Those assisting Mrs. Harlan keep alive the spark of genuine interest in things far removed from these. The vigor and dash of his wa ter colors must have offended the public of his day. They hold their own today among things much more modern in feeling.

Even his bitterest critics give Homer credit for being very sincere and for an "instinct for sedulous la bor." Another says of him that he mentally, and that he was one of the greatest painters of his generation. Limited as these compliments are we must admit that he rose high above the mediocrity that characterized the art of his time and that in the later phases of his work he made a definite contribution to art which we may see and enjoy in the present exhibition.

The Logic of Thrift

· THE INSTRUMENT OF THE IMMORTALS

THRIFT is seldom a matter of denial. It is rather the effect of a well-considered plan of expenditure, a plan that insures the greatest advantage and return to the buyer. A common proverb of the thrifty is that the best is always the cheapest in the end, and the purchase of a Steinway conclusively proves its truth. For the Steinway pays a dividend every day of your life. It returns, in full measures of pleasure and delight and in its amazing durability, infinitely more than is represented by its price. It will become a permanent member of your family. You need never buy another piano.

Any new Steinway piano may be purchased with a small cash deposit and the balance will be extended over a period of two years. Used pianos accepted in partial exchange Prices, $875 and Up
