

Courage Marked Life of Weller, Pastor Declares

Hundreds at Rites; G. A. R. Guards Bier; Flowers Bank Chancel; Flag Drapes Casket.

Steadiness, love of work and courage marked the life of Charles F. Weller that will forever remain in the hearts of his Omaha friends, said Rev. James E. Wagner in delivering an eulogy at the funeral services held Friday at 2 p. m. at the First Methodist church. Mr. Weller, president of the Richardson Drug company, died Tuesday night from injuries received in a fall on a street car.

"Not every life has the steadiness from beginning to end as had Mr. Weller," said the pastor. "He had a keen sense of responsibility. One of the great things in his life was his relationship to all good things, the church and to things that were profitable to others. Mr. Weller loved work and he had courage that makes for a high quality of character. He did not sit down and count the cost. In his heart he had the qualities of a pioneer, he surveyed the distant fields. His life is like the precious diamond that has been taken elsewhere."

G. A. R. Honor Guard.
Before the eulogy was given by Rev. Mr. Wagner, the scriptures were read by Rev. Frank G. Smith, pastor of the First Central Congregational church and prayer given by Rev. E. H. Jenks, pastor of First Presbyterian church. Mrs. William Sturges and Mrs. W. Dale Clark sang the hymn, "Jesus Calls Us," and "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go." Mrs. R. E. Davis was at the organ.

York Livestock Judges Take Honors at Lincoln

York, May 9.—At the annual livestock judging contest at Lincoln, York team under the direction of Professor Clark won two loving cups, three medals and 19 ribbons.

The stock judging team was composed of Leo Anderson, Blaine Casebeer and Elton Newman. Raymond Read was the York entry in grain judging and Cleo Kuntzelman in wood work.

York won first place in judging Holstein dairy cattle for which it received a cup, fourth in judging Ayrshires and first in Jersey dairy cattle. York team won first place in judging all dairy breeds and the loving cup offered for the prize winners. Anderson won two medals for cattle judging and Newman one. York was fifth in judging fat stock.

Anderson is but 13 years of age. Casebeer and Newman are 15.

Just now the kettle could not be blamed for calling the Teapot black. —New Orleans States.

Sheriffs of Two Counties Seeking Robbery Suspect

Freemont, Neb., May 9.—Jack Martin, 25, suspect in a $200 robbery and check forgery at Cedar Bluffs, is being sought by Sheriffs Daily of Saunders county and Condit of Dodge. It is believed Martin is in hiding under the guise of a farm hand in this vicinity.

Martin, until recently, was employed at the Edward J. Maher farm near Cedar Bluffs. He disappeared and shortly afterwards the theft of a quantity of jewelry was discovered. Two forged checks cashed at Cedar Bluffs shortly after also are blamed on Martin.

The missing man is described as five feet six inches in height and weighing about 150 pounds. His left thumb is amputated at the first joint. He is said to be dangerous and always carries a gun.

Raiders Find Liquor on Deserted Island

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee.
Nebraska City, Neb., May 9.—Sheriff Ryder and Deputy McCallum went to an island in the Missouri river about 7 miles south of here today and located four 50-gallon barrels of liquor hidden in clearing of brush. They also found ingredients for making liquor but no still.

The island has area of about 200 acres and is uninhabited.

The arrest of Ed Miller, the day before, on an illegal possession charge caused the officers to search the island. Previous searches by officers had proved fruitless. One gallon of liquor together with material for making more was brought to the city and the remainder dumped into the river.
