A Wonderful Apple

Remarkable Accomplishment of a Maine Farmer.

To have the memory of John Grant, who brought to Maine a remarkable distinction a half century ago, the armers of Waldo and Kennebec counties of the Pine Tree state are to hold celebrations in the several towns of the countryside. Grant was looked upon as a harmless crank when he was live, fame coming years after he was dead. The story goes that he was the son of an Irish soldier who deserted from the British army during the revolutionary war and married a half-breed Indian squaw, from which union many of the Grants in the east are said to have descended. The elder Grant was part lumberman, part farmer and more than half hunter, getting precarious living from many callings and dying a week after he received notice that a pension had been granted for his services in the war of 1812.

Grant, the son, inherited more than 1,000 acres of land and a lot of bad habits from his father. Invented a New Apple. John Grant's only claim to fame lies in the fact that he invented a new breed of apples in the days when he was given over to sin. Most new and desirable varieties of apples are produced by planting the seeds of the natural fruit, and selecting the best result of many plantings as the tree years, he swore a big oath that he would build an apple that should feed the sailors and enable him to have some sweet fruit in his cellar for the winter.

Shunned as the Evil One. The Indian blood in his veins had made Grant quick of observation and enabled him to learn things about nature that are concealed from most men. He was led to believe that if he could split the scion from a sweet tree and another scion from a sour tree in halves, and place the half of a sweet scion against the half of a sour scion and make them fit so exactly that both sides would live if they were inserted in a healthy stock, he would produce a fruit that was sour on one side and sweet on the other. On trying the experiment he found that such a result was not possible from the terminal bud of the twin scion, but all shoots further down the graft would yield sweet fruit on one side and sour fruit on the other. Though the terminal bud is hard to make live, Grant was successful in about one trial out of ten, and when his sour and sweet apples were found growing in the orchard, the builder of the fruit was pronounced as one possessed of Satan, and shunned by the truly good as if he had been an CULBERTSON.

Women and Jewels.

Jewels, candy, flowers, man—that is the order of woman's preferences. Jewels form a magnet of mighty power to the average woman. Even the greatest of all jewels, health, is often ruined in the strenuous efforts to make or save the money to purchase them. If a woman will risk her health to get a coveted gem, then let her fortify herself against the insidious consequences of coughs, colds and bronchial affections by the regular use of Dr. Boschee's German Syrup. It will promptly arrest consumption in its early stages and heal the affected lungs and bronchial tubes and drive the dread disease from the system. It is not a cure-all, but it is a certain cure for coughs, colds and all bronchial troubles. You can get Dr. G. G. Green's reliable remedies at McConnell & Berry. Get Green's Special Almanac.

Dr. Kay's Renovator for dyspepsia. Sold by A. McMillen and D. W. Loar.

"Last winter an infant child of mine had croup in a violent form," says Elder John W. Rogers, a Christian Evangelist, of Filley, Mo. "I gave her a few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and in a short time all danger was past and the child recovered." This remedy not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the first symptoms appear, will prevent the attack. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to a baby as to an adult. For sale by McConnell & Berry, druggists.

If you have sore throat, soreness across the back or side, or your lungs feel sore or tender, or you are threatened with diphtheria or pneumonia apply Ballard's Snow Liniment and use Ballard's Horehound Cypur. A. McMillen.

Brain-Food Nonsense.

Another ridiculous food fad has been branded by the most competent authorities. They have dispelled the silly notion that one kind of food is needed for brain, another for muscles, and still another for bones. A correct diet will not only nourish a particular part of the body, but it will sustain every other part. Yet, however good your food may be, its nutriment is destroyed by indigestion or dyspepsia. You must prepare for their appearance or prevent their coming by taking regular doses of Green's August Flower, the favorite medicine of the healthy millions. A few doses aids digestion, stimulates the liver to healthy action, purifies the blood, and makes you feel buoyant and vigorous. You can get Dr. G. G. Green's reliable remedies at McConnell & Berry's. Get Green's Special Almanac.
