United Doctors, Specialists Will Be At The

NATIONAL HOTEL

Saturday, April 27th, and Will Remain

ONE DAY ONLY

Remarkable Success of These Talented
Physicians in the Treatment of Chronic Diseases.

Offer Their Services
Free of Charge.

The United Doctors, licensed by the state of Nebraska, for the treatment of deformities and all nervous and chronic diseases of men, women and children, offer to all who call on this trip, consultation, examination, advice free, making no charge whatever, except the actual cost of medicine. All that is asked in return for these valuable services is that every person treated will state the result obtained to their friends and thus prove to the sick and afflicted in every city and locality, that at last treatments have been discovered that are reasonably sure and certain in their effect.

These doctors are considered by many former patients among America's leading stomach and nerve specialists and are experts in the treatment of chronic diseases and so great and wonderful have been their results that in many cases it is hard indeed to find the dividing line between skill and miracle.

Diseases of the stomach, indigestion, liver, blood, skin, nerves, heart, spleen, kidneys, or bladder, rheumatism, sciatica, diabetes, bed-wetting, leg ulcers, weak lungs and those afflicted with long-standing, deep-seated chronic diseases, that have baffled the skill of the family physician, should not fail to call.

According to their system no more operations for appendicitis, gall stones, tumors, goiter or certain forms of cancer. They were among the first in America to earn the name of the "Bloodless Surgeons," by doing away with knife, with blood and with all pain in the successful treatment of these dangerous diseases.

If you have kidney or bladder troubles bring a two-ounce bottle of your urine for chemical analysis and microscopic examination. Deafness often has been cured in sixty days.

No matter what your ailment may be, no matter what others may have told you, no matter what experience you may have had with other physicians, it will be to your advantage to see them at once. Have it forever settled in your mind. If your case is incurable they will give you such advice as may relieve and stay the disease. Do not put off this duty you owe yourself or friends or relatives who are suffering because of your sickness, as a visit this time may help you.

Remember, this free offer is for one day only.

Married ladies must come with their husbands and minors with their parents.

Office at National Hotel. Hours from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m.

IRRIGATION FARMER HIT BY A DECISION.

Washington, April 1.—In a case of vital interest to irrigation farmers of the west the supreme court today held that land owners along a river had no right to object to change in the river current by riparian owners below them.

The court held that the Henry Schodde estate in Idaho was not entitled to damages because the current of water used for irrigation from the Snake river has been changed by a dam built by a power company below.

WATER COMPANY MUST PAY FOR CONNECTIONS.

Washington, April 1.—Water companies must bear the expense of tapping their pipes to furnish connection with all city residences, if they are to serve the public impartially, according to a decision today by supreme court of the United States.

GREAT EMPEROR'S PET NAME

In Home Circle German War Lord Permits Himself to Be Known as "Willy."

In the Woman's Home Companion there is an intimate personal story of Emperor William's only daughter, Victoria Luise, in which many new facts are brought out about the emperor and empress of Germany. Following is a brief extract:

"The emperor, in absence of his consort, speaks of her as 'my wife'; the empress in the home circle addresses him as 'Willy.' The former alludes to his family, from the crown prince to the princess, as 'my young ones'; the latter speaks of them not by title, but as 'my children,' both expressions so clearly conveying the close existing attachment.

"Very often the emperor gives evidence at unexpected moments of the ever-present thought with him of his family. At times, when they were small children, and he was being entertained at state banquets as the guest of princes or cities, he would slip bonbons into his pocket, quietly saying, 'These are for the young ones; something brought home always tastes better; I know that from experience.'

"It is told of the emperor that in Rome, when he was selecting a gown to take home as a present to the empress, a relative advised as choice an elaborate creation, mainly of lace. 'Impossible!' he answered. 'With the children constantly clambering over her, it would soon be in ribbons.'

DEEPEST DEPTHS OF POVERTY

Section in Italian Capital That Might Challenge Comparison With Any World City.

The problem of life among the poor of Rome, Italy, has been illustrated by Prof. Domenico Orano, who recently wrote a book dealing with the miserable condition of the inhabitants of the Testaccio quarter, the most densely populated district of Rome.

