

THE PILLS THAT CURE RHEUMATISM

Mrs. Henry Story, of No. 532 Muskingum Ave., Zanesville, Ohio, says: "My husband suffered from rheumatism so that he could hardly stand. His back hurt and he had such pain in his left arm that he could not rest night or day. The doctor did him no good and it was not until he tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that he was helped. Six boxes cured him completely and he has not had an ache or a pain since. We think the pills are the best medicine in the world."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People

cure rheumatism because they make new blood. It would be folly not to try a remedy with such a convincing record of cures.

The First Drop Counts.
Percy—Molly, for your sake I'd shed the last drop of my blood!
Molly—Yes, all young men say that. But somehow they seem very careful never to shed the first drop.—New Yorker.

The Best Place for It.
"I'd like to make a good, safe bet on the election," said Chance. "What would you advise?"
"Put your money in it, by all means," replied Mr. Wise.
"In what?"
"A good safe."

Who Was Conceited?
"If there's anything I hate it's a conceited person, and that Blowley is certainly the limit."
"What makes you think him conceited?"
"He told someone he knew as much as I know."

A Money-Making Combination.
Friend—How are you doing now?
Scribbler—First rate. Rev. Mr. Saintlike and I have gone into partnership. Making money hand over fist.
"Eh? How do you manage?"
"I write books and he denounces them."—New York Weekly.

Nothing Fast About Him.
Gladys (sighing)—Oh, dear, he hasn't proposed yet.
Ethel—Well, what can you expect of a chap who never runs his auto over ten miles an hour!—Puck.

A Common Occurrence.
Wife—That's a pretty legend about Leander being drowned while trying to swim the Hellespont to Hero, isn't it?
Husband—Duplicated continually in modern life, my dear.
Wife—I don't understand.
Husband—Every day I hear of some man going under because he attempted to "come across" in response to his wife's demands.

His Evening Welcome.
Newlywed—"My wife is a very thorough and methodical housekeeper. She's a great trouble saver."

NOVELTY TO PRINCE HENRY. TO KEEP FLOWERS FRESH.

Reward for the First Man Who Called Him a Blockhead.

Prince Henry of Prussia, while riding in an automobile near Kiel recently, suddenly found his way blocked by a large farm wagon which was going at a snail's pace. The prince's chauffeur blew his horn over and over again, but it produced no effect on the sturdy old farmer who was guiding the sluggish horses, and finally the prince told the chauffeur to try to pass the wagon at all hazards. This he did, and though the passage was very narrow, he skilfully managed to avoid an accident. The horses plunged, however, as the puffing machine passed by them, and the old farmer, roused from his apathy, poured forth a storm of maledictions on the stalwart gentleman in the automobile.

"You're nothing but a big blockhead!" he finally shouted; and at the words the prince whispered to the chauffeur, who at once left the carriage and went up to the old man.
"What do you mean by calling his royal highness a blockhead?" he asked him.
"Heavens above! Is that his royal highness?" stammered the farmer. "Good Lord! I didn't know 'twas him."
"All right," answered the chauffeur. "The prince is satisfied that you did not know him, and as you are the first person who has ever called him a blockhead he wishes to return the compliment by presenting you with these five dollars."

In Kansas After the War.

After the civil war a Boston man was stopping at the Planters' house, the principal hotel of Leavenworth, Kan., and coming down to breakfast late one morning he partook of that meal with the landlord.
"Well, Mr. —," said the landlord, "how do you like our western country?"
"I like it very well," said the Boston man, "or would it society here were in a more settled state."
"Nonsense," said the landlord, "our society is as settled as that of Boston."

Just then a man named Anthony burst into the dining-room and out of a back door, with a man named Jennison pumping lead at him at every jump, and following him out into the outbuilding in the rear of the hotel.

"How about society being as settled here as in Boston?" said the Boston man as he and the landlord crawled out from under opposite sides of the table.

"I had forgotten about that Anthony-Jennison matter," said the landlord; "but if Doc Jennison has caught up with Anthony that is settled by this time."—Boston Herald.

can't read the names of half the dishes; some of them are hard enough even to spell."
Brown—"Well, my experience is that most of them spell indigestion."—Philadelphia Press.

Too Light.
"Ugh!" grunted Mr. Skinnay, who was being uncomfortably crowded by the jolly looking fat man, "these cars should charge by weight."
"Think so?" replied the fat man; "why, they'd hardly think it worth while to stop for you."

