and that he breathed the fire into his lungs.

POWDER BLAST FELT 15 MILES

Scranton, Pa., Dec. 26.—The powder house of the Underwood colliery of the Pennsylvania Coal company of Oilphant, exploded today, damaging several houses in the neighborhood and breaking every window within a radius of two miles. The Underwood is one of 12 collieries shut down by an outlaw strike of miners.

Four Face Trial for Part in Riot

Bills for Assault Are Found Against Participants in Fracas at Missouri Valley.

Missouri Valley, Ia., Dec. 26.—When Judge J. S. Deyell opens court at Logan January 5 he will have one case of considerable interest locally in the trial of Harold Culavin, Jesse Burkett, Roney Carpenter and Nate Bernstein on a charge of assault growing out of the riot here last June when Roy Grauel of Council Bluffs and Rev. Mr. McKay of Logan, Klan organizers, were taken from a hall here and escorted out of town.
In all 24 men were arrested, among them bankers and professional men, the majority of whom were war veterans. Twelve were freed at a preliminary hearing before Judge Cadwell of Logan and the other 12 waived preliminary hearing and were bound over to the grand jury in September on charges of rioting, assault with intent to commit murder and larceny.
The grand jury found bills for assault against the four men named. Bernstein, one of the men named, has since moved to Denison, where he is in business. He is a son of Harry Bernstein of Omaha and served in Russia and Siberia during the war.

Man Lives 56 Years After Being Scalped by Indians in Kansas

Table Rock, Dec. 26.—News has reached here of the death of Allen Edwards at his home at Waukomis, Okla., at the age of 74. For many years the Edwards family lived on the Dan McClure farm some six miles northwest of Table Rock. They moved to Oklahoma several years ago.
In 1868 Mr. Edwards, then a boy of 18, was stung by a blow from an Indian war club and scalped and left for dead on Walnut creek near Great Bend, Kan., by a band of roving Indians, when these savages attacked a wagon train. His hair never grew again and he wore a wig to cover the unsightly scar.
Few victims of Indians in pioneer days were as lucky as Mr. Edwards.

Probe of School Fire Is Planned

Total of 33 Lives Lost When Christmas Candle Ignites Waste Paper.

Hobart, Okla., Dec. 26.—With the list of identified dead placed at 33, 20 others in hospitals, several of whom are expected to die; this community was preparing today for an inquiry into the school fire which turned Christmas eve from a night of joy to a night of horror.
One family of three thought to have attended the fatal exercises in the country school was found yesterday at home. They had not gone to the schoolhouse.
An all day search through the ruins of the school house and a farm-to-farm check failed to disclose any additional missing persons or bodies.
Plans were completed this morning for the holding of a joint funeral service tomorrow over the bodies of 16 of the dead. Private funerals probably will be held for the other 17.
