Public Invited to Musical and Art Exhibit

The Omaha Society of Fine Arts will entertain its members and the public at a musical Sunday, May 11, at 4 o'clock in the galleries of the public library on the third floor. The program will be in charge of Miss Mary Munchoff. The program promises to be a rare treat, the participants being: Harriet Clark Helgren, contralto; Mrs. Karl R. Werndorf, piano, and the Reesa String quartet with Mrs. Ernest Reese, first violin; Miss Frida Paulsen, second violin; Miss Anna Coughlan, viola, and Mrs. Martin Donlon, cello.

Mrs. Anna Darlow, hostess for Sunday afternoon, extends on behalf of the Society of Fine Arts an invitation to everyone, whether members or not, to attend this recital.

The exhibition of paintings of the southwest by Walter Ufer, N. A., will be on view in the galleries at this time also, remaining in Omaha until May 26. These exhibitions and musicals are open to the public free of charge.

Miss Stout Hostess

Miss Gertrude Stout will entertain at bridge Friday for Miss Emily Burke and Miss Corrine Elliott, June brides.

Blanched Vegetables

Vegetables that are blanched and then cooked with butter and other seasoning and very little moisture are more savory and nutritious than when all the cooking is done in a good deal of clear water.

Are you ready to rent that spare room? Will you accept a few dollars extra each week in rent?

Then you need a Bee Want Ad to bring prospects to you.

Mrs. G. Schulpp, 507 S. 26th Ave., knows Bee results. She used this ad:

507 S. 26TH AVE.—One and two-room modern housekeeping apartments. Suitable for 1, 2 or 3-room apts. AT. 2248.

"I always have good luck in renting my apartments through The Bee," said Mrs. Schulpp today, when canceling the ad. "The Omaha Bee is the only paper for want ads as well as for reading."

Three Piece Mode

The sleeveless jacket is something over which to ponder. It is a spring possibility which is heralded far enough ahead to make it possible for us to be prepared.

Many of the couturiers subscribe to the banded type of trimming, for the tendency, one may be reminded again, is toward tailored and relatively simple effects.

Allied stripes still occur on plain surfaces which, for decorative reasons may be striped here and there, and plings of strongly contrasting materials are a feature of costumes exploited for the fortunates who concern themselves with summer clothes in February. Bands often widen into stripes broad enough to constitute a panel note either from neckline to skirt or from the waist down. In the latter category the more usual treatment is not a straight panel, but a gathered or pleated one. Even in frocks of linen, in both heavy and handkerchief weight, the panel appears. On one lovely French blue handmade frock, the wide front panel is emphasized by having overlapping bands of the material embroidered at one edge.

Striped frocks of the chemisere or shirt type often have the self-trimmings of the stripes used in an opposite direction, and in this type of dress either the bosom or front panel is employed. Men's silk shirts, striped flannels even to the extremes of black stripes and some cross-bar effects, are popular as evidenced by the frocks seen at southern beaches.

Flannel is among the oldtime favorites revived, and although pessimists insist that stripes would not be wanted in America in spite of its success abroad, it has been found that all good shops are having calls for frocks made of this practical warm weather fabric.

The Garden Seat

The garden seat may be painted white with green or brick red trimmings. It will stand out invitingly from the surrounding trees and shrubs and will not be injured by the weather if several coats of paint are applied at regular intervals.

Mother's Day Breakfast

On Sunday morning, May 11, at 8:30, a Mother's day breakfast will be served on the second floor for girls, who are away from home, or whose mothers are not living. A short program will follow the breakfast but will not interfere with attendance at Sunday school. Every effort is being made for a bright, happy hour in honor of "Mother." Register for the breakfast by Friday evening. Call Ja. 2748.

Two in One Soap and Brush

The compact way in which we live means that compact articles of all sorts have an unusual appeal. Probably the soap and brush made in one was originally designed for travel use, but it is as a very good article for the bathroom. The soap is of a good quality and for skin use. In the center of the cake is a small nail brush. This brush is molded in such a way that it is permanent until the soap has been used up. The brush is black and the soap green, which makes the color combination attractive.

Man's Superiority a Settled Fact

Man's superiority is at last a settled thing. The Omaha Drama league proves it by appointing a man on the publicity committee for next year, headed by Miss Dorothy Hall. John T. Stewart is the gentleman who is thus settling the sex feud of centuries in favor of his own half.

Mr. Stewart has done clever writing in connection with advertising during the past year, and the drama league feels it has done well in securing his services. This is the first time a man has served on a drama league committee.

Women Voters Honor 12 Great Women

"An Evening of Great Women" featured the convention in Buffalo of the League of Women Voters held April 24-25.

The 12 "greatest women" as declared by the league and the endeavors in which they are pre-eminent were Jane Addams, philanthropy; Cecelia Beaux, painting; Annie Jump Cannon, astronomy; Carrie Chapman Catt, politics; Anna Botsford Comstock, natural history; Minnie Maddern Piske, stage; Louise Homer, music; Julia Lathrop, child welfare; Florence Rena Sabin, anatomy; M.

Carey Thomas, education; Martha Van Rensselaer, home economics; Edith Wharton, literature.

Leading Americans Hotly Attack and Defend Congress

Bankers, Labor Leaders, Heads of "Big Business," Politicians, Club Women, Tell the "Digest" "What's the Matter With Congress"

A TIMELY and interesting survey has been made by THE LITERARY DIGEST to ascertain public opinion of Congress. Prominent and representative men and women were asked for expressions and in this week's number of THE DIGEST, the replies, dozens of them, are presented.

Some idea of the range of opinion expressed is indicated by the following: Mr. Orin Lester of the Bowery Savings Bank, declares, "with such agencies at work in the country as Bolshevism and the present United States Congress, we have some job on our hands to maintain the integrity of the nation and the security of her institutions." At the other extreme, Captain Roscoe H. Johnson, International President of the Commercial Telegraphers Union, says: "Congress breaking down? Sure, from the view-point of Wall Street and its institutions which thrive on covered-up rottenness. Representative government breaking down? Not a bit of it. Folks back home are simply cleaning house." Some of the prominent persons, out of the many, who write their opinions, are:
