

Omaha "Suicide Girl" Again Quits Mate After Tiff

Shirley Okun, Beauty From Broadway Revue Chorus, Calls Policeman to Rescue Her Clothes.

Newark, July 10.—Married—divorced—remarried—and today Shirley and Samuel Okun, former Omaha Neb.) business man, changed the matrimonial arrangement again. Shirley, 19-year-old chorus girl in a Broadway revue, with a policeman for escort, today removed her clothes from her home here.

This latest action was caused, according to police, by Samuel sending his brother-in-law to wait for his wife at the stage door instead of appearing in person.

Sara Shirley Okun, formerly a telephone operator at Hotel Hill, first sprang into prominence May 19, 1922, when she attempted to commit suicide at her apartments, 1434 North Eighteenth street, a day after her husband sued her for divorce.

At the same time love notes alleged to have passed between her and Gilbert Jaffy, 20-year-old violinist, were found in her effects. Jaffy played in Randall's royal orchestra at the Brandeis restaurant.

Heart Balm Suit.
Later a divorce was granted. The divorce was followed by filing of a $25,000 alienation suit against Jaffy by Okun.

On May 22, 1923, a year and four days after the divorce, the Okuns were remarried.

Okun had lost his alienation suit in the meantime.
Since that time little has been heard of the Okuns until receipt of the New York dispatch Thursday.

Crazy About Stage.
However, the desire of Mrs. Okun to get on the stage was one of the complaints lodged against her in the divorce suit.

Her husband testified that she left home three times to go with road shows and had written a number of scenarios which were not accepted.
"She was crazy about going on the stage," Okun told the court.
Her father is B. Goldberg of Omaha.

BLOODHOUND FANCIER DIES
Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee.
Beatrice, Neb., July 10.—Dr. J. B. Fulton, 92, for nearly 50 years a resident of Beatrice, the last of the pioneer physicians of the city, died today.

For 30 years he owned and operated the Beatrice bloodhound kennels, shipping pedigreed dogs to all parts of the world. He had won prizes at Chicago, Kansas City and other places with his dogs which always brought fancy prices. He was one of the oldest Masons in the state.

Two in Gambling Row Bound Over for Trial
Atlantic, Ia., July 10.—Ed Griffin and R. L. Algood, local men, are bound over to the Cass county grand jury as the result of a gambler's row, staged in a box car here on the Fourth of July.

Griffin is charged with gambling, assault and battery with intent to rob. Algood is charged with gambling.
Griffin was arraigned before Judge Whitmore and entered a plea of guilty to a charge of gambling. He was fined $75 and costs and bound over on the assault and robbery charge.

Bryan May Back La Follette, Wisconsin Manager Predicts

Chicago, July 10.—The prediction that William Jennings Bryan would come out for La Follette for president despite the nomination of his brother for vice president by the democrats was made today by Representative John M. Nelson, independent republican, Wisconsin, here to open La Follette headquarters.
"Gov. Charles Bryan's nomination was bait for his brother," said Representative Nelson. "His brother will not, in my opinion, swallow the bait."
The nomination of John W. Davis for president by the democrats over the opposition of the man who was thrice their presidential choice, added to the republicans' slate, insures the election of La Follette as our next president. The reactionaries and the special interests never showed their hand with more reckless defiance."

Nebraska News Nubbins

Pawnee City—Records in the office of County Treasurer Flanagan show that 64 more automobile licenses were issued during the first six months of 1924 than during the same period last year. The number was 2,264. The total number issued during 1923 was 2,504. Treasurer Flanagan says that number will be exceeded this year.

York—W. L. Carlton was found guilty in police court of illegal possession of liquor and of resisting an officer and was fined $100 and costs. Notice of appeal was filed.

Beatrice—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the barn on the Jesse Wyatt farm near Barneston, together with a touring car, hay, grain, harness and farm implements. The loss amounts to about $3,000. The farm is occupied by Jack Daily.

Red Cloud—"Mickey" Mathews of Blue Hill, who was injured when his auto turned over on a newly built piece of gravelled road, two miles north of here Sunday evening, is still in serious condition.

Catlin Rites to Be Here Friday

Former Omaha Woman One of Early Settlers Here.

Funeral services for Mrs. Josephine Homan Catlin, 82, who died July 4 at San Diego, Cal., will be held at 11 Friday morning from St. Barnabas Church, Rev. Lloyd B. Holsapple officiating. Burial will be in Prospect Hill cemetery.
Mrs. Catlin was a daughter of the late George W. Homan, coming to Omaha in 1856. In 1857 she was married to Charles F. Catlin, who brought the first stock of books, stationery and wallpaper across the Missouri river in 1862. He operated a book store at Fourteenth and Douglas streets until 1880.
Mrs. Catlin, with her husband, moved to New York in 1880 and later to Chicago. She was among the first members of the Art Student League of New York and the Art Institute of Chicago.
In 1890 they returned to Omaha, moving eight years later to Salida, Colo., which was their home until they went to California recently.
Mr. Catlin survives. Sidney H. Buffett of Omaha is a nephew of Mrs. Catlin.

