

Four Stills Are Seized in Raids

1,000 Gallons of Alleged Liquor in Haul; Samardick Arrests Three.

A six-room apartment with no other occupants than a 50-gallon still, 55 gallons of rye whisky and 1,500 gallons of mash, was discovered by police morals squad at 2252 Pierce street Friday afternoon.

Officers could not enter the apartment which was on the second floor of the house until Officer Heinie Rosen scaled a ladder, placed on top of a Ford touring car, entered one of the windows and fell into a bathtub, fortunately empty.

The still and mash, officers declare, were immaculately clean and the product was well above the average. Six sacks of grain and 50 empty five-gallon jugs also were seized.

Sebastiano Callabra, living downstairs, was arrested, ordered held for investigation and will be turned over to federal authorities.

Another still, somewhat the worse for accumulated filth, was taken at the home of Serafino Galli, 3623 Binney street. The still was still hot when the officers arrived. The woman was ordered held for the government. Fifteen gallons of liquor and a quantity of mash was seized.

Twenty barrels of mash, 1,000 gallons, two warm stills, five gallons wood alcohol, air force tanks, stoves and 25 gallons of corn whisky, was found at 2105 1/2 Pierce street Friday night.

The house was apparently being used only for the manufacture of the liquor. No one was in the house at the time the officers forced entrance.

Irving Pettis, taxi driver, 658 South Twenty-eighth street; Mary Zellinski, alias Marion Peterson, 2424 Oak street, and Joe Mandeville, 514 South Twenty-fourth street, were arrested Friday afternoon by Prohibition Director Robert Samardick at Thirtieth and Jackson streets and charged with illegal possession and transportation of liquor.

Pettis told Samardick that he had answered a call to the Oak street address and had no connection with the affair other than as chauffeur for Mandeville and the Zellinski woman.

Kearns Free d in Girl's Charge

Investigator Positive Dempsey Manager Innocent of Attacking Movie Actress.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 24.—Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, was free today of charges of attacking Francis Marion Emerson, motion picture actress.

Investigators for the district attorney's office said they were positive Kearns did not attack the actress, as she charged, shortly after he met her on the picture lot in Hollywood, where Dempsey is working.

According to the district attorney's office, Mrs. Mary C. Tenney is the actress' name and she figured in a sensational case in Baltimore in which she charged Jesse Rosenfeld, wealthy Baltimore resident, with assault. Rosenfeld was fined on the assault charge, and in addition, a telegram here from Baltimore detectives stated, paid several hundred dollars to the woman.

Mrs. Tenney was recently divorced from Leon P. Tenney in San Francisco, the Los Angeles authorities said.

Kearns' accuser, investigators asserted, declared she was a step-daughter of Maj. Paul Hodapp, U. S. A., at Fort Logan, Colo.

Charges against a Filipino servant of Kearns, accused with the pugilist's manager, will be dismissed also, it was stated.

Had the gash been a little lower on the child's neck it might have been very serious.

Tech High Students Build Garage in Laboratory

The first garage to be started and completed indoors to the last screw and the last drop of paint is shown above, now in the carpenter shop of Technical High school.

The garage has been under erection for two weeks, and will be moved next week to the home of Mrs. Rae Williams, sales teacher, at 4908 Webster street.

Boys of each class in the carpenter shop have worked on the

The students drew plans and specifications for the garage and canvassed 26 lumber dealers of Omaha to secure the lowest bid possible. Charles Westergard, 16, 3104 North Fortieth street, obtained the lowest bid.

The garage, which is 12x18 feet and 8 feet high, will cost approximately $165, including the hauling cost of $40 to Dundee, according to William Brewer, instructor. It will be raised by house movers and put on rollers to move it from the carpenter shop.

The garage is the first entire building to be erected in the shop by the students. Bookcases, stools, shelves, chairs and hurdles for track meets at the school have already been made by the students.

Japanese General Lauds U. S. Fliers

Ambassador Woods Also Speaker at Luncheon for Airmen, Thanks Orientals.

By Associated Press. Tokyo, May 24.—Praise for the unprecedented feat of the American aviators in crossing the Pacific by air formed the basis of a speech today by Gen. Issei Ugaki, minister of war, made at the first luncheon in Tokyo given for the visiting round-the-world fliers.

The luncheon was the first function of a crowded day for the American airmen who arrived here from Kasumigaura this morning. The visitors in their three airplanes landed at Kasumigaura from the Kuriles Thursday.

In his luncheon address, General Ugaki said that Japan admired and was greatly benefited by the achievement of the Americans. It meant, he said, the stimulation of Japan's aeronautical enterprises and a further strengthening by air of the ties between America and Japan which were first forged by Peary 70 years ago.

The war minister, while congratulating the aviators on their success, voiced Japan's deepest sympathy for Major Martin, the original commander of the flight, who was forced to remain behind because of the wrecking of his airplane off Alaska.

American Ambassador Woods, who was also a speaker at the luncheon, after paying tribute to the "magnificent courage and endurance" displayed by the aviators in a "feat unparalleled in the world's history," said:

"Mingled with the sentiment and elation which every American feels at this wonderful achievement, there also is a large measure of gratitude to the Japanese whose whole-hearted co-operation and assistance went so far toward making it possible."

The ambassador said he believed the bridging of the Pacific by air was a distinct sign of hope for the future.

WILD DEER SEEN AT PIERCE, NEB.

Pierce, Neb., May 24.—One or two wild deer have been wintering on farms between this place and Hadar. Men cutting corn stalks on the August Schwichtenberg farm saw a deer there. This animal had large horns and leaped fences gracefully at the approach of the farmers. Another deer was seen near Pierce. It is thought the deer were driven here by storms of last winter and have been staying in the woods along the river banks until driven out by farmers who are working in the fields.
