TWENTY-FIRST YEAR.

McCOOK, RED WILLOW COUNTY, NEBRASKA, FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 13, 1903.

NUMBER

A Plea For Proper Observance.

THE TRIBUNE is reminded of the near approach of Decoration day and again yesterday, on business. wishes to utter a plea for a more appropriate observance of the day. The day has gradually come to be recognized as a holiday, a day for sports etc. Manifestly this is in no wise the object of the day, and a steady, resolute effort should be made to the end that the American people shall come to a better appreciation of the high and noble purpose of the day. Sports are all right in their place-perhaps, we are making Jack a dull boy with too little play,—but we are of opinion that Decoration day should be put to a better use.

We hope this year that McCook may give the day a befitting observance. If at the close of the exercises some sports are provided it cannot be specially objectionable, but during the exercises all business and sports should be suspended and the time exclusively devoted to the usual exercises, addresses, music, and the decoration of the graves of the veterans who have gone on before.

Let the people of McCook, the societies etc., join in this purpose to appropriately observe and celebrate Decoration day, this year, and thus honor themselves and the holy purpose of the day.

Junior Normals Flourishing.

The success of the five junior normal schools provided for by the recent session of the legislature is already assured. an average of more than four hundred pupils having registered for each school for the summer session. The musical directors of the several schools were in consultation with the superintendent of public instruction Saturday morning regarding the program of study to be carried out. Music is to be made a special feature of the course at each school and music teachers of ability have been engaged to head the departments of the several schools. Prof. W. H. Gardner of Auburn, principal and musical director of North Platte school; Superintendent A. A. Gregory of Crete, principal and musical director of the Valentine school; Prof. C. H. Miller of Wahoo, instructor and musical director of the Holdrege school, and Prof. H. E. Bradford of Lincoln, instructor and musical director of the McCook school, were present at the Scottsbluff and are guests of J. H. Yarconsultation Saturday morning. The Junior Normal School.

Circulars of information have been received from the state department of public instruction relative to the junior normal school, located at Mc-Cook. A ten weeks' term will be held, commencing June 8th.

Those in charge of the school will be: Supt. G. H. Thomas, of McCook, principal; Supt. A. O. Thomas, of Kearney, FRED S. HARRIS spent the early days Miss Cora O'Connell of the Fremont of Lincoln, instructors; and Mrs. Sarah Brindley, of Columbus, conductor of the model school and primary methods.

The tuition is absolutely free; not even an institute fee can be charged. Attendants must be "fourteen years of age' and "have a fair knowledge of the common school branches."

The cost of board and room will vary from $3 to $4.50 per week, but the local committee will make strenuous efforts to assist visiting teachers and keep this item of their expense while here at the lowest possible figure.

The course of study will embrace all subjects required for a first, second and third grade certificate, and will follow closely that of the state normal school, at Peru. Credit will be given there for work done here. A principal feature of the normal school will be the model training class and class of methods. Mrs. Brindley, the conductor, has a statewide reputation, and her work will be specially helpful to the young or prospective teacher.

The entertainment features will be strong. Music will be given special attention. Mr. Bradford will have charge of two chorus classes daily.

The Captain Alberti Lectures. The members and friends of McCook lodge No. 135, A. F. and A.
