San Quentin, Cal., April 11.—"Kid" McCoy ran "amuck" just before entering San Quentin prison today to serve a term of from four to 38 years.

On the boat from Richmond to Point San Quentin enroute here from Los Angeles, the one-time pugilistic topkicker threw dishes at newspaper men and smashed a camera.

San Quentin, Cal., April 11.—Game as ever and full of fight, Norman Selby, the "Kid McCoy" of prize ring fame, took the count from the law today and entered San Quentin prison to serve an intermediate term of from four to 38 years.

"I'm innocent and I know God will take care of me," said "Kid" as the prison doors closed behind him.

"My attorneys are working on my appeal and they have right on their side. But I'm going in here to do what I'm told and to make the best of it. I've always tried to be a good loser and I'll make the best of it in this instance."

"Kid" wants to return to his first love—the boxing game—and is "through with women."

"I hope they will let me box some in prison," he said. "It will help me in a lot of ways, and if they want me to do so I'd be glad to act as boxing instructor there."

The champion of the matrimonial ring, with eight marriages to his credit, declared he had hopes of getting out within three or four years.

Through With Women.
"And when I do," he said with emphasis, "I'll have nothing more to do with women."

"Do you expect any of your ex-wives will come to visit you?" McCoy was asked.

"No, I don't think they will," he said, and then brightening asked: "But maybe they will, do you think so?"

McCoy was handcuffed to Officer Blaisdell, but seemed cheerful. He talked freely and seemed pleased when a large crowd gathered at Richmond, Cal., where he was taken from the train from Los Angeles, where he was convicted of manslaughter as a result of the killing of Mrs. Theresa Mors, his last sweetheart.
