RAILROAD NEWS ITEMS.

Engine 2709 is receiving a set of new flues.

The roundhouse is gradually being re-roofed.

Engine 646 is undergoing repair in the roundhouse.

Engines 1539 and 148 went into shop, this week, for an overhauling.

Sugar beet shipments are now adding much to the local outgoing tonnage.

The 1910 is about ready for her wheels and will go out of the shop, next week.

The company is storing coal in the local yard on the ground in large quantities.

The steam-fitters are finishing the piping in the roundhouse for heating purposes.

A large new bolt lathe has been delivered in the backshop and will shortly be installed.

Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Fahenstock arrived home, early in the week, from their trip east.

George Paxton, machinist, who has been east on a visit, returned to work, Thursday morning.

Engine 2997, which recently got a solar plexus in the Denver yard, is in the roundhouse for front end repairs.

One of the victims of the Schramm disaster—the big 2012—was steamed up, yesterday, and is ready to try it again.

John Young, for several years assistant general foreman of the Havelock shops, has gone to McCook, Neb., having been transferred to the position of general foreman of the McCook shops.—Havelock item in the Lincoln Star.

A recent Denver daily contains an account of the arrest and fining of a Burlington brakeman, running between McCook and Denver, who gave the Denver police the name of Baker. The fly brakie tried his smiles on the wrong woman, who reported his insulting conduct to the hotel clerk, who in turn introduced the would-be masher to a cop, and the police judge did the rest—unless headquarter magnates take a further hand in the affair.

She Had to Remind Him.
"Oh, William," she exclaimed after they had got comfortably seated in the sleeper and were waiting for the train to start, "do you remember what this is?"
"What what is?"
"What today is? Don't you know? This is the fourteenth anniversary of our wedding."
"Oh, pshaw! Why couldn't you have let me enjoy the trip?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

A New Disease.
"Ere, Joe, what's hockegenarian?"
"Wye, it must be some new disease, Bill. They're allus a-dying with it."—Tatler.

Not a Bargain.
"But surely Miss Roxley knew when she accepted the count that he was worthless."
"Yes, but he proved to be twice as worthless as she thought him."
"How was that?"
"She thought she was going to get him for a million, but he cost her two million."—Philadelphia Press.

Not the Kind He Liked.
Before little George was quite three years old another boy arrived in the family. On the following day, when George was taken to see his new brother, what was his father's surprise to hear him exclaim in a voice of strong disapproval: "Come away, papa. Don't go near it. It's a funny one."—Lippincott's Magazine.

In a Class All Alone.
He—What kind of woman is that beautiful Mrs. Swift?
She—Well, with one exception she makes every man she meets sorry that he isn't her husband.
He—And the one exception?
She—Oh, he's sorry that he is.—Pick-Me-Up.

Bracing Weather.
Myer—This is certainly bracing weather, isn't it?
Gyer—It doesn't seem to be as bracing as it was yesterday.
Myer—No?
Gyer—No; three men braced me for the loan of a dollar yesterday.—Chicago News.

A Penchant.
"Rasper says that he really loves his enemies."
"He must," commented Mis Cayenne, "judging from the industry with which he makes them."—Washington Star.

Concentrated Hopes.
"Has that young man any expectations in life?" asked the stern father.
"He has," answered the heiress.
"What are they?"
"Me."—Houston Post.

Showing Pa Up.
My name is Johnny. I'm the boy who asks all sorts of things
So pa can make those bright replies
With real sarcastic flings.

I've got to ask about divorce
So pa can start his bung;
I've got to ask of politics
So pa can loose his tongue.

They ain't the things I care about;
I've got a thankless part
To waste my time on silly stuff
So pa can pose as smart.

Now, this is what I often think
And makes me wonder so—
Why don't they print the things I ask
That pa don't even know? —Poek.

A new wage schedule, effective September 1st, has been promulgated by the company. It effects machinists, blacksmiths and boilermakers, whose pay is increased from 34 to 36 cents an hour, on the McCook division, except in Denver, where the pay is 35 cents. For overtime, Sunday and legal holidays, time and a half is paid. On the road one dollar a day is allowed for expenses.

NOTICE.
To Albert H. Hoskins, non-resident defendant. You are hereby notified that on the 4th day of October, 1906, Katie Hoskins, plaintiff, filed a petition against you in the district court of Red Willow county, Nebraska, the object and prayer of which are to obtain a divorce from you on the ground that you have willfully abandoned the plaintiff without good cause for the term of more than two years last past, and that although you are of sufficient ability to provide suitable maintenance for her, that you have grossly, wantonly and cruelly refused and neglected so to do. Plaintiff further prays that she may be awarded the care and custody of the minor child of said parties, Lisle DeVaughn Hoskins.
You are required to answer said petition on or before Monday the 12th day of November, 1906. Dated this 3rd day of October, 1906.—10-5-4t.