Labor Takes Only Slight Interest in Wheat Harvest

Columbus, Neb., July 10.—While there is a surplus of local labor here, the wheat harvest, which will begin in the central Platte valley in the latter part of this week is finding little interest among laborers according to employment bureau men here. The majority of the men who are applying here for harvest jobs come from the Dakotas and Minnesota.

Red Cross to Handle Lorain Relief Fund at Columbus

Columbus, Neb., July 10.—Following a plea to Mayor Julius Nicholas here made by Mayor George Hoffman, Lorain, O., asking aid for the victims of the tornado which swept the Lake Erie vicinity two weeks ago, Mayor Nicholas turned the matter over to the local chapter of the Red Cross, which is making arrangements to aid in the relief drive.

Storm Damages Wheat.

Kearney, Neb., July 10.—A canvass of farmers south of the Platte river, east from Kearney to Newark, disclosed a loss of about 30 per cent of the winter wheat crop as a result of the Tuesday night storm. Other crops were slightly damaged by the hail, losses in apple orchards in the same region being comparatively heavy.

The hail zone was about six miles long and half a mile wide.

Plans Finger Printing Teachers' Examination Papers to Prevent Fraud

Kearney, Neb., July 10.—County Superintendent Gene Loomis is wondering if a system of finger printing would not prove practical in connection with the writing of teachers' examinations. He states that certainly the method would not be so complicated as to comparison of the handwriting in hundreds of papers, as was found necessary in the last examination, when it was discovered that paid writers were doing the work for candidates for certificates in several instances.

The superintendent states that while the percentage of cases in which this fraud was practiced is comparatively small, yet he is determined that all cases be eliminated. The penalty on this misrepresentation is deservedly severe, entailing the cancellation of all grades previously earned, and possibly the barring from future examinations.

FARMER DEMANDED FOR BRYAN'S PLACE

a great deal to say about his successor," was the useful comment of John H. Morehead, a man with a host of friends who wants the job again. "Undoubtedly we must have someone who is in close touch with the farmers."
Morehead was asked if anyone had urged him to enter the fight.
"Yes," he replied, "I have received a number of telephone calls during the day. A person can't make up his mind in 12 hours."
Morehead has filed as a candidate for reelection to congress from the First district.

Shumway Not a Candidate.
"We want a friend of the farmer for governor," Congressman Ashton C. Shallenbarger of Alma said.

"It doesn't make any difference to me who Charlie Bryan detaches for his successor," said W. J. Taylor of Berna, a man who fought for the Bryan brothers in past years. "I'm going to vote for someone else."
"It must be a farm man," declared "Doc" Webber of Wahoo. "My choices are Jefferson Broadway of Lincoln, Kenneth McDonald of Bridgeport or Emil Placock of Wahoo."

4 MORE WYOMING BANKS CLOSED

Cheyenne, Wyo., July 10.—The state examiner's office here was notified of the failure of four small Wyoming banks to open for business today.
New York, July 10.—Closing of the First National bank of Cheyenne yesterday caused considerable uneasiness among stockholders of the Salt Creek Consolidated Oil company, which held quarterly dividend checks drawn on that institution. With local banks refusing to cash them, officials of the company quickly made arrangements with the American National bank of Cheyenne to honor the vouchers, aggregating in value several hundred thousand dollars.

TAPS SOUND FOR PRESIDENT'S SON

faith led him to an allegiance to the church and God.
"He was a boy on whom one could depend, willing to work hard and play the game. There was an alluring quality about him which assured him many friends and drew others to him with bonds of love. One cannot know such a life and not know something of the divine in men."

Women Sob.
Women sob audibly through the auditorium, men bow their heads, but the three Coolidges remain alone, still quite calm. Rev. Jason Noble Pierce, pastor of the president's church in Washington, and officiator at the service in the East room of the white House, speaks more words of comfort from the scripture.

The dead boy's friends and his parents' friends pass the glass-topped casket by the score. They file from the church. The father and mother and brother gaze for the last time on the face they love, a very boyish face. The return to the station is begun. Then the train pulls out on its way to Plymouth.

FARM EDITORS IN CONVENTION

Brookings, S. D., July 10.—Agricultural editors and professors of agricultural journalism from 13 states reported at the opening session of the 12th annual conference of the American Association of Agricultural College editors in Brookings Tuesday. A special feature of the first day's session was a frank discussion of the agricultural college news service.

Addresses of welcome were given by Dr. A. A. Harris for the city and President C. W. Pugsley for state college. The entire delegation was entertained Tuesday by the Rotary club and on Thursday by the Kiwanis club.

On Friday, Charles McCaffee, secretary of the Sioux Falls Chamber of Commerce, and W. W. Sanders, editor of the Gorham News, will take the guests on a tour of typical country and town visits in Brookings, Moody and Minnehaha counties, with entertainment at Brookings, Sioux Falls and Dell Rapids.

The annual banquet on Wednesday evening was favored with readings of poetry by Badger Clark, South Dakota's cowboy poet.
