Prominent in Clubdom

Mrs. J. F. Dimick is one of the most prominent figures in Omaha clubdom. She has an executive record that few have equaled.

At present she is president of Omaha Drove No. 1, B. P. O. Does, and the fact that she is president of the accompanying detail incident to running a successful organization takes much of her time.

In addition she is leader for the American Home department of the Omaha Woman's club, with its 42 members, who gather each two weeks in each other's homes.

As past president Mrs. Dimick is interested and active in the work of the Liberty star chapter, O. E. S., Kensington club.

It was in this organization that her opportunities as an executive really opened, and she rose from a secretaryship, through a vice presidency, to the presidency in a period so short as to attest her popularity.
