

As Stately and Mighty As the Great Mount Rainier

--this is our picture of your wonderful institution-- the Woodmen of the World.

And just as this great mountain silhouetted against the sky, stands as a bulwark against the mighty elements, reducing them to gentle mountain streams that nourish the fertile fields below, so does your mighty organization stand as a giant protector for humanity---softening the blows of life; guarding and protecting; and offering substance and shelter to the multitude.

And just as those who live at the base of the great Mount Rainier are oblivious to its strength and importance, so have we been unmindful of the place the Woodmen of the World occupies in the field of humanity, industry and finance.

Let us consider these things carefully, and let us have a better appreciation of what the Woodmen of the World really means. Let us consider also what the great WOAW Radio Station is doing for Omaha. It is Omaha's voice to the world, nationwide in scope, and bringing into direct contact the entire world with our commonwealth.