There Is, Indeed.
City Editor—Why do you say he ran into the police station "puffing and blowing"? "Puffing" and "blowing" are synonymous.
Reporter—Not at all. There's a vast difference, for instance, between puffing a man up and blowing him up.

Literal Fulfillment of a Prediction.
"Bigglesley ought to be much pleased over the success of one of his prophecies."
"How was that?"
"Why, he said that a certain little fellow who used to work in an adjoining office was bound to rise in the world."
"And did it come true?"
"Yes. The boy grew up and became an expert porch climber."

He Was Envious.
The Groom—You look envious, old man.
Best Man—Well, I am.
The Groom (thinking he's it)—Of whom?
Best Man—Of the minister. He told me you gave him $10.

Hadn't Tried It.
Mrs. Pinkleigh—Have you tried that new complexion cream that has just been placed on the market?
Mrs. Newrich—No; I don't think our milkman handles it.

No Mistake.
Diggs—Poor Blowitz! The fool-kicker got him at last.
Diggs—Why, I thought it was a case of suicide.
Diggs—So it was.

Asked and Answered.
Professor—If a patient had drunk sulphuric acid what would you give him?
Medical Student—I'd give him up.

The Fictitious Bootjack.
"That Thomas cat must be very old," said the first feline.
"I guess he is," replied the other. "Oh, he must be, or else he's just using his imagination. He claims to have seen a bootjack once in his young days."

Will Last Three or Four Weeks if Treated Properly.

"Cut flowers when properly treated," said a florist, "can be made to look fresh for three or four weeks. Every night take them out of the water and thoroughly rinse the stalks under a faucet, removing with the fingers any decomposed matter. Then put them to bed for the night in a basin of strong soap suds, but be careful not to allow any water to touch the blossoms. The soap suds supply a certain amount of nourishment.

"In the morning rinse the stalks under the water again and as each blossom is arranged for the day in the vase of fresh water snip off a tiny portion of the stalk with a pair of scissors. Always carefully trim away any faded part.

"Food for the day is supplied by sulphate of ammonia, a few drops of which should be added to the water put in the vase. At night put the flowers into some dark, cool place—say a pantry—as it is not good either for the flowers or for the household that they should remain all the time in the living rooms.

"To revive cut flowers put them into warm salt water to which has been added a few drops of sulphate of ammonia. Cut flowers are constantly sent by express and through the mails, but seldom in such a fashion as to preserve their bloom and freshness. To effect this pack them in a light wooden box lined with cotton or wadding, laying over this a sheet of tissue paper. Then lay the flowers not on top of each other but in rows, side by side, the blossoms of each row on the stems of their neighbors.

"Pack closely, otherwise the flowers will be displaced and injured in the journey. Before packing they should stand in water for several hours in order to absorb moisture enough to keep them from withering. It is not good to sprinkle them too heavily after they are in the box, for without air this is likely to produce mildew."—St. Louis Republic.

Capturing Wild Horses.

The work of capturing wild horses in the vicinity of Fox mountain and Madeline plains has begun and several animals have been taken.

This country is practically a wild unbroken stretch of mountains in western Nevada and eastern California that is too rough for any purpose except grazing and over which several thousand head of wild horses roam.

The captured animals are invariably small but well proportioned and prove to be hardy, serviceable and obedient after being broken.—Cedarville Correspondence Sacramento Bee.

Flesh of Bear and Camel.
In Germany bear's flesh is greatly favored, and smoked bear tongues, hams and sausages are both appetizing and expensive. Ever since Paris, in the siege of 1870-71, was driven to eating up the animals at the zoo, camel's flesh has been demanded by French gourmets. Remarkably like beef in appearance, it is as tender as real, and there are Parisians who import it regularly from Algeria.

Wood in Iceland.
Iceland has been found to be not so destitute of trees as commonly reported. Prof. Prytz of Copenhagen finds that it contains rees of considerable size. A country so cold will not stand the reckless destruction of trees which has endured in common with other once heavily wooded regions. With care it is believed that Iceland may yet be covered with forests.

Simple Remedy for Glass Wounds.
If cut by glass examine wound carefully, cleans with antiseptics, holding the wound over an empty bowl and repeatedly squeezing the antiseptic into the wound. When sure that there is no glass left in, wet a compress in the solution and bind on with a dry padage. For a simple cut wet compress in antiseptic solution and bind on firmly.

