Big Bridge Is Rebuilt.

BRIDGEPORT, Neb., May 21.—[Special Telegram.]—The Burlington's Platte river bridge, just north of here, that was destroyed by fire several days ago and which seriously impeded traffic to Denver and the southwest, will be opened again tomorrow morning. The accomplishing of this result so soon is not only a great convenience to the traveling public, but a remarkable bridge building feat as well for in less than three days 640 feet of this bridge was practically rebuilt, with no material on the spot to begin with.

Reduced Rates
to Kansas City, St. Louis, Savannah, Ga., Ft. Worth, Texas, Bristol, Tenn., Milwaukee, Toronto, Indianapolis, Baltimore, Buffalo and numerous other points east, west, north and south will be on sale in the near future. Call on agent for particulars.

Bids for building sidewalks were received and opened, and the bid of the Barnett Lumber Co. being the lowest and best bid, the contract was awarded it.

Situations Wanted.
Teachers are writing inquiries in to McCook to learn if there will be opportunities again this summer to defray a part of their expenses while attending the junior normal school by doing house work. Those who have work of any kind that will fall in this class are requested to notify G. H. Thomas. Such a list will be kept on file, as well as the names and addresses of those seeking employment. The plan will be of advantage to all concerned.

$350 Takes Them All.
A Crown piano, with Angelus piano-playing attachment and about 30 tolls of music, $350 buys them. Angelus is also an organ. All in first class condition. Can be seen over Pade's furniture store.

FREAKS OF SEA QUAKES.

One That Stranded Big Vessels Half a Mile Inland.

Sea quakes are mighty disturbances of the waters of the ocean, their cause or causes being identical with the causes of earthquakes. In Major C. E. Dutton's book, "Earthquakes," the author has some interesting facts regarding the ocean variety of quake. From the entries in the logs of many ships he concludes that in rare cases the power of the sea quake shocks may be great enough to render standing on deck as difficult as it sometimes is on land. It may even be great enough to cause the fear that the vessel is being shaken to pieces. Gigantic waves in the ocean are, of course, a frequent accompaniment of the sea quake. On the west coast of South America, where these waves are frequent, they sometimes follow a quake having its center below the sea level that is also felt on land. But more often they come without warning. The most memorable sea quake of this locality occurred Aug. 3, 1868.

Major Dutton describes it as follows: "The coast of South America was shaken all the way from Guayaquil, in Ecuador, to Valdivia, in Chile, the highest intensity being manifested in the neighborhood of Arica. The force of the quake in this town was very great, throwing down most of the structures and producing land slips. A few minutes later—precisely how many minutes is not known—the sea was observed to retire slowly from the shore, so that ships anchored in seven fathoms of water were left high and dry.

"A few minutes later still it was seen returning in a great wall, or 'bore,' which caught up the ships in the roadstead and swept them inland as if they were mere chips of wood. Among them was the United States steamer Waterlee, one of the improvised war vessels of the blockading fleet in the civil war, which was carried inland nearly half a mile and left with little injury on shore by the recession of the wave."

KEEP THESE IN MIND.

The power of kindness. It wins when all coercive measures fail.

The dignity of simplicity. When the "frills" are off the man is "on."

The wisdom of economy. The man who saves makes more than he saves.

The pleasure of working. The only really unhappy, rich or poor, are the idle.

The influence of example. Practice does more than precept in showing the way.

The worth of character. In the last analysis the only real value is a clear conscience.

The success of perseverance. "Keeping everlastingly at it" brings the hoped for result.

The value of time. Lost capital may be restored by diligent use of experience. Time lost is lost forever.

The obligation of duty. Your concern should not so much be what you get as what you do for what you get.—New York Commercial.

Temperament and Food.
For bilious persons a chart of life published by Professor Boyd Laynard gives emphatic warning of dangerous rocks in the shape of sausages, pork, turtle and other commodities. Eels must not be eaten by brain workers, chilly persons should cultivate a taste for sardines, while irritable people are warned away from ginger, and the melancholy man must not touch bacon.

Whitebait, it is suggested, is inadvisable for persons who are of an amorous nature, asparagus is forbidden to those who suffer from excitement, and languid persons are told to be careful when they indulge in peas, potatoes, arrowroot and macaroni. Duck for some mysterious reason is described as unsuitable for the bashful, the irate, the pale, the drowsy and the inebriate.—St. James' Gazette.

Only One Way to Save Him.
"While the religion of some men is intellectual," said a well known New York clergyman, "the religion of many is a thing of emotions."

"Back in my boyhood days I remember a man in the country who used to go to camp meeting. After singing a few inspiring hymns he would become to outward appearances the happiest and most pious man in the camp. But his emotion would always die out and his religion wouldn't tide him over to the next meeting."

"A cynical neighbor of this man once remarked that the only way to save his soul was to get him happy and pious in one of the meetings and then kill him."—New York Press.

Too Much Name.
A Maryland congressman tells of a baptism in a village in the black belt of that state. "What is the name?" asked the minister of the child's father. "John James George Washington Fitz-Hugh Lee Blaine Harrison Smith," answered the father. The old minister jotted down the names, and then, walking to the baptismal font, a crockery wash basin, said to the janitor: "Mose, get some more water. There ain't half enough to baptize this child if we have to take in all his names."

Trying to Be Charitable.
"Mr. Bliggins means well, but he doesn't stop to think."

"Perhaps," answered Miss Cayenne, "he feels that time is too valuable to be trifled away in hopeless undertakings."—Washington Star.

The Making of It.
"If they're both deaf and dumb, I don't see how they could make love."

"No? I should say it was the best kind—all handmade, you know."—Philadelphia Ledger.
