Twenty-Eight Omahans Are "Mothers' Day" Guests at Lincoln Fraternities

Eight fraternities at the University of Nebraska celebrated their annual Mother's day Sunday in Lincoln. Others will be at home to their parents on May 11.

A number of Omaha mothers drove down Saturday, others arrived Sunday morning, when they spent the day going to church with their sons, motoring and being entertained with songs and speeches at dinner.

At Phi Kappa Psi house were Mesdames J. A. Fike, F. A. Wright, S. W. Stauffer, J. M. Hackler, J. F. Beerle, W. D. Redler and J. A. Sandstrom, from Omaha.

At the Phi Delta Theta house Mesdames W. F. Stryker, F. L. McCoy, H. J. Holmes and P. J. Northwell were guests. At Phi Gamma Delta, were Mesdames P. H. Tillotson and George Reiff.

Sigma Alpha Phi entertained both mothers and fathers, and from Omaha Messrs. and Mesdames Joe Kelley, Joe B. Redfield, Fred Platte, John Day, Walter Madden and H. B. Drake motored down.

Mesdames Louis E. Smith, W. A. Rathstick, and Frank Wagoner were guests of their sons at Acadia.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. McCandless were the only Omahans at Phi Kappa Phi, and Mrs. H. Dana, a lone representative at Delta Upsilon.

Mrs. C. L. Hrdlicka, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Satter and Mrs. H. J. Bailey went down Saturday for the event at Alpha Sigma Phi.

Berne Hopkins Wed to Miss Doud Saturday

A marriage of considerable interest is that of Miss Portia Doud and Berne H. Hopkins, which took place Saturday in Kansas City. Mr. Hopkins and his bride have arrived in Council Bluffs and are occupying the attractive rural home constructed of rough hewn logs which Mr. Hopkins has recently had redecorated.

The bride is said to be a charming young woman. She was formerly a trained nurse in Kansas City. She has visited at the Hopkins home during the past year.

Adele Garrison "My Husband's Love"

The Astounding Reply Lucy Gave Mrs. Durkee.

Katherine and I rose instantly at Adele's summons, and followed her back to Mrs. Durkee's room. My "prophetic soul" I was sure would be justified in its fears. Our unexpected call, and Mrs. Durkee's wish to have us stay for luncheon, had for a precipitate a crisis in the kitchen.

"When we reached the invalid's room we found her sitting erect in her chair, her cheeks pink and her eyes snapping.

"Look here, girls," she said crisply, "this convalescent business is played out. You'd think I was a 2-year-old child the way I'm bossed around."

"That's right," Dicky said soothingly. "There's nothing worse than being bossed around. We'll be square with you."

She struck at him playfully, but there was also real impatience in the gesture.

"Do be quiet for 15 seconds," she implored, and then turned to me.

"Here are Lella and Katherine," she said, waving her hand toward them, "actually telling me that I'd better not call this Lucy or whatever her name is up here and tell her about luncheon. Anybody would think Dr. Braithwaite cut out a section of my brain when he operated. I may not be brilliant, but I think I still can manage to order a luncheon

Omaha, May 5, 1924.

TO THE VOTERS OF OMAHA:

The following letter has been circulated among the RETAIL GROCERS AND BUTCHERS OF OMAHA today:

"DO YOU KNOW THAT JOSEPH KOUTSKY, CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION FOR CITY COMMISSIONER, IS A GOOD CUSTOMER OF THE FIGGLY-WIGGLY STORE AT 20TH AND MISSOURI AVE., NEAR HIS RESIDENCE? CUT HIM OUT ON ELECTION DAY AND TELL YOUR FRIENDS TO DO LIKEWISE."

I wish to answer this letter by the statement that over 90 per cent of my meats and groceries are purchased from HENRY GEEST, GROCER AND BUTCHER, at 1917 MISSOURI AVENUE; and I wish to brand this letter addressed to the RETAIL GROCERS AND BUTCHERS OF OMAHA as being false, as are all the letters and circulars which have been distributed in the last three days for the purpose of attacking my character.

I feel satisfied that they all come from one organization which is the PAVING AND SEWER CONTRACTORS' COMBINE OF OUR CITY.

I hope that the GROCERS AND BUTCHERS OF OMAHA will give me fair consideration in this matter and assist me in the defeating of this oligarchy of paving and sewer contractors.

Yours Truly,
JOSEPH KOUTSKY,
CITY COMMISSIONER,
Candidate for Re-Election

Lemons Bleach the Skin White

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug-gist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quart-pint of the most wonderful skin whiter, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin rosy-white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

Successful cake at every try!

