

Reply of U.S. to Japan Completed: Drawn by Hughes

Message Marks Official Diplomatic Termination of "Gentlemen's Agreement" by U. S.

By H. K. REYNOLDS. International News Staff Correspondent. Washington, June 6.—The reply of the United States government to the Japanese exclusion protest has been completed and will be handed shortly to Masanao Hainihara, the Japanese ambassador, it was learned at the State department today.

Perplexing questions were raised by Japan in the protest, chief among these being the question of the assimilability of the Japanese. It was understood today that Secretary Hughes in the reply would simply state that the question of whether or not the Japanese are assimilable must be left to the American people, through congress, to decide.

Secretary Hughes will deal in a straightforward manner with this part of the protest, declaring the treaty and the exclusion law are not inconsistent, because of questions of immigration were not included in the treaty.

It is expected that the note will be handed to the Japanese ambassador within 48 hours. Present plans are for it to be made public here simultaneously with its receipt at the Japanese embassy, though it may be held until Hainihara has an opportunity to cable it to Tokyo.

Consular reports from Japan to the State department indicate widespread unrest and ill feeling among the Japanese people over the American government's new exclusion policy.

Simmon's Lawyer Here for Client

Attorney J. Coombs of Spencer, Neb., associated the Judge E. P. Holmes of Lincoln, in the defense of Walter Ray Simmons, sentenced to death, in Omaha in connection with depositions to be offered at the hearing for a commutation of the death sentence.

"I have noticed that affidavits have been filed with the state board of pardons and parole, refuting depositions taken last week in Butte county, in support of the application for commutation," Attorney Coombs said.

The county attorney of Boyd county and the attorney general had legal notice of the taking of these depositions, but they chose to ignore the notice and did not attend the taking of the depositions. I wish to state that the affidavits they have filed are vague and unreasonable."

On June 10 the board of pardons and parole will hear the application for commutation of Simmons' sentence to life imprisonment.

CONFEREES O. K. POSTAL PAY BILL

Washington, June 6.—Final action by congress was taken today on the postal employees' increase bill through approval by both houses of the conference report on the measure.

There is doubt whether President Coolidge will sign the bill because it carries no provision to meet the increased pay provision, which approximates $60,000,000. The bill carries the provision for publicity of campaign contributions, limiting expenditures by senators to $10,000 and congress to $2,500, or the alternative of 3 cents for each voter in the state or district of the senator or congressman.

Coolidge Plans to Send Convention Note on Policies

Will Outline Views of President on Procedure of Party, Reports at Cleveland Say.

By GEORGE R. HOLMES. International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Cleveland, O., June 6.—President Coolidge, whose influence is now the dominating factor in the councils of his party, may send a special message to the republican national convention that is to nominate him here next week, according to reports today among the leaders gathering here.

Several of the president's friends said they had heard the reports.

According to the gossip as it ran around the hotel lobbies, the president has under consideration the sending of a special "message of greeting" to the republican hosts here and in it to give voice to a general outline of his views concerning party policy and procedure.

Mr. Coolidge's friends here do not take kindly to the impression in the minds of many delegates that the president is to "dictate" to the delegates, either as to platform or as to the only two outstanding problems of the convention.

While proceeding quietly to promote those policies which are of White House origin, they nevertheless heatedly deny that the platform is being written in Pennsylvania avenue, or that Mr. Coolidge will point his finger and thus designate the man who is to be his running mate.

William M. Butler, generalissimo of Coolidge headquarters and after next week chairman of the republican national committee, solemnly assures newspaper questioners each day that the vice president is to be chosen by the delegates in convention assembled next week, and not by Mr. Coolidge.

With becoming gravity he points out that four years ago the delegates exercised their own sovereign judgment as to the vice presidential candidate and selection was eminently satisfactory to Mr. Coolidge. So, argues Mr. Butler blandly, why not now?

POLICE SHAKEUP QUERY STILL ON

City Commissioners John Hopkins, Joseph Koutsky and J. B. Hummel, serving as a special committee to investigate the recent dropping of 21 members of the police department from the payroll, resumed deliberations Friday morning.

A committee representing the suspended policemen appeared and discussed the situation. Chairman Hopkins stated that the committee will not arrive at any conclusion this week.

Commissioner Hummel has indicated the possibility of the men being reinstated and the police department fund shortage being met by requiring all members of the department to take payless furloughs.

Slain Omaha Boxer Fought Twice With Featherweight Champion

Record Studded With Knockouts; Known as Pleasing Club Fighter.

One of the cleverest junior lightweight boxers of the day is what fight fans said of Jack Lawler, South Omaha boxer, who was killed by police early Friday morning.

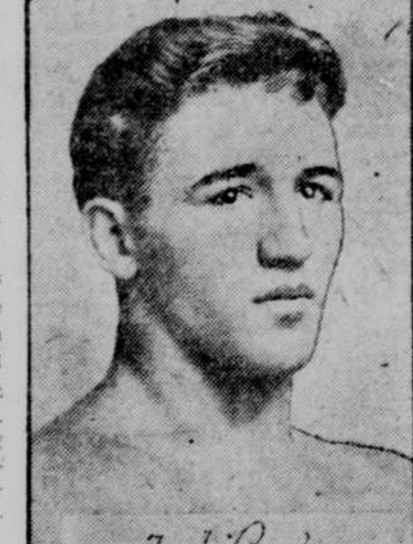

Lawler was one of the few boxers turned out of this town who made a name for himself within the hemp strands. Born in 1900, Lawler started fighting 15 years later. From that time on the South Omaha boxer gradually climbed up the fight ladder of fightdom.

Lawler's record was studded with many knockouts. He had fought many fights, but most of them were in other cities. He seldom appeared in an Omaha ring, although he always wanted to fight in a main event bout before his friends here.

Lawler fought Johnny Noye in an Omaha ring two years ago and easily won the decision. His last fight in this city and the final ring battle of his career was fought at the Cudahy Athletic club's show in South Omaha three weeks ago. Lawler fought "Reddy" Blanchard of Sioux City and was the winner.

White Lawler was never a champion in either the featherweight or junior lightweight classes, he was one of the most pleasing club boxers of his weight. Lawler lacked the hitting power that makes champions. He was clever.
