Children Taking the Sunshine Cure

SUNSHINE strengthens the body-

So well have physicians learned the art of curing tuberculosis by giving patients the most nourishing foods and exposing their bodies to the direct rays of the sun that that dreaded disease may be nearly eradicated in one generation.

An under-nourished person has little ability to resist disease. Many physicians recommend much milk in the diet, for milk is the most nearly perfect food. A perfect diet plus direct sunshine makes the strongest combination for preventing infections or for effecting their cure. Sunshine cures by increasing resistance to disease and by increasing ability to assimilate food. Correct diet and out-of-door life will build up a strong constitution.

Good Health, the Battle Creek Journal of Health and Personal Hygiene, says: "Anyone who wants to care—unless he is condemned to live in the dark streets of a smoke-shrouded slum—leave his windows open, live more in the open air, without the usual excess of clothing, and thus get his sun baths at work and play in the ordinary course of life."

"For those who have not started such a course of life soon enough, the sunlight is still as valuable as ever, but it must sometimes be administered with the skill of a physician; and during the last few decades the use of this light, or one of its artificial equivalents, has been brought to an extraordinary stage of efficiency at a number of places, such as the Finsen clinic in Copenhagen, the Battle Creek Sanitarium in the United States, the solarium of Rollier in the Swiss Alps, and some of the most modern and progressive hospitals."

The Tuberculosis League of St. Joseph County, Indiana, says: "One of the primary duties of the Anti-Tuberculosis League is to prevent tuberculosis and experience has taught the workers that the tuberculous individual of today was the underweight, mal-nourished child of yesterday. So the workers in the field are ever seeking this type of child and are then making an effort to see that he is built up to normal weight and health. Think what a joy the Open Air Rooms, Nutrition Classes and Milk Squads in the public schools are to the tuberculosis workers."

(Read the news clippings at the left. They are authority for the statement and truth that sunshine strengthens the body.)
