M'COOK TRIBUNE

Only One Dollar the Year

Frank Lackey of Stratton was in town circulating among his friends and acquaintances a short time last week.

Merle Walters is now living living out on the old Broomfield farm south of town and will farm there the coming summer.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Reynolds and son-in-law and wife, started for their California home Saturday evening, amid the well wishes of a large throng of people who gathered at the depot to see them off.

The A. O. U. W. had a great time at their meeting, Saturday of last week. Fourteen new members were initiated after which refreshments were served and the company dispersed about half past twelve o'clock.

Another case. This time in elopements. Last Sunday morning Ben Jussel and Miss Bessie Vandervort, the fifteen year old daughter of widow Vandervort took a notion to wed and fearing the stern parents might say no they assumed the responsibility all on themselves and procuring a rig they drove over to Oberlin, Kas., got the necessary papers and were made one. They came home in the misty twilight, and sought forgiveness which was accorded them, and as the fairy story would say they have lived happily ever since.

A sad case in which whiskey figured and played well its part, was enacted in our town, Saturday evening, and for brutality and devilry would be hard to duplicate. The husband and father came home from his work and began to threaten and abuse the family, then drove them from their home, after which he sailed in and broke up all the furniture, smashed the windows, and then sighed because there were no things to break. After viewing the ruins he had wrought he disappeared and has not yet been found. It is fondly hoped that he may be found and put where there will be a check to his exuberance of spirit. His wife is left destitute with three little children which kind neighbors are caring for.

Home for Families of Bandits.

Not actuated by remorse, but by pure philanthropy, Jim Jenkins, hunter of outlaws, has concluded to devote all his money to the maintenance of a home for the orphans and widows of men he has run to earth, in particular, and of criminals of the great South-west in general, Jim Jenkins, now of Kansas, is now 65 years old and has spent forty years as a scout and hunter of bandits and train robbers. In this way he has made about $50,000. Among the distinguished outlaws he has chased were Jesse James and his brother, Bob Ford, Bill Dalton and Bill Cook, while he was the leader of the band that caught Cherokee Bill in 1855. In the Dalton raid in Coffeyville, Kas., Jenkins was shot eight times. He estimates his bag of hot men at about 150. The home, which is being built on a 5,000-acre farm owned by Jenkins, near Pryor Creek, I. T., is to cost $20,000.—Buffalo Express.

Mistakes Made at the Mint.

John Richard of Philadelphia has a coin dated 1891, which has a head on either side, showing that mistakes are made even at the mint. Every finished coin passes through the hands of a great many experts, and there is little chance of an imperfect piece escaping this scrutiny. There are said to be many of them in circulation, however. No particular value is attached to the coins outside of their rarity as curiosities.

Every Niece and Nephew of Uncle Sam should be deeply interested in what he has said about soda crackers, because they are the one food with which all of them are familiar.

Uncle Sam has given out figures showing that soda crackers are richer in nutriment and body-building elements, properly proportioned, than any food made from flour.

This is saying much for common soda crackers, and much more for Uneeda Biscuit, because they are soda crackers of the best quality. They are baked better—more scientifically. They are packed better—more cleanly. The damp, dust and odor proof package retains all the goodness and nutriment of the wheat, all the freshness of the best baking, all the purity of the cleanest bakeries.

Your Uncle Sam has shown what food he thinks best for his people. His people have shown that they think Uneeda Biscuit the best of that food, nearly 400,000,000 packages having already been consumed.
