NINETEENTH YEAR.

McCOOK, RED WILLOW COUNTY, NEBRASKA, FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 9, 1900.

NUMBER 26

SOCIAL ITEMS.

MRS. H. A. BRALE RECEIVES.
Mrs. H. A. Beale was at home, Thursday afternoon, to a large company of lady friends of the city. Mrs. Beale and sister, Miss Sarah M. Cool, received in the parlor, which was decorated in white and yellow chrysanthemums, with a very pleasing effect.

Refreshments were served in the dining-room, which was decorated in patriotic colors, red predominating. The dining-room was darkened, and illuminated by candles in handsome candelabras. Mrs. W. V. Gage and Mrs. H. H. Tartsch assisted at the refreshment table; Mrs. F. A. Pennell at the coffee table; Mrs. T. M. Munly and Mrs. Howard Stoy at the punch bowl. Mrs. G. R. Snyder also assisted.

The guests received as souvenirs little flags.

Among those present from out-of-town were: Mrs. H. L. Kennedy, Mrs. O. H. Osborne and Mrs. N. G. Ingersoll, all of Cambridge.

A KENSINGTON.

Mrs. F. M. Kimmell entertained about two score ladies, last Friday afternoon at 2:30, at a Kensington in honor of her mother, Mrs. J. B. Mieserve of Lincoln. Floral conundrums were the chief medium of entertainment, each guest being provided with a prettily illuminated booklet containing fifteen floral conundrums. Thirty minutes were devoted to the solution of the conundrums. Mrs. C. H. Meeker and Mrs. H. P. Sutton tied for the principal prize, the former winning in the drawing. Mrs. S. L. Green secured the booby. The prizes were decorated fruit plates.

Refreshments were served at an opportune time and punch during the afternoon. Miss Nina Doan, Miss Ona Simons and Mrs. E. E. Magee of Fairmount assisted.

A tasteful decorative effect was secured with an attractive disposition of palms, ferns, carnations and chrysanthemums.

ENJOYABLE AT HOME.

Mrs. George J. Beck was at home to about a score of lady friends, last Friday afternoon, entertaining in a very enjoyable manner. The residence was tastefully decorated for the occasion. Dainty refreshments were served. She was assisted by Mrs. M. A. Northrup, Mrs. J. K. Cousins, Miss Mayme Sharkey and Miss Lora LeHew.

THE AWL-OS.

Misses Stangland entertained the Awl-Os club, last evening, in the usual happy manner of the club. The attendance was somewhat limited on account of other social attractions during the week, but the evening was passed very enjoyably notwithstanding.

STILLMAN-MCCOY.

Invitations are out for the marriage of Minnie E. daughter of Mr. Frank Stillman, to Mr. James J. McCoy on Wednesday, November 14th, high noon. They will be at home, after December 1st, Frontier county.

THE FORTNIGHTLY.

The second dance of the Fortnightly club, last evening, was well attended and was characterized by all the happy particulars which go with that form of social gaiety.

"FOR A SOCIAL EVENING."

The Order of the Eastern Star has out invitations "for a social evening" in Masonic hall, this evening.

A Word From California.

George Hanlein, who is now located in Bryn Mawr, Calif., where he recently moved from Washington, writes us that he is now holding a position under Dr. M. N. Eskay, formerly of Bartley, who is now manager of a company of physicians, who have opened a large sanitarium and health-resort at Bryn Mawr, which is in the orange-growing region and about 65 miles east of Los Angeles. He says the locality as to scenery etc. is lovely, but the heat, even at this time of year, is well nigh unendurable. The fruit, all of which is grown by irrigation, is a pleasing sight to see, and the picking of my first orange from the tree was an unusually delightful experience. He adds that while waiting for a train in Los Angeles, some time since, he met Mr. Hocknell of McCook, with whom he had a brief talk. Mr. Hocknell's orange grove, or one of them, is near Bryn Mawr. He says that the folks were in good health when he left Washington, the close of September, and at that time the long winter rains had set in, closing with kindly regards to former friends and acquaintances.

Two Devastations.

This section of Nebraska has been devastated by city hunters, past two weeks, and birds killed by the wholesale. Last week, the invasion was from Omaha, and this week from Denver. Both were numerous parties; they were all well equipped for a wholesale slaughter of the innocent little quails and prairie chickens, and they went away with well-filled bags of game. Next summer, when the grasshoppers and chintz-bugs are devouring the farmers' crops, without the interference of the two or three thousand birds slaughtered by these municipal hunters, the farmer of this section should send in their bill for damages to the gentlemen composing the two parties and others. The loss will doubtless be made good by them with pleasure.

Cole's Hot Blast.

We are enjoying a great run on Cole's Hot Blast heaters. They give complete satisfaction and command the strongest recommendations from all who use them.

S. M. COCHRAN & CO.

They say that Oom Paul has deserted his old place of business and is probably coming to America; but Everist, Marsh & Co. are still doing business at the old stand, and selling the best the market can produce in their line.

Wall Paper Remnants from 2c to 15c per roll. Special low prices on all paper. You can save money by buying early.

He is still very ill, but some better at this writing.