Saved with Fishing Rod.
While fishing in Lifford reservoir the caretaker of Stinchley Institute, Birmingham, England, saw a domestic servant named Annie Curtis throw herself into the water. Being unable to swim, he cast for her with the rod, and, catching the hook in the girl's clothing, he managed to bring her safely to shore.

School Children Are Wily.
Under a new rule women inspectors visit the public schools of London and inspect the pupils. Those that are not clean are sent home. But already it has been found that some of the children smear themselves with mud before entering school, in hope that an inspector will pay a visit.

Kept Out Witches.
In England, up to comparatively recent times, horsehoes were extensively used almost everywhere as anti-witch charms and the custom is not even yet an extinct one. No witch, it used to be said, could enter a building over the door of which a horse-shoe—or, better still, three horse-shoes—had been affixed, prongs downward.

Synonyms for "I."
The Japanese language contains no fewer than eighteen synonyms for the personal pronoun "I," one for each class of people; and etiquette makes it unlawful for a person belonging to one rank in society to make use of the pronoun pertaining to another.

Bar Unvaccinated Persons.
Thirteen British life insurance offices decline proposals from unvaccinated persons.

A prominent club woman, Mrs. Danforth, of St. Joseph, Mich., tells how she was cured of falling of the womb and its accompanying pains and misery by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Life looks dark indeed when a woman feels that her strength is fading away and she has no hopes of ever being restored. Such was my feeling a few months ago when I was advised that my poor health was caused by prolapsus or falling of the womb. The words sounded like a knell to me, I felt that my sun had set; but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound came to me as an elixir of life; it restored the lost forces and built me up until my good health returned to me. For four months I took the medicine daily, and each dose added health and strength. I am so thankful for the help I obtained through its use."—Mrs. FLORENCE DANFORTH, 1007 Miles Ave., St. Joseph, Mich.—$5000 Forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

"FREE MEDICAL ADVICE TO WOMEN."

GOVERNOR OF OREGON Uses Pe-ru-na In His Family
For Colds and Finds It an Excellent Remedy.

The Magnificent State Capitol Building at Salem, Oregon.

PERUNA is known from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Letters of congratulation and commendation testifying to the merits of Peruna as a catarrh remedy are pouring in from every State of the Union.

Dr. Hartman is receiving hundreds of such letters daily. All classes write these letters, from the highest to the lowest.

The outdoor laborer, the indoor artisan, the clerk, the editor, the statesman, the preacher—all agree that Peruna is the catarrh remedy of the age.

The stage and rostrum, recognizing catarrh as their greatest enemy, are especially enthusiastic in their praise and testimony.

Any man who wishes perfect health must be entirely free from catarrh. Catarrh is well-nigh universal; almost omnipresent.

Peruna is the only absolute safeguard known. A cold is the beginning of catarrh. To prevent colds, to cure colds, is to cheat catarrh of its victims.

Peruna not only cures catarrh, but prevents it. Every household should be supplied with this great remedy for coughs, colds and so forth.

The Ex-Governor of Oregon is an ardent admirer of Peruna. He keeps it continually in the house.

W. L. Douglas makes and sells more men's $3.50 shoes than any other manufacturer in the world.

The reason W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes are the greatest sellers in the world is because of their excellent style, easy fitting and superior wearing qualities. If I could show you the difference between the shoes made in my factory and those of other makes and the high-grade leathers used, you would understand why W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes cost more to make, why they hold their shape, fit better, wear longer, and are of greater intrinsic value than any other $3.50 shoes on the market today, and why the sales for the year ending July 1, 1904, were $6,267,040.00.

W. L. Douglas guarantees their value by stamping his name and price on the bottom. Look for it—take no substitute. Sold by shoe dealers everywhere.

SUPERIOR IN FIT, COMFORT AND WEAR.

"I have worn W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes for the last twelve years with absolute satisfaction. I find them superior in fit, comfort and wear to others costing from $5.00 to $10.00."—J. M. McVey, Dept. Col., U. S. Int. Revenue, Richmond, Va.

W. L. Douglas uses Corona Calfskin in his $3.50 shoes. Corona Calf is conceded to be the finest Patent Leather made. Fast Color Eyelets used exclusively.
