PHILLIPS the Pharisee is willing to risk the judgment that Hinky Dink has finally struck his gait as a sugar beet raiser—by proxy.

ONE of the marvels of the age is the fact that any good comes out of Nazareth, considering the corruption and grafts which are and have been pillaging and disgracing America's cities.

THERE is only one creditable feature connected with the recent disclosures in the postoffice department; namely, the evident disposition of the department head to probe the matter to the bottom and to remove the offenders and bring about justice.

UNDER the provisions of the new law passed by the late legislature and which we believe will go into effect July 1st, indemnity or security bonds will have to be given by all banks receiving county funds.

THE strike or labor question is rapidly forging to the front as one of the imperative questions for early solution and settlement by the American people.

PUBLIC FREE LIBRARY NOTES.

Two traveling libraries will be sent to McCook during the continuance of the junior normal, this summer.

Why does the reader of today prefer the new and the untried book to the old, whose qualities are known—to the book that has endured the severest test that a book can be put to—the test of time?

It is a phenomenon difficult to account for. The new books are not necessarily in more attractive form than the old. They are not more modern if they are more recent.

Who that has read Ivanhoe and Kenilworth, David Copperfield and Tale of Two Cities, Vanity Fair and Esmond has not derived infinitely more pleasure from the perusal than he has from reading any of the current book that he can name?

Following is a list of the books in the Traveling Library No. 20, which have just been received by the library:

IN THE TENNESSEE MOUNTAINS—Cradlock. Japhet in Search of a Father—Marryat. Men With the Bark On—Remington. Inlander—Robertson. Sweethearts and Wives—Rogers. Dred—Stowe.

MISCELLANEOUS. Days Out of Doors—Abbott. Story of Our War With Spain—Brooks. Story of the Stars—Chambers. Wall Street Point of View—Clews. Men I Have Known—Farrar. Nathaniel Hawthorne—Fields. Little Journeys to Homes of American Statesmen—Hubbard.

CHILDREN'S FICTION. For the Honor of the School—Barbour. Story of the Odyssey—Brooks. Man Without a Country—Hale. Little Colonel's Holiday—Johnston. Little Peter—Mallet. Four of Them—Monlon. Child Stories and Rhymes—Poulson. Youngest Girl in School—Sharp. Captain Folly—Sweet. Lou Crout—Vail.

MISCELLANEOUS. Uncle Sam's Soldiers—Austin. Birds and All Nature. Stories of Discovery—Hale. Young Folk's Book of Explorers—Higginson. Among the Farmyard People—Pierson. Great West—Pratt. Stories from Shakespeare—Pratt. Great American Industries—Picheleau. Child's Garden of Verse—Stevenson. Nature Study—Wilson.

Tired Out

"I was very poorly and could hardly get about the house. I was tired out all the time. Then I tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and it only took two bottles to make me feel perfectly well."—Mrs. N. S. Swinney, Princeton, Mo.

Tired when you go to bed, tired when you get up, tired all the time. Why? Your blood is impure, that's the reason. You are living on the border line of nerve exhaustion. Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla and be quickly cured.

Ask your doctor what he thinks of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. He knows all about this grand old family medicine. Follow his advice and we will be satisfied.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of cholera or cholera morbus, often before medicine could be procured of a physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand.

The Appetite of Human Nature

When Uneda Biscuit were first introduced, a conservative said:

"They are all right as far as they go, but they won't satisfy the worker. The worker, you see, wants something solid, and substantial, and plain—like potatoes, cabbage, or beef. These delicate and crisp biscuit, packed so daintily, in that In-cr-seal Package, will not appeal to him any more than winter strawberries."

That sounded like good reasoning. But fact upsets theory.

Workers everywhere have been great consumers of Uneda Biscuit. The outdoor worker, seated at noon upon the sidewalk, a house wall for his back rest; mill hands in the mill yard, seated on comfortable bales; teamsters and draymen, on their high box seats—all have eaten Uneda Biscuit, and their wives have eaten them, and their children have eaten them.

Another conservative took another view:

"Uneda Biscuit are all right," he said, "to sell to the workers, but you must not expect to sell them to the more prosperous people. They are too cheap. Five cents a package—that kills Uneda Biscuit so far as the wealthy are concerned. The price should be higher—they are worth it."

That, too, sounded reasonable, but it also turned out to be only theory.

For the greatest grocers of the city and of the country say Uneda Biscuit have taken the place of the more expensive biscuit. Over 200,000,000 packages have been consumed.

The worker eats Uneda Biscuit because of their goodness.

The wealthy eat them because of their delicacy.

The whole world eats them because they represent the highest value as a food product—pure, wholesome, good.

The appetite of human nature always relishes a good change of diet—Uneda Milk Biscuit is a change that never disappoints.

BY HIS FATHER.

He is gone, God be with him, our own darling boy.

Our hearts feel full sorely, and sadly this day.

Yet in some sense there is cause for much joy.

Since only the body is mouldering away; The spirit, the soul, the senses of pleasure, Of peace and of happiness, they never die; This knowledge alone is to us a vast treasure, Well knowing the life of our own darling boy.

He lived as one should, he avoided the evil.

He worshiped his God, he was ready to go; Thoughtful and honest, decent and civil, Willing for justice to dare and to do.

Respected by all who happened to know him, Patient in suffering, slow to complain; Long we'll remember him, discarding oblivion, Thankful to God that our loss is his gain.

He is gone to receive his well-earned reward In mansions of bliss with our Heavenly Lord;

Be grateful my heart he is now free from pain, Though lost to us here we shall see him again.

OTEO County by Congressman VanWyck.

When Charles H. VanWyck was still a resident of New York state and a member of congress from the Empire state, he made investments in Oteo county lands.

After returning home from a visit to the county in the early spring of 1872 he wrote the Middleton (N. Y.) Press a description of that county, two paragraphs of which are here reproduced from the Red Willow Gazette of February, 1872:

"It opens upon one of the most beautiful and rich agricultural countries the eye anywhere beholds. Gently swelling prairies roll beautifully away to the north, the south, and west, so that the eyes tire not in looking and are only limited by the faroff horizon. A soil rich in fertility, equal to the richest of the Nile, with but little labor from man rewards generously the husbandman."

"No matter how often you may roam over these boundless prairies the wonder will still grow at the grand and boundless munificence of the Creator in unrolling this vast region, almost as limitless in extent as inexhaustible in fertility; and the mind is always bewildered in the contemplation of the great wealth hidden in the soil—not hidden, but more open to the eye and hand of man than the spangles of gold that enrich the gulches or sparkle by the foamy water courses of Colorado. Why should man anywhere hunger when these broad savannahs could furnish bread not only for our own but all the nations of the earth? The sky with all its system of planets, the ocean without depth and bounds, do not impress the beholder more with the power and goodness of the Creator than the life-sustaining capacity of the western prairies."

There is an aching and tired feeling; the liver, bowels and kidneys become sluggish and inactive, the digestion impaired, with little or no appetite, no ambition for anything, and a feeling that the whole body and mind needs toning up. The trouble is that during winter, there has been an accumulation of waste matter in the system. Herbine will remove it, secure to the secretions a right exit, and by its tonic effect, fully restore the wasted tissues and give strength in place of weakness. 50c at A. McMillen's.
