

Miss Evelyn Dunn of New York, introduces a new idea for Skis at Lake Placid, N. Y., where the winter sports season has set in in earnest. Miss Dunn is attired in a real Eskimo costume, making sure of keeping out the chill winter blasts of Northern New York. —Wide World.

The first ice boating of the year at Mystic Lake, Medford, Mass., famous for its ice-boating contests every year. —Wide World.

A section of Springfield, Illinois that was in the path of the terrific December sleet storm which did property damage that is estimated at $4,000,000. —Wide World.

Left to right: The Misses Hazel Babcock, Doris Roberts and Carmen Longman, art students at the University of Omaha, wearing their hand-painted goloshes, which faded they started and which has taken the western city by storm. —Wide World.

Signora Alisa Galantini Mani, a native of Italy who now lives in Brazil with her tresses which measure five feet, ten inches, indeed an oddity in these days of bobs and shingles. —Wide World.

This Cleans The Hair as nothing else can do

WHETHER your hair is bobbed or long, rinse it with lemon juice next time you wash it—and note the difference in the hair—how clean it feels, how much prettier it looks.

Only hair so rinsed is really sweet and clean.

Ask beauty parlors to use lemon when they wash your hair.

You'll like the look—you'll like the feeling of your hair.

Get a dozen lemons now and keep them handy for this purpose.

California lemons, practically seedless and high in acid content are best for the rinse.

The juice of two lemons to an ordinary wash-bowl full of water is the recipe.

The lemon cuts a soap sord that a shampoo always leaves. Ordinary rinsing, even if repeated with plain water, doesn't take it out.

"I always have a lemon rinse after a shampoo. It is the only way to really clean the hair."

Kathleen Keef

Write her for the recipe. It is the only way to really clean the hair.
