Consumption

There is no specific for consumption. Fresh air, exercise, nourishing food and Scott's Emulsion will come pretty near curing it, if there is anything to build on. Millions of people throughout the world are living and in good health on one lung.

From time immemorial the doctors prescribed cod liver oil for consumption. Of course the patient could not take it in its old form, hence it did very little good. They can take and tolerate it for a long time. There is no oil, not excepting butter, so easily digested and absorbed by the system as cod liver oil in the form of Scott's Emulsion, and that is the reason it is so helpful in consumption where its use must be continuous.

We will send you a sample free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

The Passing Moffat.

DENVER, Feb. 17.—The great Moffat railroad is no longer an independent proposition. The monument to his memory which David M. Moffat proposed to have in Colorado and the growing west has passed into other hands. David M. Moffat, whose fertile brain planned the enterprise and whose millions brought it into being, has sold his project to E. Harriman for his Union Pacific system, after nearly four years of constant battle with "Tom" Lawson's "system."

Moffat is back in Denver and ready to turn the property over to Harriman, although it is said no perceptible change in the conduct of affairs will be noted for some time to come. Moffat, Syl T. Smith, W. F. Jones and C. J. Hughes will continue their identity with the road until certain matters pertaining to legislation are disposed of, and one by one the present board of directors will fade away until all Harriman people are in control. Evidently Moffat will have a vote in the management of the property as a stockholder, as in payment for the road he has agreed to accept stock and bonds which Harriman is to issue.

Just what Harriman is to pay for the property is withheld from the public for the present, but it is known he "shared" the figure at which the option was secured considerably. When Harriman secured the option, which expired Jan. 31, he agreed to pay all the road has cost to date, with 6 per cent interest added. He failed to execute his option, however, when it came due, and word was sent out from New York that the deal was off. Later Harriman took up negotiations again and closed the transaction at a big saving to himself.

He had heard that Moffat needed the money and took advantage of the situation. Furthermore, it is stated that Harriman would not buy until he had consulted fully on the proposition with Gould and Rockefeller. An impression had gone abroad that Gould wanted the road and Harriman hesitated before antagonizing so powerful a rival. Some people even go so far as to declare that Gould will get a good block of Moffat road stock; that he will be represented on the directorate and in a short time will acquire control of the Denver City Tramway and the Denver Union Water company. In securing the tramway Gould will be protecting his Denver & Rio Grande by precluding any possibility of a free delivery of coal within the city limits.

When Moffat first proposed the Denver, Northwestern & Pacific wisecrackers declared that the Wall street system would never let him complete it, and such has proved to be the case. He tried to keep his line independent, as it could thus be of most benefit to Denver and to Colorado, but after more than three years of continued maneuvering he was forced to quit.

The road has an authorized bond issue of $22,500,000, and time and time again Moffat thought he had his securities floated, but in each instance just as the underwriting syndicate was about to begin work somebody stepped in and the transaction collapsed.

Had Moffat been able to float his bonds he would certainly have built the road from Denver to Salt Lake as an independent line. Now the road may never reach the Mormon metropolis. Harriman proposes to stop it at Steamboat Springs for the present, and then build north through the Hahn's peak country and reach the Union Pacific at Rawlins or Fort Steele.

"When I commenced taking your medicines, eighteen months ago, my health was completely broken down," writes Mrs. Cora L. Sunderland, of Chanteville, Calvert Co., Md. "At times I could not even walk across the room without pains in my chest. The doctor who attended me said I had lung trouble, and that I would never be well again. At last I concluded to try Dr. Pierce's medicines. I bought a bottle of Golden Medical Discovery, took it, and soon commenced to feel a little better, then you directed me to take both the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and the 'Favorite Prescription,' which I did. Altogether I have taken eighteen bottles of Golden Medical Discovery, twelve of the 'Favorite Prescription,' and five vials of 'Pellets.' I am now almost entirely well, and do all my work without any pain whatever, and can run with more ease than I could formerly walk."
