

Bill Tilden wins champion ship of Florida for 1925. Left to right: S. Howard Voshell, W. T. Tilden, 2nd, Manuel Alonzo and Vincent Richards just before the start of the semi-finals for the 1925 Championships of Florida. W. A. World

The U. S. S. Wyoming. The ship's racing crew trains on home made training machine while the floating fighter is under way. Many challenges from other rowers of the Battle (Pacific) Fleet are expected but this particular crew will not be caught napping. W. A. World

Miss Emily Pepper Watts, of Washington, D. C., daughter of Captain William Carleton Watts, U. S. N., and a niece of Senator Pepper who won the highest award in the gift of Bryn Mawr College to a member of a graduating class, the award of the European Fellow for 1925-1926. W. A. World

C. Emerson Brown, superintendent of the Philadelphia Zoo and his ostrich eggs which he has placed in an incubator hoping that he will have a few ostrich chicks in the very near future. W. A. World

Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago, returns from Rome on S. S. Berengaria. He arrived in New York, recently. He brought with him completed plans for the Eucharistic Congress to be held in Chicago next year. Cardinal Mundelein returns to the United States from his Holy Year pilgrimage to the "Holy City." W. A. World

Fifteen year old daughter of Paris chemist, discovers substitute for oil. Mile. Irene Laurent, fifteen year old daughter of a Paris chemist, who has discovered a substitute for explosive oils, a discovery considered of great economic importance for France in decreasing her dependency on outside sources of explosive oils. W. A. World

Vice President Charles G. Dawes in his office at the Capitol. W. A. World

Lieutenant Colonel Elizabeth Morgan of Fort Smith, Ark., commanding officer of the University of Arkansas, Fayetteville, R. O. T. C. Colonel Morgan holds a genuine commission in the Reserve Officers' Training Corps. W. A. World