

Vestibule Front of Two Windows Will Cost $75,000

Department Store Project on Sixteenth Street Will Double Display Space Behind Glass

A remodeling project involving $75,000 was started by the Brandeis stores Thursday morning. The entire Sixteenth street side of the store is to be made into a vestibule front, cutting 20 feet off the front of the store, but giving more than three times as much window display space.

Passerby were given a surprise Friday morning when they found an arcade over the sidewalk on Sixteenth street. It was built temporarily to allow the workmen to remodel the store itself and to provide ample window space at the same time.

The temporary arcade was put up practically overnight, being finished, painted, lighted and dressed Friday night. It contains 10 show windows, itself twice as many as the building proper did.

One Main Entrance. The new project will furnish instead of the old five windows, 16 show windows and six showcases. There will be only one main entrance on the east side of the building, the two present entrances being made into huge show windows, 20 feet square each.

To the left of the present corner entrance and to the right of the present alley entrance will be the entrance to the nine-foot vestibule. The vestibule leads to the main entrance with three revolving doors, the entrance being 10 feet wide.

This will leave what might be called a glass island in the center, 60 feet long. It will contain numerous showcases and windows, and will have no back.

Complete September 1. Selwyn S. Jacobs company are the general contractors on the job, while George B. Prinz is doing the architectural work. They expect to have the project completed by September 1. The vestibule front is a new thing in Omaha, but is already popular in big department stores in other cities. It will make the store look entirely different.

Although plans are not complete, it is understood that the work of remodeling will be continued around the Douglas street side of the store. The entrance in the center of the store will be brought down to the level of the sidewalk and a huge stairway built leading directly down to the main floor.

At the present time, there are steps leading up to a balcony and then small stairways down on either side. This second improvement would make two main entrances leading into the heart of the store.

Pawnee Water Shortage Due to Clogging of Wells. Pawnee City, Neb., July 11.—Shortage of water in Pawnee City may be due to faulty construction of wells, according to Garfield men of the Kelley Well company.

Two years ago the council installed two special wells guaranteed for one year. They performed perfectly for over a year, even supplying water so plentifully that only one well was needed, a condition which had never prevailed before in Pawnee City, but late last summer the wells again became clogged with light sand, and before, so that it was nearly impossible for water to drain through.

The field representative said that although the guarantee had expired the company would send an engineer to examine the wells and if the water shortage was found to be due to faulty construction the wells would be reconstructed.

K. C. & N. W. Railroad May Resume Operation. Beatrice, Neb., July 11.—There is some talk of reviving the defunct K. C. & N. W. railroad. Three farmers who recently purchased the company's property in Gage county at Virginia, for $3,100, for back taxes amounting to nearly $10,000, have turned it back to railroad officials for the price they paid.

Summerfield and other towns along the route are awaiting the question of putting the road in operation once more. The line runs from Virginia, Neb., to Kansas City.

Scott Resigns as Secretary of Wymore School Board. Wymore, Neb., July 11.—At a regular meeting of the Wymore board of education, C. B. Scott, secretary, tendered his resignation, effective at once. Mr. Scott has been a member of the board for the past six years and served as president last year. The duties of the office have been taking all of his spare time and he finds that he has to lighten his work. Mr. Scott is ticket agent for the Burlington railway here.

Youths Confess Robbery. York, July 11.—Frank Connolly, 21; Homer Johnson, 19, and Hans Christensen, 20, all of Beaver Crossing, confessed to Deputy Sheriff Schroeder that they entered the Fairchild grocery and Tinker hardware store in Waco and escaped with $5 cents in money and $100 in merchandise June 26. The deputy sheriff who had been working on the case since the day of the robbery, arrested the youths Tuesday.

Shockers Paid $4 a Day. Geneva, Neb., July 11.—Thirty-five harvest hands have been supplied by the office of the county agricultural agent during the past week. The men are principally from the Dakotas and Kansas and will work northward as the season closes in Nebraska. The hands are young men as a rule. They receive $4 a day for shocking grain.

250-Pound Receiver of McGee Jolt Too Large for Cell and Is Asthmatic

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Fremont, Neb., July 11.—"Mammy," a huge colored woman, sent to the Dodge county jail as a result of Federal Judge McGee's stiff sentences in liquor law violations, may be returned to Omaha for two reasons.

First, because she is so large that it is only with much difficulty that she can enter her cell. Secondly, she is a victim of asthma and in her sufferings keeps the jail attendants awake throughout the night attending to her wants.

Officials attempting a conservative estimate of Mammy's avoirdupois, say she will tip the beam at 250 pounds. And even after she does ooze through the portals of her cell, the narrow cotts offer but little comfort to one of her dimensions.

She is by far the largest woman ever housed at the Dodge county jail. There are six other women now being detained at the jail, but they are small compared to Mammy.

In addition, there are no accommodations at the Fremont jail to care for Mammy's asthma. As a result it is probable that officials will ask that she be returned to Omaha.

Picnic Eatables Gain Popularity

Outdoor Meals Always Appealing; Melons and Fruits Plentiful.

By MARKET BASKET. Outdoor eating is the most popular sport among Omahans at this time. A lunch in the park seems to require less coaxing of the appetite than a large meal at home. Everywhere, market baskets are carried away filled with picnic eatables of all sorts.

Short cut steaks are sold by the dozens to picnic parties and later find their way to the park ovens where they are roasted. Smoked tongue is another meat which is friendly with the appetite. Frys are also being bought extensively.

But during the hot days no dinner is complete without some cool thirst quencher. The markets are all well prepared to satisfy the thirsty. A large variety of drinks can be purchased as well as ingredients with which to make one's own. Fruit nectars in all the desired flavors are in display which merely require the addition of water and delicious punch is obtained. Hardly a market shopper is seen to leave a food shop without buying some sort of fresh fruit. Extra large fancy Gavoite and Wickson plums are on the market at 39 cents a small basket. Other plums can be had for 49 cents a basket, which is 10 cents cheaper than last week.

Peaches are nice and ripe at this time for 25 cents a basket. Cantaloupe is a la mode, a popular summer dish, can now be had at a reasonable price, as cantaloupes can be purchased as low as three large ones for 25 cents or two for 15 cents.

Watermelons are also cheaper, selling at 3 cents a pound. Strawberries are a little more plentiful in the markets. At present all strawberries are shipped from Wisconsin, but they will not be on the market much longer. Home grown cherries are selling for $1.25 a basket and should be canned now. A full line of berries can be purchased at a price ranging from 10 to 15 cents a box.

With the exception of new potatoes, which are now selling at 45 cents a sack, vegetables remain at about the same price. Cauliflower sells for 12 1/2 cents a head, small green onions are three bunches for 5 cents.
