Defeated Candidate Refuses to Say Whether or Not He'll Support Davis-Bryan Slate.

Rockwell Pledges Aid

New York, July 11 .- Before leav Island, John W. Davis, democratic nominee for president, put in a busy of callers, among them William G. day McAdoo, Governor Smith and Cordell

After an hour's conference alone with Mr. Davis, Mr. McAdoo said he France Justified had called simply to pay his respects to the nominee, whom he had known for many years. When asked whether he would support Mr. Davis and Bryan, the Californian replied:

"I'll deal with that question in a statement that I shall issue before I sail for Europe tomorrow, if I can find time to prepare it."

Rockwell Pledges Support.

Simultaneously with Mr. McAdoo's call at the house of Frank L. Polk where Mr. Davis spent the day, David Ladd Rockwell, who had charge of Mr. McAdoo's campaign for the nomination, made public at a hotel a letter to Mr. Davis in which Mr. Rockwell pledged his support and asserted that no candidate ever had had a clearer title to a nomination than Mr. Davis. Mr. Rockwell told correspondents that it was inconceivable to him that Mr. McAdoo should decline to give his support to his success-

Though Mr. Davis discussed party orvanization, especially the selection of a national chairman and campaign manager, with Mr. Hull and George White of Ohio, who had charge of the Cox campaign in 1920, ing Mr. MacDonald's declaration in tives of naming the democratic guberhe reached no decision as to the the ho of a democratic field marshal for the forthcoming campaign.