HOW regularly do you have perfect cake success? Can you always make light, fine layer cake, sponge cake marvelously moist yet fluffy as spun sugar, loaf cake tender and smooth as thick cream, gingerbread that melts in the mouth? "Nothing less certain than a really good cake," you say? Then you'll be amazed and delighted at baking results with Omar Wonder Flour.

Made of the pick of the best spring and winter wheat, combined in a distinctly individual way, Omar gives to baked things the finest texture and lightness and an unusually appetizing goodness of flavor.

To maintain this goodness at absolute uniformity every milling of Omar must meet the tests of expert bakers in our own kitchens before a sack is sold.

Use Omar Wonder Flour for your biscuits, pies, bread, cookies, waffles, hot cakes, gravies and cream sauces and note their added goodness and unvarying quality. Ask your grocer for Omar and about our guarantee.

without bringing humiliation on the family.

She was so fetching in her indignation that we all shouted with laughter and Dicky patted her hand.

"You shall order a 16-course dinner at my expense the minute you're able to go to a restaurant," he assured her, and she beamed at him.

"I'll just take you up on that, Dicky-bird," she said, "and we won't have any chaperon, either. But that doesn't settle this other question."

She looked belligerently at us, and Katherine spread her hands with a little gesture of surrender.

"All right," she said, "Lella will you go after her, or—"

"Oh, please," Lella's hands twisted together nervously. "I can't stand her. I hate to lie down like this but—"

"Don't be foolish," Katherine's tone was brisk and reassuring. "I don't blame you for feeling scared, you have to stay here with her, but it's all in the day's work with me. No, your majesty," she turned to little Mrs. Durkee, "please don't get up and walk around. You'll be all tired out before she comes."

"I'm composing my menu," Mrs. Durkee responded, laughing. "You know lots of poets walk around for inspiration."

"Yes, but they're longer away from a hospital bed than you are," Katherine retorted inexorably. "Come, now, I've given in to you about bringing Lucy up here, and you must humor me a bit."

Her face and smile were coaxing but her voice was inflexible beneath its softness and I noticed that though little Mrs. Durkee pouted, she scuttled back to her seat as a cowed child might have done. But when Katherine had left the room, she began to talk like a maquis.

"I like Mrs. Bickett," she began, and her use of my little kinswoman's surname measured the depth of her annoyance, "but I can't say my soul's my own when she's around. I just know I don't need a nurse any longer. And I know that colored woman isn't moving the furniture and sweeping behind it. I can just feel it in my bones. But I'll be downstairs in two or three days, and then I'll straighten her out, I promise you."

Behind her mother-in-law's back Lella flashed a tremendous amused smile at me. Little Mrs. Durkee always has prided herself upon getting along without a maid, and she knows nothing whatever about the independence of the few "general workers" left in captivity. She has the attitude of 40 years ago toward them, and I foresaw fireworks when the little woman should undertake the disciplining of the somber Lucy.

When Katherine's light, quick footsteps, followed by heavier dragging ones, sounded outside the door, I saw our little hostess straighten herself in her chair and assume an air of dignity which sat oddly but becomingly upon her doll-like face. Katherine swung open the door and Lucy, dour and dark, came slowly into the room.

"You wished to see me?" she questioned, addressing Mrs. Durkee, and giving the impression of seeing no one else in the room.

"Yes, Lucy," Mrs. Durkee responded pleasantly. "I want you to serve the nicest luncheon you can for my friends here. I'll tell you now what I want."

OMAHA NEEDS THE CHARTER AMENDMENTS

VOTE YES

On election day it will be your duty to vote upon important amendments to the Omaha City Charter.

Omaha needs these amendments. Her future growth and development will be very materially benefited by their adoption.

These amendments are not partisan. All the candidates for City Commission favor them. Here's what these amendments mean:

Better Boulevards
Will give the city the right to pave boulevards within a mile and a half of the City Hall, to be paid for by the abutting property. This regulation now applies to all streets within a mile and a half of the City Hall but doesn't include boulevards.

Lighten Improvement Tax Burden
Will permit property owners to make "time payments" instead of paying cash for street improvements, extending the time from 50 days to 10 years.

Economy in Paving
Requires the City Engineer to determine proper cost of paving, grading, etc., by making an official estimate. Will throw out contractors' bids that do not meet or fall below this estimate. This will be a big saving to taxpayers.

No More Refunding Bonds
Will require the City Council to set aside sufficient funds to pay off, at maturity, all future bonds, except special assessment and public utility bonds. This will end the present practice of paying off bonds by issuing more bonds. It will be a tremendous saving to taxpayers, of interest on the bonded debt.

We recommend these Amendments, solely in the interest of Omaha, and not for ourselves, or for any member of our organizations:
