Elkhorn to Meet Greenwood for Class D Honors

Fast Games Feature Semi-Final Contests; Oakland Quintet Plays Good Game in Second Half.

THE announcement Friday which appeared exclusively in The Omaha Evening Bee that Lloyd M'Gahan, freshmen coach at Creighton, had signed a two-year contract and would remain with the Bluejays, was a choice bit of news to all followers of the Blue and White.

For a time it was feared that M'Gahan would accept the offer he had from the North Dakota Aggies to leave Creighton and go to the Aggies as athletic director and head football coach.

M'Gahan, as coach of the Creighton freshmen teams, seldom receives the publicity that falls on Athletic Director Schabinger and Head Coach Wynne. Schabinger coaches the basket ball teams.

Wynne coaches the varsity football and track teams. It is M'Gahan's duty to instruct the Creighton freshmen footballers and basketballers in the fundamentals of those two games so that when they pass on to Schabinger and Wynne they will know the style of play used by the varsity coaches.

M'Gahan it would be much harder for Coach Wynne and Schabinger to turn out as good a team as they do in their respective games.

The athletic department of Creighton, Schabinger, Wynne and M'Gahan, has put Creighton on the athletic map. With the department intact for another two years at least, even greater things are expected from Blue and White teams.

GUESS Max Bauman, manager of John Pesek, Nebraska heavyweight wrestler, is tired of challenging Joe Stecher to a match in Omaha.

The day after Pesek pinned Charlie Hansen's shoulders to the canvas at the Auditorium, Bauman resumed his challenging of Joe Stecher to a best two out of three fall match with the Ravenna wrestler.

To date neither Joe nor Tony Stecher have answered Bauman's challenge. It looks very much like Joe doesn't want to meet Pesek.

Both of the Stechers saw Pesek throw Hansen. Maybe that's the reason they don't answer the challenge.

Stecher is said to be in his old time condition. If he is in as good a physical condition as they say he is, then a Pesek-Stecher finish match would be worth going to see.

CHARLIE HANSEN says he is going up into the north woods and rough it a while. He expects to get into good physical condition and then try and land another match with John Pesek.

Hansen really believes he can throw Pesek. He attributes his defeat at the hands of Pesek to his lack of experience.

The writer saw Pesek throw Hansen, and it is his humble opinion that if Charlie ever expects to throw the Ravenna wrestler he (Hansen) will have to learn more about wrestling than he knew, or rather showed, in his match with Pesek.

THE California boxing commission has placed a ban on the kidney punch; therefore robbing "Ace" Huddins, Nebraska lightweight, who is considered one of the best fighters on the west coast, of his favorite weapon.

The kidney blow, delivered most effectively as a boxer comes in, is a chop over the kidneys. The blow generally is delivered while the boxers are in a clinch.

The California commission says, however, that the mere turning of the body by an opponent will make a perfectly legal punch appear to be an illegal kidney punch.

Huddins, according to California fight scribes, has won most of his fights by wearing his opponents down with the kidney punch.

THE New York baseball writers who are with the Yankees at their training camp in St. Petersburg, Fla., have a lot of nice things to say about "Nick" Cullip, last year's Omaha Western league first baseman.

Here's what one Gotham scribe says about the white-haired Cullip: "Cullip can hit the ball. He doesn't have to stand at the plate and try to beat his way to first by means of a base on balls or a bunt. He is a slugger, and Miller Huggins of the Yankees has mentioned it.

Two dozen or more times last season the Yankees could have won ball games if they possessed a competent right-hand pinch hitter. They have a dependable left-hand emergency man in Lou Gehrig, but the search for a right-hander to shove in with a south-paw in the box for the enemy has been long and hard.

He'll be on hand this year. "Nick" Cullip is the man. This big-boned fellow from South Dakota can hit any kind of pitching. He batted .322 against all kinds of pitchers. In the Western league last season he made 40 home runs. He made all the three-baggers the Omaha grounds would absorb and socked two-baggers with abandon.

Cullip can hit. He can play first base. He can play the outfield, where he stood out for an average of .287 last year in 154 games. He can slug. He is the quadruple threat to baseball—the "Red" Grange of the diamond. He is a Stuhldreher, a Muller, a Crawley and a Layden all in one."