A Burlington man has a few prosperity figures to offer. Nearly a year ago a new scale of pay for switchmen was made effective. Before it went into effect day switchmen, who worked thirty-one days in the month received $55.57 for their labor. Now they receive $80.48. Under the old scale night switchmen received $71.54, while they now receive $86.44. Day foremen received $77.50, but they now get $99.42, while night foremen received under the old scale $83.46. They now receive $95.38. The aggregate amount paid out to laborers in the Lincoln yards this month will greatly exceed the amount paid out one year ago.—Nebraska State Journal.

The Election in McCook.

There was a deep and keen—but though quiet—interest in the national, state and congressional elections in McCook, and a full vote was cast, considering the fact that so many of our voters must of necessity be out on the road on that important day, as upon all other days. All day long and late into the night, the interest continued unabated, and when the returns, even at an early hour, indicated the expected re-election of President McKinley, the enthusiasm was something McKinleyque. This enthusiasm and interest was later increased and heightened by the indications that Nebraska would come into the McKinley column, that the Republicans might elect the state and legislative tickets as well.

The only item of discouragement were the returns from the Fifth district, as the people of McCook were naturally very deeply touched by the candidacy of W. S. Morlan for congressman from the Fifth district. While McCook and Red Willow county stood by him nobly, he was unable to overcome the large pluralities of the Fusion counties, and the defections of a few Republican counties, and suffered defeat by the small plurality of 424 as developed from reliable, though not official, returns. THE TRIBUNE is forced to admit that this is a keen disappointment to most of the people of McCook, and we have no doubt that this sentiment is largely felt all over the district, who had reasonable hopes that the district would be redeemed and safely placed in the Republican column, this fall.

The stalwart type of McCook Republicanism is told in unmistakable figures in the abstract of the official returns to be found elsewhere in this issue.

In the Fifth District.

After one of the strongest fights ever put up in the "Big Fifth" district against a large Fusion plurality, Webster S. Morlan, the Republican nominee of our city, was defeated by about four hundred votes, as the following table discloses. While the results given are not official, they are practically so, and may be relied upon. Not being able at this time to secure the totals for each candidate, we give the pluralities received by each in the several counties carried by them:

Adams	Morlan	Shallenberger
Chase	221	72
Clay	79	69
Dundy	38	171
Franklin	128	9
Frontier	128	119
Furnas	9	220
Gosper	220	213
Hall	213	42
Harlan	42	81
Hayes	15	11
Hitchcock	11	42
Kimball	42	81
Keokuk	81	124
Kearney	124	31
Lincoln	31	96
Red Willow	96	1181
Webster	1181	384
Total	863	1184
Shallenberger's plurality		321

Carroll Went Gunnung.

Wednesday afternoon, Joseph S. McBrayer was shot in the head by Emmet Carroll, (husband of the woman whom it is alleged by the Carrolls that McBrayer had upon a number of occasions assaulted,) and quite severely injured, the bullet lodging just under the skull, from which it was later in the evening removed by the surgeons. Carroll has not been apprehended, although a search was subsequently made for him. A warrant is now in the hands of the sheriff, and it is hoped in time to secure him.

Carroll has been absent in Wyoming for some time railroading, and returned home to vote. Upon his arrival home, the story of the alleged assaults was related to him, and on Tuesday evening he went to the hardware store of H. P. Waite and purchased a revolver with which he proposed to avenge the alleged crime against his home. Meeting Mr. McBrayer just outside of his office at the livery barn, early in the afternoon, he fired twice at him, one of the shots taking effect in the head as above stated. After the shooting he escaped and is still at large.

When Carroll commenced shooting, McBrayer was unarmed and retreated into his office after his revolver. Hearing the shooting, Joseph Spotts, who was in the immediate neighborhood, started into the barn, and McBrayer, mistaking him for Carroll, shot at him twice, narrowly missing Spotts, who has not yet fully recovered from the fright he received.

The bullet was removed from Mr. McBrayer's head, Wednesday night, and he is getting along favorably.

As to the merits of the case, THE TRIBUNE will await their development in a proper tribunal.

LATER.

Developments, this morning, show that Carroll took to the country at once, going north-west. Up in Coleman precinct, he appeared at the farm of R. J. Traphagen, toward dusk, and borrowed a horse, by stating that he was looking for some straying horses or cattle of Wilcox & Filtraff's. He has not been seen since, and Mr. Traphagen will be grateful for any information concerning his horse. The play seemed to be here in the city to put the police on the wrong track and to detain them as long as possible at different places in the city, in order to let Carroll get away. At any rate, that has been the result.

To California in a Tourist Sleeper.

In no other way can you go to California so quickly, so comfortably, and yet so economically, as in a tourist sleeping car.

The tourist cars used for the Burlington overland excursions are models of comfort and convenience. They have wide vestibules, high back seats and double windows. They are lighted by gas. The heating arrangements are admirable and the bed furnishings are clean and of good quality.

The Burlington excursions leave Omaha every Tuesday and Thursday and go through to San Francisco and Los Angeles without changes or delays of any kind. You can join them at Lincoln, Hastings, Oxford, or any other station at which the train stops. The route is through Denver and Salt Lake City, past the finest scenery visible from car windows anywhere on the globe.

An experienced excursion manager is in charge of each excursion party and a uniformed porter accompanies each car.
