Cycle Was Smashed Some.

An automobile and a motor cycle were in a head-on collision Saturday forenoon at the Citizens National Bank corner, the cycle's front wheel and other parts of the front end machinery were badly smashed, but the rider escaped injury. The auto was but slightly damaged. The cycle was being driven by the traveling representative of the Littleton Creamery Co. Mrs. J. E. Kelley was driving the car. Two ladies crossing the street at the time complicated the matter, and besides, 'tis said, the car was on the wrong side of the street, and for the cycle it was the riding into the women or striking the car.

The gentleman's name we learn since is R. K. Emily. He is the district representative of the Littleton Creamery Co., of Colorado, and makes all this southwestern part of Nebraska, adjacent Kansas and Colorado for his company. His headquarters here are at the Commercial hotel.

They have built onto the rear of the brick an addition for the machine shop and the front of the property will be used exclusively as a garage. These gentlemen are handling the Ford automobiles. This will afford them much better quarters than the old electric light plant on 1st street east.

NOTHING TOO GOOD FOR THE HOME.

A wall paper of quality should be used on anything so good as the home. Cheap paper will do where temporary adornment only is wanted but when you consider it costs as much to have cheap paper hung as it does to have a paper of quality, is it not more economical to buy the better grade paper in the latest designs and patterns? Independent patterns, exclusive designs, in one room lots only.

Arrested for Forging Checks.

A young man by the name of Will H. Peters was arrested Sunday night, and held for forging checks on McCook business men. He was taken by Night Policeman Schlagel at the depot about the time of the departure of No. 3, which train it is assumed he intended taking out of the city. Matson & McClain cashed one check for $4.40 and Perkins & Co. another for $7.50.

The name of G. W. Watkins was forged to the checks.

Peters has been working in the restaurants and hotels of the city. Monday morning Peters was taken before Squire W. B. Whittaker, who bound him over to the next term of district court, placing the bond at $1,000, failing to give which Peters was remanded to the county jail to await trial.

Peters has been about town for the past two or three years, and was employed by J. I. Lee and others.

Peters worked for Mr. Watkins for a few weeks not long since. There are two or three others who have been associated with Peters who are under police surveillance.

Come and Settle.

McCOOK DEFEATED BEAVER CITY

Besides Prof. Fogg Gave the Local Team Gratifying Praise.

The McCook high school debating team, Maurice Benjamin, Cecil McMillen and Joseph Moore, returned on Sunday from Beaver City with the skins of the Beaver City high school debating team, neatly tucked away in their inside pockets, having won the trophies at the debate in Beaver City on Saturday night last.

The subject debated was the well known navy subject: "Resolved that the policy of maintaining the navy at its present strength is preferable to substantially increasing it."

McCook had the affirmative side, and walloped the Beavers good and plenty, a victory the more appreciated because two of the three of Beaver's team were of the winners of last year.

Prof. Fogg of the state university, the sole judge, highly commended the McCook team for their clearness and for their accuracy in fact, statements, etc.

Supt Taylor accompanied the team, Carroll Eldred driving them all over in the Eldred car.

The only charitable construction that can be placed upon the report sent in from Beaver City to the effect that Beaver City won the debate is to say that possibly the correspondent at that place for the Lincoln State Journal did not know the facts or was misinformed.

Makes It Much Easier.

The law passed at the last session of the Nebraska legislature makes much easier the question of disposing of houses of ill-repute in every community. This has always been a difficult problem, and the new law is intended to reach the matter just where the enforcement of other laws was weak and difficult.

The new law reaches the owners of such houses.

The Tribune believes that an effort now will receive the active support of the present administration, and that much effective good can now be accomplished.

A move by the churches, women's clubs of the city and other kindred organizations having the moral good of the community especially at heart will bring forth fruits.

Let's try.

Mayor James McAdams is taking active steps to discourage the too promiscuous Sunday opening of McCook business houses, and in this movement will be supported by the best sentiment of many people in the city.

Money Easier Now.

Real estate and loan men report loan money or investment money as considerably easier in this city than it was a few months since.

The cash paid for chattels at last Saturday's sale is also indicative of the same fact.

The Commercial Barn.

R. M. Osborn is now in charge of the Commercial livery barn, one of the barns of the Wilson estate. Holdrege Declined.

The invitation of the McCook high school to the Holdrege high school to debate the agricultural school location proposition was declined by our Holdrege friends.

Killed by Fellow Countryman.

The nephew of C. G. Orman, who was recently buried in Colorado, was Jacob Beaver, son of a sister of Mrs. Orman. The young man formerly lived here with the family, who now reside at Sedgewick, Colorado. It appears that the young man was stabbed to death by a fellow countryman. It is stated that beer was flowing pretty freely, and that while Beaver was not the one who was enraged and intoxicated Russian was after, failing to find his man, he wantonly stabbed young Beaver, who died in a few minutes.

Another Fine Rain.

Tuesday's and Tuesday night's rain netted this vicinity a little over a half inch of rain, or to be exact as per the gauge at Barnett's lumber yard, .53 of an inch. These rains are not heavy, but coming slowly are giving this section the full benefit of the entire rainfall, at least, and are very helpful.

The preliminary work has been completed and the surveyors called in.