Out of the 10,000 inhabitants of this quarter, scattered in 82 tenement houses, there are 723 families who cannot afford to rent apartments but are forced to sublet enough space in rooms where they can sleep. There are 513 single-room apartments in the quarter and 109 rooms are occupied by five persons each, 76 by 6, 25 by 8, while the rest afford shelter to from 10 to 15 people. The rent for sleeping space in each room varies from $1 to $5 a month.

The hygienic conditions of the tenement houses in Testaccio are very bad. As a rule the poor people of Rome live on vegetable soup with paste and bread, as they cannot afford to eat either meat or fish, but to make up for their scanty diet they drink wine freely. There are 38 wine shops in the quarter against only three shops where milk is sold, and the average daily consumption of wine is over 3,170 gallons for 10,000 people, including women and children.

Society's Latest Fad.

If the reports current in Paris salons are to be credited leaders of fashion will shortly stardie their humbler sisters by appearing with feet and ankles bare. The ladies declare that in the name of hygiene and beauty all their followers should discard shoes and stockings as all seekers of good health forbid the corset. It is said delicate white satin anklers will be allowed and the toes of the fair wearers will nestle under borders of bright hued woolen flowers. The same flowers will climb like creepers around the bare ankles.

This new fashion craze will also lead, it is anticipated, to devoted swains imprinting a chaste salute on the ladies' feet instead of on their hands, and in view of such a proceeding taking place already some noted beauties are practicing exercises to render their knees supple.—Exchange.

Curran and the Irish Chief Justice.

Lord Norbury held his post as Irish chief justice, in defiance of hints that he should resign, until he was 87. When he was 86 it was suggested to him very strongly by the Lord Lieutenant that he ought to go, but the negotiations were broken off by Norbury challenging the envoy to fight. His rambling and irrelevant comments often annoyed counsel. Once when he was maundering on he was interrupted by a sound which he only partially heard but which was really the braying of a donkey. "What noise was that?" he asked. "Merely an echo of the court, m'lad," replied Curran gravely.

Another judge called Fletcher, a very surly person, said to counsel, "Sir, I'm not sit here to be batted like a bear tied to the stake." "No, not tied, m'lad," was the suave interruption.—Westminster Gazette.

Talk the Fountain of Life.

A well-known doctor has recently propounded rather a curious theory. He says: "Actresses and actors and all public speakers, lecturers, statesmen, politicians, professors—all live to a great age as a rule because they use their lungs. The average person doesn't breathe properly and does not make sufficient use of his lungs. Breathe as much as you can and talk as much as you can. That is the recipe for reaching an old age and remaining young."

Some one whispered: "Now I see why women generally live longer than men. They talk more."

Going Some.

Indianola, Neb., April 1.—April fool day started in with a rush here this morning. Puckett's delivery horse ran away throwing F. N. Bently to the ground cutting a gash that had to be sewed up under his eye and wrecking the wagon. Almost at the same time a team belonging to a farmer came tearing up the street with a buggy, ran around five or six blocks turned back to a hitching rack at the opera house, stopped and broke nothing but a brake. A livery team taking Senator Cordeau to Stockville got beyond control and the buggy had to be brought back to town on a skid for a new wheel. No one was hurt. — Lincoln special.

The Popular Tunic-Effect Dress.

If there were a wise little bird that had fled away south for the winter with a vague ambition hid den in his fluffy-feathered breast to be one of the first to return in the spring, he need not wait until news came of the reappearance, just ahead, of tiny insects. He could as safely follow the advent in town and city streets of these smart little tunic effect dresses that first ventured outdoors away in the southland, and are only awaiting earliest real springtime warmth at every point thence toward the north, as a signal for their coming forth into the avenues and boulevards.

Similar dresses are seen before-hand at the little after noon affairs to which women go attired in soft satin, taffeta, or fine silk and wool fabrics, enriched with lace and embroidery. An uncommonly attractive model selected from among the many pretty styles is shown here in chameleon taffeta and Venice lace. It has an original little blouse in long-sleeved style, with the new cuff sleeves, while the skirt is a three-piece model in tunic effect, with inverted box-pleat at each side of the back gore—a device that makes the skirt practical for walking, without marring its slender outline.
