"Leatherwear" Taffeta Silk.

Get the points. Yard wide. 96 threads to the inch both ways of pure silk without "loading." (If a silk is low count they "fill" it so it won't look as gauzy as it really is.) "Loaded" silks are stiff. "Leatherwear" is perfectly soft as it is just pure silk filament. "Leatherwear" has splendid weight—its 96 threads per inch give it substantial weight. Its lustre is the true silk lustre—soft and rich. It doesn't shine like a new japanned fire shovel like some silks that you have seen—but differently. Lastly it is perfect in weave being made on new looms in a modern factory. All for 89c per yd. The Thompson D. G. Co. Utmost value.

Local Garage Registerings.

Since the opening of the Omaha - Denver Trans - Continental route, touring cars and parties are gradually increasing. Among those registering at the local garages are the following named: Dr. J. W. Harris, Denver; Arthur Newton, Wilcox, Neb.; Fern Woods, Kanona, Kansas; A. N. King Anderson, Ind.; R. H. McAllister, Grand Island; R. C. Me-sond, Nehawka, Neb.; Ray Whiteley, Corydon, Iowa; Ed. White, Philadelphia, Pa.

Dresses for School.

None too soon to get them planned and started. See us for the desirable materials: — for plaids, for tricots, for vicuñas, for gingham and chambrays, also for ready-made washable dresses for girls. We have the right things. The Thompson D. G. Co. Utmost values.

Organizing a Band.

The Woodmen are organizing a band and hope in time to make their presence known and heard in our city.

The Apiary show at the state fair September 4 to 8 promises to be another improvement over that of the last. From the interest taken in "bee" legislation during the past winter, there are numbers of people who are firm believers in the efficacy of bees on the farm as an assistant in properly polenizing growing crops. Frank Odell, the "Bee Wizard," will again be secured to do his "stunts" such as entering a cage filled with live bees, taking them in his hat, hair and whiskers, putting them into his pockets, or the inside of his shirt, and all the time giving good practical horse sense lecture on the value of bees to the farmer. Do not fail to hear him.

Just remember, The Tribune will appreciate any news you may send it or phone it. Sign your name—but it will not be published unless you request. We are always more than grateful for such courtesies and consideration from our friends in country or city.

SUPT. J. W. CRABTREE MAY RESIGN OFFICE

Head of Nebraska Schools Has Been Offered the Presidency of Wisconsin Normal School.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 1.—(Special Telegram.)—That State Superintendent J. W. Crabtree may resign from the official position he now holds to accept the presidency of the leading normal school in Wisconsin is the belief of several of his friends, who are aware of a strong offer which reached him early this week. The salary offer attached to the new position is nearly twice the amount he now receives, or $4,000.

While Superintendent Crabtree does not deny or affirm the rumor, he states that the status of the offer received by him is such at the present time that he cannot give publicity to it. In the event of his resignation, the vacancy would be filled by appointment by Governor Aldrich. Several names have already been mentioned for the place by the friends of different leading educators of the state.—Omaha Bee.

Does the Heat Make Your Head Ache?

It's caused by poor digestion and improper elimination of waste materials. Keep your bowels regular with Rexall Orderlies and you will stand the hot weather well. Price 10c and 25c.

A. McMILLEN, Druggist.

Are Being Built.

The Great Western Sugar Co. people are at work on their sugar beet dumps. The one at Red Willow is now well under way.

Fruit of the Loom, 10c.

None to excel this old standard brand of bleached muslin. Only 10c yd. at The Thompson D. G. Co. Utmost value.

No Joke.

The White Line Transfer barn is being painted red some more.

The continuous "Best Agricultural Exhibit shown at any fair in the United States" bids fair to again enjoy that distinction at Lincoln September 4th to 8th. Over $4,000 was paid out on agricultural exhibits at the 1910 fair and a greater premium list is offered this year. The feature of this department is the County collective exhibits—each of the Eastern, Central and Western portions of the state competing against that particular section, so that no unjust competition on account of climatic conditions or altitude has to be met. Mr. William James of Dorchester, who has made such a success of this department in the past, is again the superintendent for the year 1911. Make your County Collective entry direct to him.

DELUGED

The Red Cloud-Alma Country Received An Unprecedented Rainfall Last Night.

TRAFFIC ON RAILROAD IS GREATLY DELAYED

Trains on Burlington and Neighboring Lines Being Detoured Around By Hastings Until Repairs Can Be Made.

The Red Cloud country was deluged with water, last night. Reports are that eight inches of rain fell in that section and that a heavy rain prevailed on east along the southern part of the state.

No. 15 was marooned at Red Cloud, not being able to proceed or return.

Trains 13 and 16 are also delayed.

The Republican valley for many miles in that portion of the state was covered from bluff to bluff.

Details are lacking, but reports that reach here are to the conclusion that the rain was one of the heaviest ever recorded in that portion of the state.

A Rock Island special went over the Burlington, this afternoon about 1:30 for Denver. Reason—high water. There will be another tonight from the west.

No. 13 was about three hours late, this morning, coming by way of Crete.

No. 1 was on time this afternoon—as usual.

Two work trains are down at the washout and flood country with ties, stringers and other necessary materials to repair damages.

Wires went down, last night, between Orleans and Alma.

Several feet of water reported last night, in the depot at Alma.

The Man Who Fails

Is the man who spends all he is able to earn from day to day. He knows he should save money, or when he is too old to work, he will have to rely on the charity of his neighbors and relatives, but he doesn't make a start. The older one gets, the harder it is to acquire the saving habit. Don't delay longer, but start a bank account with
